TERMS OF THE CAROLINA WATCHMAN. sheriptho, per year, Two Dollars—payable in But if not paid in advance, Two Dollars My ceals was reled at $1 for the first, and 25 cts. propulate for each subsequent insertion. Courtorders propulate for each subsequent insertion. Courtorders propulate for each subsequent insertion. A libas to the Editor must be post paid.

A GENEROUS ACT.

We are Whigs but not ultra ones : at any as we do not suffer the poison of party to ad our eyes to the benevolent and meritoriadeeds of a political opponent. We have ally, for the first time, heard of an act of nerosity on the part of Franklin Pierce, the emeralic candidate for the Presidency, that abt not to go unblazoned; for in these iron art of selfishness and greed, it comes over weary spirit wike the sweet South that ales upon a bank of violets, stealing and end odor. It was, a short time since, relabe Governor Steele, the personal and polidiend of General Pierce, at a Democratic avention, in the Capitol of New Hampshire : to detract nothing from it, we give it in the Gererdor's words :

Sir" said Governor Steele, " I have known whole career of General Pierce from the is he first look his seat in this hall. I have Light his expluits in Congress and in Mex-But I have an incident in my mind which. relate, which in my humble judgment. the the character of the man in a more metrious light than all his efforts in the forum was something more than twenty years General Pierce was then somewhat younhas he is now) he was travelling through weathe western towns of this State, and as he wed the principal village, he beheld three on esting candy. At a brief distance he bed another boy sitting alone, and that boy ni not eating candy, but he was crying. Gen. fice leeling interested in so strange a cirmustance, inquired into the case, and ascermind that he was crying because he had no nor to buy candy. No sooner he had learwith facts in the case, than, with that noble entrosity which has ever distinguished Pierce noish his whole life, he put his hand in his et drew forth a cent, bought a stick of dy, and gave it to the boy, although the boy na total stranger to Gen. Pierce."

Here was an act worthy of the candidate of great party, for the highest office in the gift the American people : and in no country mose citizens are not brought up under the meralizing influences of free and republican indutions are charilies ever administered upon scale so grand and magnificent. But to commehend this act of the noble Pierce through out its whole extend, the entire scene must be aken up by the eye of the admiring reader. General Pierce was then somewhat younger he he is now," and probably not so rich, wigh descended from a noble House. He was are ling through the western part of N. Hampsie a cold and rigorous clime, and was and way from home, whence the fame of his durity was not likely to reach his immediate signorhood. He entered the principal village, wary and travel stained; and, no doubt, both langry and thirsty. His restless eye was raning round for a house of call, to which he night repair, to order his noon day grub, and plesh his inder man, peradventure, with a parkling cocktail or a foaming glass of tom-unierry. His stiention was arrested by a metacle that deeply affected his generous feelhgs. Three boys were eating candy; and a and was sitting at a brief distance, solitary udalone: and that boy was not eating; but tim he sat, Niche like, all grief, with the tears mining down his youthful cheeks. The meeller stopped and kindly asked him why he offowed and the reply was that he had no mey to buy candy. That boy was unknown the stranger; nor did he enquire as to his arentage. He asked not whether he was erry or a Monmouth; but "no sooner had he and the facts in the case, than with that which has ever distinguished through his whole life, he put his hand the pocket, drew forth a cent, bought a stick candy, and gave it to the boy?" When Mile Sun, with his red eye, ever look down 1966 a more sublime spectacle than this! Let story and Song embalm the deed! Let the sush and Chisel pepetuate the moral grandeur the scene - When a thousand generahas shall have passed away, the yet unborn fatilles of the new world will cause the manform of the noble and the generous Pierce eap from the living marble, and stand forth, the presence of that stranger boy of the wes and rillage with a cent's worth of candy between fore finger and thumb of the right hand!

Wadesborough Argus.

