Gibbino's Escare to Onio.-The Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier furnishes the following incident of Congressional life:

Some weeks ago, Mr. Giddings, in a speech against the Texas bill, alleged that Mr. Ketchum, of N. York, was a holder of Texas bonds to a large amount, and had come to this city and bribed members of Congress to vote for the ten millions to pay these bonds. Mr. Ketchum took immediate steps to show Mr. Giddings that the facts were not so, in regard to any particular, and he requested that Mr. G. would retract it. But Mr. Giddings, so far from retracting it, deliberately re-asserted the charge in the revised pumphlet edition of his speech .- Tickets, can draw four of the most splendid prizes in a Mr. Ketchum brought the subject to the notice of the scheme. In order to secure a fortune, and the cash im-Attorney with a view to bring it before the Grand Jury; but as they were not to meet until October, he came down the other day and got out a warrant against Mr. Giddings; but Giddings got wind of it, drew his pay till the end of the session, and put out."

The perpetrator of the following pun, says the Boston Post, has not been arrested, but the police are making close search after him :

" A stranger who came into a hotel the other day, apparently fatigued with walking and oppressed with heat, ant down to his dinner. On being asked by a lady whether he would have some egg sauce, he answered, 'no don't you see I am already egg sauce-ted?' The fainting of the lady aided the escape of the rascal, who has not been heard of since."

The N. York Sunday Times, too-a paper celebrated for its unflitching advocacy of the rights of the Southspeaks of the rejoicings in the North at the passage of the compromise measure, as follows:

"The rejoicings which we hear in every direction are ot occasioned by the passage of the bills so long under discussion, for no one doubted that California would come into the Union as a State, and that the territories would finally be provided for; but the great joy is manifested because Abolitionism has been overthrown and Free-soil prostrated forever, and both together have fallen, like Lucifer, never to rise again."

PLANK ROADS .- A meeting was held on the 16th ult. at Villa Riea, in Georgia, to take into consideration the subject of building a Plank Road west from Atlanta to Villa Rica. The meeting not only determined to build the Road to that point, but to extend it west to the Alabamu-line, on a route to connect with Jacksonville and stock at a very small advance on first cost. Talladega, in this State. Stock to the amount of $11, 500 was subscribed on the spot, and committees were appointed to solicit subscriptions on the entire line. The road-will be built, and will thus become an important this point and Wetumpka to the Tennessee river. Montgomery (Ala.) Journal.

GREAT DISCOVERY .- The cave recently discovered ear Madison, Wisconsin, is supposed to extend under the greater part of Dove and Iowa counties. An exploring party lately passed five days in examining it.

They passed over and among large masses, which proved to be lead one of fine quality, spreading over an extent of three miles. They found also copper ore, and eleven pounds of native silver. Chrystals, stalactites, incrustations, &c., were abundant, and waterfalls and a lake which was explored in a canoc, and found to be 37

THE WISDOM OF ATHENS.

The Southern 'barbarians' who are perpetually reminded how far they are behind New England in intelligence, fefinement and good manners, are informed that the following exquisitely disgusting tom-foolery occurred in Boston, alias, the American Athens. The Boston Transcript thus records this exhibition of 'the wisdom of the wise' of this continent: " A few minutes before 8 o'clock, a commotion among the ushers in the aisle near us, indicated that something extraordinary was about to happen. We heard one of them whisper something to another, who replied, aloud, eertainly!' and then exclaimed, in a still louder tone of voice, 'this way, Mr. Dodge!" Will gentlemen please to make passage for Mr. Dodge?" At once a very decided sousation was created in our neighborhood, and spread immediately throughout the entire audience. Ladies. rose on all sides and lifted their opera glasses. A buzz of suriosity, followed by applause from the gentlemen, succeeded. In the midst of it all a modest looking gentleman, with quite an intellectual cast of features, made his way politely to his sent where he stood a moment bowing to the audience, and then took his seat amid reiterated applause. This was Mr. Dodge, the comic vocaust, who bought the $625 ticket, and as he placed his hand on his heart, his smile seemed to say : " Ladies and gentlemen, this is the proudest moment of my life!"

Solemn Warning .- We are informed that Mr. Hiram Peterson, of Yancy Co., had his house and all its contents burned on the 27th ult., from the effects of a barrel of whiskey taking fire from a candle in his hand; and what is still more painful and distressing, his little daughter, who was on the floor asleep, fell a victim to the flames. Thus, having this deadly monster about the house has a family been nearly ruined, and an innocent being sent to sternity .- Asheville Messenger,
