ENGLISH LADIES AND AGRICULTURE.

We are indebted to Hon. C. P. Holcomb, of Delaware, for a copy of his address, delivered, before the Maryland State Agricultural Society, at its last annual exhibition at Baltimore. It reviews the progress made in agriculture, and contains excellent suggestions for future improvement. Touching the part which ladies should take in rural pursuits, he relates an anecdote which, as it offers a striking contrast to the knowledge possessed by many American ladies, is worth repeating.—Country Gentleman.

"As showing the interest English Ladies take in Agriculture, I cannot but relate a casual interview I chanced to have with an English lady, in going up in the express train from London to York. Her husband had bought a book at the stand as we were about starting, and remarked to her that it was one of her favorite American authors—Hawthorne.'—I casually observed, 'I was pleased to see young American authors found admirers with English ladies;' when the conversation turned on books and authors. But I said to myself pretty soon, 'this is a literary lady—probably her husband is an Editor or Reviewer, and she uses the scissors for him; at all events, I must retreat from the discussion about authors, modern poets, and poetry. What should a farmer know critically of such things? If I was only in those fields—if the conversation could be made to turn upon crops, or cattle, then I should feel quite at home. I finally ventured on a field of wheat, and remarked it was very fine.—The lady carefully observing it, said: 'Sir, I think it is too thin—a common fault this season, as the seeding was late; those drills,' she added, turning to her husband for his confirmation, 'cannot be more than ten inches apart, and you see, sir, the ground is not completely covered—twelve, and even fifteen inches is now preferred for the width of drills, and two bushels of seed to the acre will then entirely cover the ground, on good land, so you can hardly distinguish the drills.'

"At the luncheon Ceres had appeared with her sheaf, or her coming was I could not have been taken more by surprise.—A lady describing on the width of wheat drills, and the quantity of seed!

"I will try her again, 'this may be a chance shot,' and I remarked in reference to a field of plowed ground we were passing, that it broke up in great lumps and could hardly be put in good tilth.—'We have much clay land like this,' she replied, 'and formerly it was difficult to cultivate it in a tillage crop, but, since the introduction of Crosskill's Patent Clod Crusher they will make the most beautiful tilth on these lands, and which are now regarded as among our best wheat lands.'

"Conversation turned on cattle; she spoke of the best breeds of cows for the pail, the Ayr-shires and the Devons—told me where the best cheese was made—Cheshire—the best butter—Ireland—where the milk maids were to be found—Wales—'Oh!' said I, 'I was mistaken, this charming, intelligent woman, acting so natural and unaffected; dressed so neat and so very plain, must be a farmer's wife, or would it be unfair to ask her in fact? She is not an old one, and not either, but an unusual fine looker—yes, a single bracelet clasps a fair rounded arm—that's all.' The train stopped at York—some had my traveling companion upon the platform than I noticed a carriage entered by half a dozen servants and maids—the town in Lancashire. It turned out to be Sir Edmund Lacy H. The gentleman I became acquainted with as the largest landed proprietor and Baronet in the county—the daughter of a Nobleman—Perpetuator of her own name—a fine woman without a husband, and her father, she was a widow without.

IMPORTANT EXPERIMENT WITH GUANO.

A few days since, in the Intelligencer Herald, which we noticed in terms much too complimentary for the occasion, we found a communication from a gentleman who has permitted his name to be used as a candidate for the Legislature, in which he gives the result of an experiment with Guano, which, if correct, is of the highest importance to the whole planting community, and holding to the Divine doctrine, that no man has a right to "hide his light under a bushel," has concluded to lay it before our readers, as important information from one who all know can be relied on.—Our excuse for giving the author's name is, that we believe the information would lose one-half its importance without it:

IRWIN PLACE,
Cass Co. Ga., Dec. 14, 1853.

Dear Sir.—I have delayed acknowledging the receipt of the August number of the Southern Agriculturist that you sent me, to enable me to give you the result of an experiment made on a very small scale, for I had my fears that it might contain some stray grains of California wheat or Florida coffee; but the result has proved entirely satisfactory, and next season I intend to experiment with a few tons if I can procure it at present quotations, although I think the present price too high.

I will now proceed to give you my experience with the article, and I do it presuming that you also have been dabbling with it, and I wish to compare notes. The land on which I used the guano, is what in this section of country, we call hickory, orchard land, the principal growth being thick bark hickory, with some post oak and pine; the color of the soil, darkened, with very little sand; the quantity used was rather less than a sack, which was finely pulverized before using. About three weeks before planting, I had the land listed three feet distance with a large shovel plow and as deep as a good mule could pull it; the guano was applied immediately, in the ratio of about 250 lbs. per acre, and a high ridge thrown on it with turning plows. It was planted on the 18th of April, as was also the balance of the patch, (8 acres,) and cultivated in the same manner as the rest of the crop—and now for the result.