Nota True Bill .- A correspondent of her Reid had given John Kerr a frightmauling in Fayettville; and some othperson, we suppose, gave to the North Carolinian pretty much the same account In Lumberton. We were at neither the places on the occasions referred to, and therefore cannot precisely say how matter did stand at those points : but adging by the passes we witnessed been the parties up here, we think we warranted in endorsing upon each of back, Poreman," If Governor Reid was hard for Mr. Kerr in the land of the press and the Whortleberry, his right and had certainly forgotten its cunning lore he reached the region of the great bee. Here we think he made more apital by the unmerciful thumpings hich he stood up and endured for the of Democracy, than by the adroitof his arguments or the force of his oquence. Pity is a porwerful engine the moving of popular opinion; and thought is played in behalf of his telleney all the while that he was re-

We do not mean to charge that his Licellency is by any means a contemptible adversary; but when his friends claim or him a superiority so decided over the while candidate, they make so large a daw on public credulity that they ought Wadesborough Argus.

CAROLINA WAJCHMAN.

J. J. BRUNER. Editor & Proprietor.

"KEEP A CHECK UPON ALL YOUR RULERS.

DO THIS, AND LIBERTY IS SAFE." Gen'l Harrison.

NEW SERIES. VOLUME IX-NUMBER 10.

SALISBURY, N. C., THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1852.

ECONOMY.

In the course of a lifetime we meet with scores of young men and by'r lady young gentlemen too, who it seems have not the most remote idea what money was made for. At least we are forced to judge in this wise when the lavish expenditures which they indulge in are considered. 'Ah!' pants the dandy our quill is punching at, - Ah! me Pa is a bankaw-lots of stuff-an' gives his Charly pockets full of change, and a waitaw to indulge me in a bit of a spree at pleasaw!' What if your Papa is worth thousand in stocks, Charley, and ing and laborious care ? Fie! Fie! on you Charley; you are a naughty child. If you are 100 proud to work, do pray learn the lessons of economy; for its a deep well that has no bottom,' and you may one day find the bottom of your coffers and there and then sad catas trophe-'the dreadful end.' Charley; for you will have to soil your pretty little hands with work! Oh! humiliating indeed! It is the duty of every one to practice economy; for the opulent of to day may be the begger of to morrow. It is the duty of all to guard against scattering the fruits of labor heedlessly to the winds. We would inculcate lessons of frugality at the same time guard our readers against falling into overdone economy-penuriousness; it too de jure out of the awkward fix he is in. is an evil we would deprecate. Young man, we would beg you to closely study the lesson of frugality; your father may have thousands at the day when you can inherit it all, even sigh. ing for the sables you are not yet permitted to wear, but, mark, it may shake hands with you in a short, time, and leave you penniless and a beggar. It is for you to decide the questionwill you be honorable and independent or drivelling, sponging outcast upon society .-Chose ye between the two.

IS "PROTESTANTISM INCOMPATIBLE WITH LIBERTY."

This evening, at the Tabernacle, Dr. Brown son, of Boston, is to maintain the affirmative of this question in a lecture given before the Cath olic Institute of New York. We know the Doctor has a rather curious mode of reasoning; but we are very anxious to know what kind of arguments he can produce for such a novel proposition as that. In the first announcement in the Freeman's Journal, the subject of the lecture was stated to be " Protestautism Incompatible with Republicanism." It has been since corrected. It is a distinction without a difference, for the highest form of liberty as yet known to the human race is republican, in as it exists in the United States, and Protestantism is the very essence of this liberty and republicanism. In fact, Protestantism has been always charged by Catholic controversialists as being the excess of liberty, and as giving more freedom to man than is good for him. The ve ry origin of Protestantism was the breaking of the shackles of spiritual despotism, and its ten dency every where is towards civil liberty. whereas absolute monarchies and despotic gov ernments furnish the congenial soil in which Catholicism flourishes and thrives. In this country it is a sickly exotic. We shall, there. fore, be curious to know what the learned ed itor of the Catholic Review has to say in support of his view of the subject .- N. Y. Herald.

