Mr. BADGER addressed the Senate, on Monday and Tuesday. 18th and 19th inst., on he great question of the day. We have not refreceived a full report of his remarks, and in the absence of any thing more full, we annex be following brief notice of his speech, from Baltimore American.

Mr. Bidger addressed the Senate on Mr. Cay's resolutions, taking ground that the union dould be the first and highest consideration ph patriots. He denied the possibility of receil dissolution; defended certain attacked decisions in North Carolina, and urged the passage of the fugitive slave bill. He dene passed the doctrines of Mr. Seward's speech, in declared the proffered amendment to the bis theory of a law being above the consti-

He examined the provisions of Mr. Seward's mendment and explained the bill, which was proceed from the Committee on the Judiciary. He promounced Mr. Seward's amendment misdievous and absurd.

Haws now, and always had been in favor of he Missouri Compromise line, but he would got consider that an alternative. He would all any thing that was honorable. If that were adopted now, he believed no more He was of the opinion that Congress had the poset to pass the Wilmot Proviso, but he beand the exercise of that power would be ming, and most insulting to the South. He enounced all violence on this question. But Congress should not pass a proper bill for the movery of fugitive slaves, and should pass the Wimbt proviso, the meeting of the Nashville Convention under these circumstances, would in his opinion, be the beginning of the sif-or in other words, would be the commeactment of a series of actions, which would peritably result in disunion.

I he asked was that the fugitive slave bill hould be passed; that the Wilmot Proviso be beerer put down; and then he would consent whe admission of California and the abolition the slave trade in this District. He had wes that a happy result would be attained .le had confidence in many great men who had sken on the subject, and he thought, despite se gloomy signs of the times, that Webster's notto, "Union and Liberty, now and forever. ms and inseparable," would become the motto if the nation.

MINIFESTO OF THE CALIFORNIA REPRESENTATIVES.

The U. S. Senators and Representatives ect from California, have addressed a long docment to Congress, communicating copies of be State Constitution, their credentials, and a temal request for their admission into the Unin. An tuse business must be done on that when completed, which it will be in pring of next year. - Newark Daily HON. J. C. FREMONT.

The history of this young man is highly ineresting. A few years ago he was a Lieutenant in the army, and an attache to the corps of Topographical Engineers. His business called him much to Washington, where he became acquainted with the daughter of Hon. Thomas H. Beuton. Young, vivacious, and ambitious, this stripling in epauletts had the temerity to ask the young lady's hand in marriage-notwithstanding he knew those much higher in authority had solicited the same in vain. Miss Benton most readily consented so far as she was concerned, but intimated that she had a Father who had manifested some degree of interest in her welfare, and might want to be consulted in the matter. She laid the "proposal" before the old gentleman. He objected to the proposition in toto. " His daugh. ter, educated for a Prince, was not going to marry a Corporal." Fremont was forbidden to enter his domicil, and Miss Benton was put under guard. "Old Tom" had overacted the matter. He did not then know the young Lieu. tenant. His daughter, too, took that occasion to show her Benton, and as "Old Tom" had stuck to the "Expunging Resolution," she was bound to stick to her young lover against all the world. The next thing the anxious father knew of his once devoted daughter, she had escaped her keepers, and in a private parlor at Gadsby's Hotel was interchanging vows before a magistrate with the banished Lieuten.

At first the old man raged, but soon was made acquainted with the metal of his new son-in-law, a reconciliation took place, and in friend, but an admirer ever since.

His travels, researches, scientific explorations and feats of valor and suffering in the Far West, are events known to the world, and we may say without a parallel.

His collision with Kearney in California brought him before the country in a new light. He was accused of disobeying the command of his superior and technically was so convicted on trial by a Court Martial demanded by him. self. But the country acquitted him, and although reprimanded by the President, he was applauded by the people. We were present at his trial in Washington, and saw him confront the witnesses for the Government in the most frank and gallant style. "Old Tom" sat by him as counsel, and "solitary and alone" he encountered the craft of Kearney and the con- son of health made life joyous and the world bright, her tumely of a Naval. and Military Court, preju. attractive accomplishments, with sweetness of disposidiced against the aspiring young Lieutenant, then luxuriating with the rank of Colonel. He raised a company of ease, cast their glorious fragrance and heavenly brightmen and started for California by a new rout with "Kit Carson," his famous old guide at their head. Ten of his men he lost in the mountains by being imbedded in snow and literally starving and freezing to death. With the remnant he reached San Francisco, and has been spending the summer in the mines. In the mean time a Commission reached him superceding Col. Weller as Boundary Commissioner under the late treaty with Mexico. This he declines, and the next we hear of him, he is elected a United States Senator from the new un Union as a State. > Passing Away.—From a late speech of M. Montalembert in the French Assembly, we translate the following remarkable passage:

"Gentlemen, it is impossible to overlook the fact we are moving towards anarchy. As under the Government of July we were marching towards revolution without being aware of it, so under the republic we are marching towards Staple & Fancy Dry Goods, anarchy, without all of us being aware of it, or wishing to be aware of it. In this place, on Monday morning, the 18th Instant ELIZABETH RUTH CALDWELL, wife of Chas. F. Fisher, in the 26th year of her life.

When Death comes, and the men of the Earth depart the unknown land, the hurrying-to-and-fro of restless life pauses a moment, to hear the record, and award the last praise for what they have done under the incitement of events, where the reward is ever meted to the effort :- when the pure woman passes away to her true home-she, whose influence is strong in gentleness to work good out of evil, and whose ministrations of watchful love alone can bring peace to the weary, and the shadow of happiness over the blasted earth-the only remembrance of her self-sacrificing devotion and faithful worth remain in the hearts of the few who have known her. This is surely the most beautiful, if not the most enduring monument, that time can offer to departed virtue, but it is only just that the due tribute Old Tom, Colonel Fremont has not only had a should as well be paid to her memory. The expressions of eulogy can never remind those who knew such, of their character as it was daily illustrated in the hard trials of life, and beautified with the virtues not seen by the world. Their's is the lot to bear suffering in secret-to soothe sorrow-to nurse sickness-to comfort the world-worn-to lighten with gentle affection the cares of weary life .- Are their grateful offices of unwearying devotion well cared for and rewarded

> To say that this true christian woman was a most faithful and devoted wife and mother-a most affectionate daughter and sister-lovely in all the relations of life, would be simple truth, but could only with coldness describe many fair traits, not to be written-yet, how mournfully well-remembered by the bereaved living, with the sad-" soft memory of buried love."

She possessed a rare assemblage of qualities which imparted to her character an ineffable charm and loveliness :-her's was the purity of heart that seemed to know no evil-the active charity falling on all about her like the gentle dew from Heaven. When the seathen was life !- but, when the dark hour approached ness about the bed of patient long-suffering-and at the last, the calm soul with confident faith departed, peacefully from the "body of this humiliation," to the heritage of rest-from the warfare of the Church militant, to the glory of the Church Triumphant.

It hath pleased the great Disposer of Events, in hi wise Providence, thus to take away in the very Morning of Life and in the midst of Happiness, the lovely and beloved.-What then can the desolate household do, but fall down in the dust under the grievous chastisement, and humbly say—" The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord." COMMUNICATED.