As soon as my crop generally began to show blooms, I counted on the first row, where I had used guano, 40 blooms, on the adjoining row, where no manure had been used, and found but 3—and now for the seed cotton.

	1st picking.	2d.	3d.	4th.	Total.
Guano row,	12 lbs.	27,	20,	17,	76
Com'n row,	3 "	12,	8½,	12½,	36

Difference in favor of Guano 40

I attended to the picking and weighing myself, and am sure that the above is correct.

The rows are 173 yards long, and you will see by the calculation that 28 will make an acre, and 76 multiplied by 28 make,	2128 lbs.

" 36 " "	1008 "
Difference per acre,	1,120 lbs.

WILLIS BESHAM.

How to use Guano!—Add from six to ten parts of good, dry muck, mould, or loam to one part of finely pulverized guano—mix the heap thoroughly, spread it on a level surface (under cover) three or four inches thick, and sprinkle it well with a strong solution of salt and water, to preserve the ammonia—stirring and turning it as you sprinkle, in order to moisten the mass throughout—but be careful not to get it too wet. When you have prepared it in this way, add a little Plaster of Paris and ashes, if you choose; heap the mass up conically—cover it with a layer of mould 3 or 4 inches thick, let it stand 24 hours, and then drop one good handful in the bottom of your hill, or scatter it along the drill, throw a little earth over it, and plant your Corn or other seed upon it. When the Corn is well up, a handful of ashes may be applied to each hill, close around the plants, or along the drill, and a thorough plowing and hoeing afterwards will insure you a fair crop, "seasons" or no "seasons" provided, always, that you have plowed deep and prepared the land well at the outset.

A word on your late article on preparing for Cotton planting. Your advice is correct. If Europe is embroiled in a general war, as is not unlikely, bread and meat will go up and Cotton will go down, for a short time, at least; and those of our readers who watch the course of the times should shape their courses accordingly to provide for independence. War or no War, a provident supply of good substantial food for man and beast should be produced on every plantation, at all times. It is really disgraceful that planters who own hundreds or thousands of acres of land, and hands to work them, should be compelled to purchase the North and West for provisions, when they can be produced at home. We pray you, gentlemen, attend to this matter, and begin a reformation at once.

From the Spirit of the Age.

A BLOODY CHAPTER.

The following horrible Murders, Casualities, &c., caused by drunkeness have occurred in North Carolina within the last three weeks:

On the night of the 11th instant, at Chapel Hill, a drunken loafer by the name of Jo. Brockwell, obtruded himself upon the family of Mr. James Davis, a highly respectable citizen. His language being offensive, he was ordered to leave the house but refused, and on being told he must leave, he drew his knife and cut Mr. Davis' throat, causing his death almost immediately. Mr. D. was a worthy member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and leaves a wife and child to mourn over the loss of their protector and friend, sacrificed to the Moloch of Intemperance. Think of this melancholy case, ye who say, "Intoxicating drinks will never injure me, for I have nothing to do with them." Neither did the unfortunate victim in this case; he was a sober, christian man, yet the invader entered the sanctuary of his own quiet home and spilled his heart's blood upon his hearthstone, in the presence of his wife and child. Horrible!

A gentleman writes us from Morganton, that a few nights previous to the 9th instant, a negro man belonging to Wm. Murphy, Esq., of McDowell county, stole his Master's horse, a very fine animal, and crossed the Catawba river while in a very high in condition, soaks to visit a grog-shop on the other side; here he became intoxicated and then attempted to recross the river on his return home, but the rider and horse were both drowned! Mr. Murphy, it may be, may not indulge in the intoxicating draught, but whether he does or not, he has been called upon to pay some fifteen hundred or two thousand dollars for the tolerance of the liquor traffic in the State.

The same writer also informs us, that some three weeks since a young man by the name of Kiah Smith was thrown from his horse and killed a few miles south of Morganton. A hard shell Baptist had been treating a wedding company with bald face; a number of whom became boisterously merry; on starting for home Smith's horse became cautious and threw him across a log from which he died in a few hours.

Died, in Dallas, Gaston county, on Saturday evening, the 4th instant, Martin Phifer, Sr., aged about seventy years. Mr. Phifer came to his death by intemperance; he had for many years been a very intemperate man; and his death was caused by the excessive use of the Missouri stuff. He died at the door of the doggery, with a bottle of spirits in his pocket.