The Wilmington Journal insists upon it that il has analyzed the vote on the Homestead bill and finds that only 18 or 19 Whigs voted against it. 18 or 197 Why not one or the other positively, if the Editor has analyzed the

But we too analyzed it, and found 21 Whigs voted against it. We can well understand why the Journal would have us overlook "party considerations" in reference to this iniquitous Homestead bill. The Locofoco party is responsible for it, both for having originated it, and for furnishing the large mass of its supporters. It is not popular in North Carolina, and therefore the Journal would gladly keep its origin out of view. But even Gov. Reid has come out in favor of it .-Fauetteville Observer.

WHAT IS HE RESERVED FOR.

There is a lad only twelve years of age, W. H. Waddell, living at Pocahontas Standard wrote that paper that Gov. Arkansas, who in the spring of 1850 was stabbed, the wound thought to be mortal; the same lad was knocked senselessly cold by lightning, in the fall of 1851; was run over by four mules and a wagon; last winter, fell from the third story window, lighting 'coslam' upon a pile of stones ; and about six weeks since was shot, three balls entering his body. The hero of all these ugly accidents is still alive and heal thy, being reserved, doubtless, for some other kind of 'shuffling off this mortal coil.

> A boy from the country was recently taken into a gentleman's family. One evening, after having been called up to the drawing room, he came down in the kitchen, laughing immoder-

> What's the matter ?" cried the cook. "Why, dang it!" said he, " there are twelve on 'em up there, who couldn't snuff the candle, and they had to ring for me to do it !"

A WAGER OFFERED.

A gentleman in this town offers to bet all he is worth, that he will receive more votes in the ensuing election for Governor bis opponent. The while that he was rehis opponent. Of North Carolina, tuan and has ever received in the State before, and that he will equal both the present can-

Accident to Bishop Whitehouse .- ALBANY, June 23 .- The Chicago Tribune says that by to grumble if their draft is, dishonor- places by the upsetting of the stage between Taylor, by resigning, to take effect in March.

Reltimore Sun.

Porter. D. Ritchie, Capt. Naylor, and others. Bishop Whitehouse had his arm broken in two that event, will follow the example of General Aurora and Ottawa, on Saturday.

HE DIDN'T COME.

"Old Roan" failed to meet his appointment to address the people of Beaufort "on politics." He wasn't here yesterday, as the big hand bills sticking up all round about announced that he would be. Neither was he at Greenville on Saturday as he had appointed to be. Various surmises and conjectures and speculations are affoat in regard to this backing out of Old Rean from his appointments. Some think he was told that Stanly, or Miller, as much more in funds? Is it your allotted part or both of them, would be in Washington in life to spend foolishly all that you possibly yesterday, and that it would be unwise in can? How was it gathered? Was it a wind- him to speak here when that brace of fall? Was is not rather the fruit of toil, watch. Whigs were on hand. Others suppose that Old Roan was written to by some one of the wire-pullers here who knows that his presence would not be very acceptible to the "unterrified." not to endanger his health by venturing down this way, as the water continues to be very bad in these diggings. Others again are of the opinion that the Raleigh Clique, finding out that John Kerr is playing the deuce with "Dainty Davy," getting the decided advantage of him in the discussions, as an Edgecombe Democrat says he did at Weldon, have sent Old Roan on a chase out West, to try to help his Excellency

Will that amiable, high minded, honest, patriolic and hansome young man, the Editor of the Standard and Governor de his command; you may be looking forward to facto, be so obliging as to enlighten the good people this way as to the whar about of the late Minister to "poor, unhappy

Spain ?? Whar is Old Roan? Standard to say to Genl. Saunders that the people of Newbern will be right glad to see him at his earliest convenience, and hear from him something in regard to the Rail Road he was going to get for them, when he got that $40,000 out of their pockets; also in regard to his mission to Virginia to get the Raleigh & Gaston Road rebuilt, in order to prevent the people of North Carolina from building up a market within their own State.-N. S. Whig.

