For the Watchman.

Mr. Editor :- I was, recently, highly pleased to hear of a most excellent resolution formed by the Rail Road Contractors, which was that they would employ none other than temperate men on their various contracts ; but alas ! alas ! they have broken their resolution on the contract running through this place, or they are grossly deceived. I have been a resident of this place five years, and in the whole five years I have never seen the Sabbaih so profanely broken as I have seen it for the last month .--It has been a common sight to see the Rail Road hands staggering to and from the grog shop the whole day, and some of them lying flat of their backs in the street, so much intox icated as to be unable to walk, while others of their comrades were round them almost as helpless as themselves, cursing and swearing at them to get up and come along; but there they lie cursing and kicking, unable to obey their commands. Indeed. I have witnessed some of the most disgusting scenes in the street on the two preceding Sabbaths that I ever witnessed in my life. Factually did not know that there were such outrages committed in the world, and would have been glad to have remained in happy ignorance ; but I am so unhappily situated as to have a grocery for my next door neighbor, and unless I close my eyes and stop up my ears, am obliged to see at least a part of the capers cut up in the street, and I see no possible way of getting rid of this nuis ance, unless the Contractors take it in hand. I the many, by no means united to North Carolina, think they surely must be in entire ignorance of the way their hands spend the Sabhath, and