The Asheville Spectator says—A few days since a man by the name of Moses Freeman was killed by his wife. She stabbed him with a knife causing his death almost instantly. Freeman lived in Henderson County. Our informant carried the painful news to the Mother of the deceased; and the reply of the poor old woman was, "that she expected nothing better, for they were both always drunk."

A young man by the name of Whitaker was committed to jail in this place last week upon suspicion of having shot Evans Suttles of Henderson County. It was thought at first that Suttles would not live, but he has recovered so far, we understand, as to be able to walk without any more assistance. Whitaker is still in jail.

In all the above cases, (says the Spectator) as well as that of Gentry mentioned a short time ago, the cause is found to consist in the diabolical influences of intoxicating drink.

We have been told two suicides have been committed recently while the unfortunate individuals were laboring under delirium tremens, or the effects of long protracted intoxication.—One occurred in Franklin, and the other in Granville county—both the men had occupied respectable, influential positions in society; but the monster rum misanthrope got the mastery over them, and hurried them, with their own blood upon their hands, into an awful eternity. Wonders from mediating the haunts of the suicides, as we are not in possession of the circumstances attending the examination of the several deaths.

Model Speech.—We commend the following speech to the careful study of all candidates before the people. It was delivered in Illinois by a candidate for the Legislature, is brief and pithy, and the man who made it was elected, as he ought to be:

"FELLOW-CITIZENS: I am no speech-maker—but what I say, I'll do. I've lived among you for twenty years, if I've shown my-self a clever fellow, you know that too, and wont forget it with a speech. I'm a candidate for the Legislature—if you think I'm the clear grit, vote for me; if you think Major R——— of a better stripe than I am, vote for him. The fact of the business is, either of us will make a good representative."

WHAT is DIRT?—Old Dr. Cooper, of South Carolina, used to say to his students:

Don't be afraid of a little dirt, gentlemen.—What is dirt?—Why nothing at all offensive, when chemically viewed. Rub a little alkali upon that "dirty grease spot" upon your coat, and it undergoes a chemical change and becomes soap. Now rub it with a little water and it disappears; it is neither grease, soap, water nor dirt. That is not a very odious pill you are about to swallow, gentlemen, it is only sugar, not abusive there. Well, scatter a little epsom over it, and it is no longer dirty. Every thing you call dirt is worth your notice as a matter of chemistry. Analyze! It will separate into very plain elements.

Dust makes corn, corn makes bread and meat, and meat makes me to say to a young lady that I am afraid you were kissing last night. So after all, dirt is a very important thing. Therefore, gentlemen, when you see me examining the particles of the clothes her skin with chalk or Fuller's earth on the bottom of my boots, you know, what is the matter. I must not cultivate such stuff upon the skin of a young lady as a dirt, practice, Pearl, powder, I mean, is made of lucrative—nothing but dirt."

DUELING.—A man named Patrick Baldwin was killed at the River wharf on Monday last, by sailing from the steamer Geo. Graham. The affair was unwarranted, and an effort to reconcilium proved unavailing.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday night, George M. Rose, a respectable colored man, about 23 years old, while going to Mr. Shaw's store in Town, was precipitated a distance of 30 feet, by falling into the Hatchway, and received a fracture of the base of the skull, of which he died. Fayetteville Carolinian.

Ho for South Troy and Eagle Mills.

A MINE OF WEALTH—

A little more help and its riches shall be developed to the astonishment of the world and to the enrichment of the South.

THE proprietors of Eagle Mills and South Troy, (the most important real estate in the South, and comprising water powers of incalculable value,) nothing daunted by a degree of public neglect, are pushing forward. Their motto is, "ONWARD! ONWARD!"—and so far, their labors have been handsomely rewarded. $4,000, clean cash, in eleven months, is not to be sneezed at. And if this sum can be realized by a limited investment of capital, what could not be done by a liberal and full handed company? And will not money? men give their attention to the locality and its great inducements for the investment of capital? Its intrinsic and prospective value has been estimated at $2,760,000!!! Very comfortable sum, that; and ought me, the subscriber thinks, to be deemed unworthy attention of millionaires. At one time it was within the reach of men of small means—those who boast of their 20, 30, and 50 thousand dollars. They must be sanctified, now, with sunspill seeing the hand of promise. They are invited to apply, seeing the land of promise. They are invited to come and take a look; and perhaps they may be greatly moved with a brief talk about trading for interests. But liberal men, with hands on the means, are those who will receive greatest attention. Come forward, gentlemen, here is the place for your money, and the place that will repay you double for every dollar expended.—$4,000 a year for 25 years, are $100,000—clear—over and above expenses. Money will make money. It strangely multiplies itself, and that very, rapidly, when properly used. Will you come? Come if you will. If not, why, we'll go on as we have done: We'll do the best we can. We'll continue to improve this valuable property, slowly and surely. We'll introduce one thing after another until the ground is occupied. We will not only live by it, but make money. Poor men who want work shall find here constant employment and good wages. No difficulty about it. Eagle Mills and South Troy are bound to go ahead, just as sure as the sun shines and that the rain falls to water the earth. The Southern country shall feel its benign influence, and rejoice in its prosperity, and when we have done with it, all men shall call us blessed.