In the course of the debate at Raleigh Gov. Reid said that "He would invoke the clemency of Gen. Saunders for Mr. Kerr-he would strive to do so, because he wished to reserve him for his own use. He would also induce his friends to use their influence with the General to the same purpose for Mr. Kerr will find, when he gets hold of him, that whatever Gen. Jackson may be, he (the Saunders aforesaid.) is no dead

topising to the Governor's speech, Frr said that

"If thanked his competitor for his kindness, in seeking for him the mercy of Gen. Saunders, but emphatically declined availing himself of it. But whenever he gave a vote, which shall be seized upon by the Abolitionists of the North as a triumph of their principles, or which shall compromise the honor of the South, he will being no dead lion, he was perfectly aware of it. He had tried him, and found him to be a living animal, but of an entirely dif-

ANOTHER NATIONAL CONVEN-TION CALLED.

A circular dated at Washington, and signed by Samuel Lewis, chairman, has been issued, calling "a National Convention of delegates of the free democracy, at the city of Pittsburg, on Wednesday, the eleventh day of August next, at noon, for the purpose of selecting candidates for the offices of President and Vice President of the United States." Friends of the principles declared at Buffalo, at the memorable Convention of August, 1848, are requested to send delegates. In connection with this call, it is stated that the Hon. Mr. Durkee, representative from Wisconsin, is determined to oppose the election of Pierce and King. Other democratic members of Congress, it is said, will do the same, and amongst these is Dr. Townsend, of Ohio, and the Hon. S. P. Chase, Senator from Ohio.

SIGNS, &c.

We never did see people hate any thing so bad as the Democrats do the nomination of Gen. Scott. We knew some of our Whig friends, who had contracted a great admiration for Mr. Fillmore, would be mortified at the result. But the Democrats, Gemini! We hope they won't hurt themselves .- Rich. Whig.

vised his friends to go for Mr. Webster and save the Whig party, is not correct. We distrusted it when we first heard it. It did not sound like Mr. Fillmore. Rich. Whig.

Will Remain in Office .- Mr. Webster, at the solicitation of his friends, it is said, has consented to remain in office until the expiration of President Fillmore's term. He, however, will shortly leave for Marsfield, to spend His name is Kerr Reid .- N. C. Whig. the summer months, as has been usual with him for many years. Mr. Graham will also continue in office. Gen. Scott it is also stated, will not resign unless elected President, and in

NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

WASHINGTON, June 24 .- The National Agricultural Convention assembled at the Smithsonian Institute to-day, at 10 A. M. and temporarily organized by the appointment of Judge Waits, of Pennsyvania, as Chairman, and Richard S. Lee, Maryland, and Dr. Lee, of Georgia, Secretaries. A committee was then appointed to select permanent officers, who reported for President, Marshall Wilder, of Mas. sachusetts; Vice Presidents, Henry Wager, New York; Frederick Watts, Pennsylvania; George B. Calvert, Maryland ; Hunter, Ohio ; Nesmith, New Hampshire; Throckmorton, Virginia; Burgwn, North Carolina; Rusk, Texas; and Doty, of Wisconsin. Secretaries, Messrs. King, Rhode Island; Johnson, New York; Marder, Ohio, and De Bow, Louisiana. A resolution was offered and adopted to form a National Agricultural Society. A committee of one from each State was then appointed to draft a constitution and report business for the Numerous propositions relating to agriculture were submitted and referred to the com-

Daniel Webster was presented as a member by the Massachusetts delegation, as also were the officers of the Smithsonian Institute, Prof. Ewbank, C. L. Fleischman and others, by different delegations.

