LATE AND INTERESTING FROM SANTA FE.

By very late intellgence, of date July 1st, from the capital of New Mexico, we learn that a body of three hundred Camanche warriors presented themselves, on the 27th and 28th of June, at the villages of Anton Chico and La Cuesta, situated in the southern part of the county of San Miguel. They professed purposes entirely peaceful towards the inhabitants of New Mexico, and especially admirations on honor of his arrival. THE VIRGINIA CONVENTION. This body, which people began to fear had resolved itself into a "perpetual session," has at last adjourned. Our memory does not serve us as to the time when it first met, but it is probably about eight or ten months The Richmond Times gives the following as some of the most important features of the new Constitution, which was finally adopted by a vote of 75 to 33:

" Nearly all State and County officers are to be elected by the people, including the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the Judges of the Supreme, District and Circuit Courts, and the Justices of the Peace, Commonwealth's Attorney's, Clerks and Sheriffs. The Leon the Suffrage basis with a Western majority of fourteen, and the Senate with an Eastern majority of ten, which arrangement is to continue until 1865, when the Legislature may agree upon a new apportionment, or ed our State funds for practical pur- to be ad valorem, except that slaves under twelve years bought on better terms than at any other establishment of age are exempted, white males 21 years old are to pay a capitation tax on $400 worth of land, slaves over twelve years of age are not to pay more than the tax | before buying elsewhere. on $300 worth of land, and licenses, incomes and salaries may be taxed at the discretion of the Legislature; seven per cent of the existing debt of the State, and of every future debt, is to be set apart annually for the payment of the interest and principal. The new Constitution is to be submitted to the voters qualified under it, on the fourth Thursday in October, the returns made to the Governor, and if he proclaim it ratified, the Legislature then elected is to be superseded by the new egislature, which will be elected on the second Monday in December and will meet on the second Monday in January, and the sessions will be biennial.

From this summary recapitulation it will be perceived, that the prominent modifications of the present Constitution consist in the adoption of the system of popular elections in all departments of the government, in the abandonment of the principle of the representation of property, and requiring the Legislature to provide for the payment of the present and every future

"Stand from Under."-It is wonderful to think the Bunker Hill Monument is bending like a bow, backward and forward, every day by the influence of the sun! As the sun durring midday shines on the south side of it, that side expands, becomes louger than the north side, and the consequence is that it bends over towards the north. The same must be true of all other tall monuments, and also of tall chimneys-for some of the latter are five hundred feet high. This movement is not simply from the south towards the north as at mid-day; but in the morning it must be westerly, at noon northerly, and in the evening easterly. These results have been unexpectedly ascertained by Professor Horsford and his pendulum experiments at Bunker Hill, in reference to the rotation of the earth. And thus it has ever been in scientific pursuits; while searching carefully after one object, another is unexpectedly
