Arrival of the Cambria.

One week later from Europe-Further advance

The Cunard steamer Cambria, with dates from Liverpool to the 27th ultimo, arrived at Boston at an early hour yester. day morning. She reached Halifax on Thursday, but the telegraph wires between that city and Boston being down, the news could not be sent on. The lines between Boston and New York are also out of order. The following despatch is made up from the Liverpool papers which have reached this city by the mail from Boston. The Cambria's mails will reach Baltimore on Monday morning.

The Cambria brings Liverpool dates to the 27th October.

There is nothing of interest from Ireland. The country remains in the same disracted state. Murders and assassinations continue of almost daily occurrence.

ROME.

Letters from Rome of the 14th says that much excitement prevails in the city .--Several young men have been arrested for singing the Marseilles Hymn in the streets. Instead of singing the people indulge in prose recitations. Placards, with says the President, "who can comprehend the enormous letters, calling on the People for the death of the Red Triumvirate and death to the Priests, cover the walls of the Eternal City. Several attempts on the lives of the French officers have been made.

Letters from Vienna of the 7th says that Venice will not become a free port again. The capital of the kingdom is to be removed to Verona.

In Sardinia the Ministerial crisis conlinues.

At Naples and Sicily the violence against the government has been on the increase. It is reported that a regicide association has been discovered, in which 20,000 persons are implicated.

A copy of Lord Palmerston's dispatch on the Sicilian question has been sent to the Emperor of Russia, who despatched a courier to Naples recommending the King not to give way, assuring him that Rusisa and Austria would support him under any circumstances. The government papers were filled with abuse of England and against Lord Palmerston. Two American frigates, the Independence, Capt. Blake, and the Cumberland, are in port. In Hampden, Frank, lin, and Berkshire counties there is no choice. The vacancies will of course be filled with Whigs.

New York .- From this State we have no further news. It is yet doubtful which party will have the majority in the State House of Representatives, and it is gen. erally conceded that each has elected a portion of its candidates for State officers.

Louisiana .- The Telegraph reports that there is no doubt of the election of Joseph Walker (Dem.) as Governor of this State, We have yet heard of no election of but two Congressmen-one Whig and one Democrat.