After a recess, Mr. Elwyn, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, reported a constitution, which was amended, discussed and finaly adopted, as follows: The first section provides that the society shall be called the United States Agricultural Society. The second section fixes the annual subscriptions at $2, and a ticket for life membership. The third section provides for the appointment of the offi cers and defines their duties. The fourth sec-We are requested to ask the tion provides that the society shall hold annual meetings in Washinton on the first Monday of February, but the executive committee, by approval of the society, may hold occasional meetings elsewhere.

> The convention then adjourned till 8 o'clock, o enable the committee to report on other bu-

> Twenty three States are represented by 15

SECOND DISPATCH.

Evening .- The Convention re-assembled at o'clock. Mr. Holcomb, from the majority of the committee on organization, reported in favor of the establishment by Government of an Agricultural Bureau.

Judge Douglas gave notice of a minority re. port, recommending the establishment of a Department of Agriculture in the Smithsonian

The committee on organization were then instructed to name officers for the Society, and the members signed the constitution, paying over their fee of $2 each.

We learn that on Tuesday last the bal ance of the capital stock of the bank of Wadsboro' was taken, after which several shares were disposed of at a premium of from 15 to 18 per cent. Wades. Argus.

CLAP TRAP.

A citizen of Cincinnati has informed the editor of the Enquirer of that city, that he lived some five years with Gen. Pierce's implore his mercy. As to Gen. Saunders father, and has often worked side by side with Frank in the harvest field, even alter he had been admitted to the bar.

> Death by Chloroform .- Mrs. Weed, wife of Nathaniel Weed, Esq., of New York, having had chloroform administered to her at Stam. ford Connecticut, on Friday last, to lessen the pain of the extraction of a tooth, almost immediately after inhaling the fumes sank upon the Laying a Corner Stone. - NEW YORK, June 24.—The corner stone of the Bible House, on Pourth avenue, was laid this evening by the Hon. Theodore Frelinghuysen, President of the American Bible Society. A large concourse of people were present. The new building will cost $80,000.

Political Movement in Maine.

A call has been published for a mass con vention at Portland, Me., to be held on the 29th June, to nominate a candidate for Governor, in opposition to the re-election of Gov. Hub. bard, the democratic candidate. The call is signed by 2,000 of his former friends, who oppose him because he signed the liquor law.

Great Whig Ratification Meeting.

New York, June 24 .- An immense assemblage of Whige is gathered in front of the Broadway House to night to ratify the nomination of Scott and Graham. Robert Jones was chosen President, with 100 Vice Presidents. Resolutions were adopted cordially endorsing the nominees.

The meeting was addressed by Col. Hoff man, Mr. Tomlinson, from California, and Jas. Richardson, of Owego county, and the Fillmore We hear, and gladly hear, that the tele- delegate from the 22d district, who contested graphic report that Mr. Fillmore had ad. H. J. Raymond's seat. The proceedings are marked by unbounded enthusiasm. The names of Scott and Graham, Fillmore, Webster and Clay, were greeted with deafening cheers.

The crowd outside was addressed by numerous speakers, and the proceeding will continue till a very late hour.

Ratification Meeting at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, June 23.-The nomination of Gen. Scott has given the greatest satisfaction to the Whige of our city. The most intense enthusiasm prevailed, and last night the city was in a fever of excitement-fireworks, music and hurras. A salute of fifty guns was fired about sundown, and at night an immense ratification meeting assmbled. Addresses were Baltimore Sun. Porter, D. Ritchie, Capt. Naylor, and others.

Whig Ratification Meeting.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 23rd .-- An immense gathering took place this evening on the occasion of ratifying the Whig nominations for President and Vice President. Speeches were delivered by the Hon. John M. Clayton and Hon. J. W. Houston, and resolutions endorsing the nominations and platform were adopted.