ANDREW BAGGARLY.

P. S. The location and other advantages of South Troy and Eagle Mills, properly understood and appreciated, would hardly fail of attracting the serious attention of the friends of the Western Rail Road—to which I would call their attention. In order to collect information on this subject, with a view of urging upon the public and the Legislature, the claims of this section; and have but little doubt that if facts of sufficient importance shall be submitted, South Troy and Eagle Mills, will be specially connected with Salisbury by rail road as it ought to be; and the time with the markets of the world. To this end, a survey of the route between the two places shall be made to-day (Thursday) and hence the necessity of increasing transporting and receiving facilities. The advantages of such a road would tell powerfully upon the merchandize and manufactured interest of Salisbury. Doctors, Lawyers and Dunces, are also invited to come and would all be benefitted. A. THE FAR FAMED MEDICINE!
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

THESE Pills being composed entirely of vegetable herbs are of a most searching nature, while the extraordinary virtues they possess have rendered them universally popular in nearly every part of the world. The immense success they have met with in the United States of late years, coupled with the ingratitude of the Scoundrels of counterfeiters, who have endeavored to impose upon the public by selling their own trash for mine, has induced me to make known the fact, that my Pills are genuine only when purchased at my Establishment of Professor Hostetter's Old Stand, 244, Strand, near Temple Bar, London, and also at No. 80 Maiden Lane, New York. Orders for Medicine in the States, addressed to T. HOLLOWAY, New York will receive due attention. Jew David's Hebrew Plaster,

THE great remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Pain in the Side, Hip, Back, Limbs and Joints, Sciatica, King's Evil, White Swelling, Hard Tumors, Stiff Joints and all fixed pains whatever.

Where this Plaster is applied, pain cannot exist. It has been beneficial in cases of weakness, such as pain and weakness in the stomach. Weak limbs, Lameness, afferent of the lungs in their primary stages. It destroys all inflammation by perspiration.

The following commendation is from an agent residing at Trenton, Tennessee:

TRENTON, Gibson co., Tennessee, Nov. 7, '53.

Messrs. Scott & Mead—Gentlemen: The Hebrew Plaster is becoming popular in this section. There is a fuss in this county where a she would not be without this Plaster for five hundred dollars a year. She was afflicted for some time with an enlargement of the spleen, which gave her a great deal of pain. The swelling and pain had extended up nearly to the armpit, and occasionally she would scarcely breathe. She was confined to a considerable room, during which she was extended by some of our best physicians, but they gave her no relief. She procured a box of the Hebrew Plaster, and as relieved her almost immediately, and now she keeps a supply of it on hand constantly. These facts you are at liberty to use as you think proper. They are substantially true.

Respectfully, yours, &c.,

NOTICE TO MERCHANTS!
GREAT REDUCTION ON COMMISSIONS!
LUTTERLOH'S LINE.

THE undersigned informs the shipping public, that his line of Freight Boats are now in prime order, being the lightest draft and having the greatest number of Steamers. I can say, without fear of contradiction, that I can and do bring goods up the river with more despatch than any other line on the Cape Fear. Goods intended for this line, should be marked to the care of T. S. Lutterloh, Wilmington, at which place I will forward them for 15 per cent., being five per cent. less than any other Commission House there charges.—I will also receive and forward at Fayetteville for 10 per cent.; this is 15 per cent. less than the forwarding agents there charge. No goods will in future be received and forwarded at Fayetteville, unless they come up by my boats.

From 1st January, 1853, to 1st January, 1854, the Steamers of my line have made double the number of trips of any other line.

[F Shippers will recollect, that if they send their goods to the agents of other lines, they do not ship them by my boats, thereby causing detention, and not unfrequently wagons wait at Fayetteville for their goods.
