

Mr. Fillmore's feelings towards foreigners. He has been in Europe, to witness once or twice the reception of royalty, in all the pomp and splendor of military array, where the music was given to honor and the cheers to the sound of command. But for myself, I prize the honest and unobscured affection with which you have welcomed me to my native State, above all the pageants which really can display (cheers). Therefore, with a heart overflowing with grateful emotions, I return you a thousand thanks, and bid you adieu. (Prolonged applause.)

Mr. Mayor and Fellow Citizens: This overflowing demonstration of cordiality and welcome cannot be described as the mere gratification of a political career. In this building I was not a guest, but a man in season, (cheers) and at that time it never entered into the aspirations of my heart that I should ever receive such a welcome as this, in the capital of my native State. (Cheers.)