Rhode Island Whig State Convention. NEWPORT, R. I., June 24 .- The Whig State Convention last night nominated Elisha Harris, Isaac P. Hazark, Amos D. Smith, and Charles Allen as Presidential electors for this

From the Raleigh Times.

NATIONAL NOMINATIONS.

We place at the head of our columns to day, for the Presidency and Vice Presidency, the honored names of

MAJOR GEN. WINFIELD SCOTT.

WILLIAM A. GRAHAM.

No man in the country will ever propound the inquiry "Who are they?" They are well known and highly exalted before the public gaze ;-so known, so loved, so honored, that it becomes the delight and pride of every true friend of his country to reflect that he has it in his power, by his vote, to testify his admiration, and record his name as the friend and advoate of such noble Americans.

It has suited the Democratic party to friendly relations will be cultivated. place in nomination for our highest offices, men comparatively unknown and undistinguished—men with whose characters the people are not acquainted - whose deeds have not rendered them remarkable-whose talents never fitted them to acquire either fame or popularity-upon whom the records of the country have not stamped enduring honor or immortal fame. If they ever attain to any, therefore, it must be manufactured for them by the partisan presses—the enlisted Swiss of their political fortunes.

But upon every page of our country's history, "blazoned all over in characters of living light," will be found the peerless and glorious name of WINFIELD SCOTT -the first and bravest in war-the most distinguished and patriotic in peace. His record is the hearts of his countrymen, mingled with all the illustrious recollection of the past, and now blended with the best and brighest hopes for the future.

It is not necessary to eulogise WIL. LIAM A. GRAHAM in North Carolina. There he is-behold him and judge for yourselves. He has always been invincible—a tower of strength for the State which he has honored, and which has honored him: and North Carolina now presents him before the country, with great pride, as her brightest jewel.

The positions in which these great men have been placed before the country by night. the National Whig Convention, though richly deserved on their part, and very acceptable to large masses of the people, yet have now been rendered highly popular at the South by the sound and conservative PLATFORM on which they will stand, and which was laid down as indispensable by the Southern Delegates, conditional to their support of any candidates -and upon which, also, THE RALLIGH Times has always avowed that its support of the Whig Nominees depended.

WHIG CONVENTION-THE NOMINA. TIONS.

Although our intelligence from the Whig National Convention at Baltimore is incomplete and unsatisfactory as to the closing proceedings, yet we are enabled to announce that

GEN. WINFIELD SCOTT received the nomination for President, on the 53d or 54th balloting. And that received the nomination for Vice President, over after several ballotings.

WILLIAM A. GRAHAM, OF N. C.,

We refer the reader to the regular report of proceedings, so far as we have them, for particulars in regard to the nomination for President. We cannot say that we are disappointed in the result, kowever much we may have desired it otherwise. With our fellow Whigs of the State, we cherished the warmest regard for Mr. Fillmore, and a willingness to do political battle under his leadership, no matter what fate awaited. But we are likewise ready to acquiesce in the judgment of the Convention. which has regarded successs more sure under another leader. We know not what developments of Gen. Scott's opinions followed the close of the Convention; but we have no dread of hearing from him; we have steadily ex. pressed full confidence in the soundness of his views on the momentous questions which have agitated the public mind and disturbed the equilibrium of the Union. Something must occur to shake that confidence before we can be brought into an attitude of opposition or indifference to the gallant old veteran who has grown gray in his country's service, -espe. cially, when his opponent in the race for the greatest office in the Republic is a new man, without the claims of extraordinary services. talents, or experience to recommend him over the distinguished citizen who lays undisputed claim to all these qualifications.

The nomination of Mr. Graham, the favorite son of the good old North State, will give satistaction in itself, and go far to strengthen the ticket in North Carolina, in the South and the whole nation. While Mr. Graham is truly North Carolinian in all his domestic feelings, said; he has a heart and a head for his whole try, from Niagara to the Gulf, from the Al to the Pacific. For his wisdom, his talent, his urbanity, and his purity of character, he is just such a man as an intelligent and virtuous people delight to honor.

The Platform, or expose of principles and opinions touching the administration of public affairs, as it was adopted by the Convention, is a noble paper. Cheerfully and proudly can the Whige—yea, the whole American people—stand with Gen. Scott upon that platform. So truly National, and yet so thoroughly regardful of the rights of the States, and of the interests of every section,-an instrument of the kind could not have been more wisely framed for the guidance of the patriotic citizen in his public duty .- Greensboro' Patriot.

From the Wilmington Commercial. RECEPTION IN WASHINGTON CITY.

The nominations of the late Whig Convention were cordially received in Washington, by a large portion of our citizens, as we are informed by the presses of the city. The following account is from the Telegraph:

At about nine o'clock the spontaneously assembled thousands of our citizens, with the Light Infantry band of music, marched in procession along Pennsylvania avenue to the residence of Gen. Scorr, where the band played " Hail to the Chief," and loud and prolonged cheers were given. Gen. Scorr appeared at the balcony, and addressed the assemblage as follows: Gentlemen: This is the first political greeting I have ever received. This manfestation of your kindness touches my heart deeply, coming as it does from m near neighbors and friends. My residence in the city of Washington has been very a greeable to myself. This city was out under the eye and direction of the mortal Washington, and I trust the p perity of the city will continue to advance with the growth of the Union and of him whose name it bears.

I trust, gentlemen, that so long as shall continue amongst you the ther I continue to occupy the position a soldier or shall be elevated to that

Chief Magistrate. Gentlemen, the high honor which Baltimore Convention has conferred me over my illustrious and friendly -the Chief Magistrate of the countr the Secretary of State, already know fame-was wholly unmerited, and be a cause for my making still great forts to merit the approbabtion o country and of that Convention. I know that much anxiety and trials are to be passed through before ratification of the people shall be Whether it shall confirm the action of Convention or not, I shall be satisf I know that it will be conferred man deserving your confidence and port. In whatever position I ma placed, it shall continue to be the aim of my life to discharge my d my country. If I should be elevated to that guished position for which I have named, I shall seek so to conduct n as to merit the confidence which you so kindly bestowed upon me in ad Gentlemen, you find me greatly fa and exhausted, and for the present only thank you for this kind congra tion—the first of the kind which ever received-and bid you all a

The procession then proceeded to residence of the Hon. WM. A. GRAHA and, after beautiful and appropriate m by the band, Mr. Graham appeared, spoke nearly as follows:

Fellow-Citizens: I appear before to tender to you my thanks for the pliment of this visit, and my co tions of the country upon the resul liberations of the Convention of the of the United States assembled at . more. [Cheers.]

As to my humble self, I had no for, as I had no reason, no right to es this honor at the hands of the Conver but as the distinguished statesman soldier enthusiastic cheering whom Convention has selected as cand President of the United States, the try, or a large portion of the country reason to expect that the nomination v fall upon him. [Cheering.] His co titors in that Convention were tri triots; had the nomination fallen either of them, the Whigs of the would have been equally well s Great cheering.

For my own party, with all re that large portion of our fellow constituting the Democratic hopes for the prosperity of this the stability of its institutions, ar prosperity of the Union, depend ascendency of Whig measures. [P. ed cheering.]

A Voice. Three cheers for North State! And in response three ty and enthusiastic cheers were

Mr. GRAHAM. Thank you, g for that, I look upon this nomination compliment to that steadfast, that old Whig State, of which I am p be a citizen, rather than to mysel Fellow-citizens, I did not exp visit. It is but a few moment heard of this nomination, and I detain vou. [Go on, go on.] express to you my thanks for this ment, and congratulate you upon monious result of the deliberation Convention at Baltimore.

Mr. G. then withdrew amidst de cheers. The procession next visited the House; and, in response to el and protracted cheering, Presi MORE appeared at one of the wind