five o'clock on the evening of the 27th, I reached the douar of the Ouled-Bon-Azizi, situate about half a mile from the retreat of the beast, who, according to the old men of the place, had lived there 30 years. I was told, on my arrival, that every evening at sanset the lion roared on leaving his den, and that in the night he descended into the plain still continuing to roar. A meeting seemed inevitable, so I loaded my two guns. Hardly ways requires the greatest attention, when I heard the roaring begin in the mountain. My host offered to accompany me The day afterwards, the Arabs of the dis SINGULAR THEORY OF THE MIS-

he touched me. As my eyes could disground about me, he did not cease say ing, "Let us return to the down; the night morrow, during the day." As he did not dare return to the donar alone, he crousle ed down in a group of lentises about fisteps from me. After telling him not to move under any circumstances. I took my brook, a long, guittural moan. I raised of with me, and he was the guide of the my eyes in the direction of this strange previous day. "I received you under my sound, and perceived the eyes of the hon tent," he said to me, and will answer for given. fixed on me, and looking like two red hot you before God and man. I will die coals. The fixed look drove back all the with you. The lion had left the open blood in my veins to my heart. A min space and had buried himself in a mass ute before I shuddered with cold, more of trees which were close by. Walking the perspiration streamed on my fore, with caution, ready to fire at any moment, head. Any one who has not seen a full I tried in vain to find the animal's track. grown lien in its wald state, may believe. The soil was rocky, and the lien's in the possibility of an armed man strug wounds had ceased to bleed. I had just weighed five hundred pounds. The latthe sheath, and placed it in the ground the wi hin reach, when the lion cast his eyes by Jules Greard. down towards the brook. I took a mental farewell of the world, and made a had I finished this operation, which al as far as the ford which the lion would be to cross on descending the mountainty to the district, who bore considerable ill will to

I gave him my second gun, and vinced that he was dead, proposed to me we started. It was too dark to see at to go out and look for him. There were stream in the world. The total length is two steps distance. After having walke i through a wood for a quarter of an hour we reached the border of a brook that search. I returned to the douar and pre-boats and Railroad Directory," we find flows at the foot of the Zebel Krounega, pared to take my leave, when I heard My guide, much agitated by the roaring, several shots and cheers from the direct which drew nearer and nearer, said, The tion of the mountain. There was no room It says: I tried to reconnitre my for doubt, they had found my lion. I position; but all around was so dark that started off at a gallop, and soon convinecould not even see the Arab, although ed myself that this time, at all events, the elevation of the flood in any given tinguish nothing, I began to descend to were flying in all directions, and shout. fise above their channels; in others, the ger than sixty seconds in length. This wards the brook, feeling all the way with ing like demons. Some of them had entire lower valley of the Mississippi is fault threw a shade over all her good sheep, it was certainly well sheltered, and difficult of access. Having found a stone, by the fact that they were on horseback, high, on both sides of the stream, extending found a stone. which I used as a seat at the edge of the and that the flow had only three legs at brook, and just beyond the ford, I sent his disposal, had formed a party to finish. Orleans. By this means the river is reaway my guide, who wished for nothing him (as they said;) they were command. strained within its proper limits, except way, I think, to convince my young read-While trying to make out the od by the cheik. I had just passed the at the greatest freshets, when the waters ers of this, will be to give them a history brook and was going to dismount, when I saw the horsemen with the check at their lead, turn round and start off at full galterrified the horses that the riders had no of the Ohio river the rise is often fitty-five continued her employment. position on the stone. The hon was roar longer control over them. The horses ing still, and drawing gradually nearer, were still galloping, but the hon had Having closed my eyes for some minutes stopped within an open space, in a bangle I saw, on opening them, that at my feet ty and threatening attitude. How grand there was a perpendicular ditch, formed, he was with his jaws open, breathing no doubt, by the overflowing of she brook, menances of death against all who were and low water mark, as high up as White which ran 8 me yards beneath me, on the there! How grand he was, with his black left, and at the very muzzle of my gun, mane standing on end, and his tail beat rent at high water mark sans nearly could sit down; for this habit she had of was the ford: I formed my plan instanting angrily against his sides! He was seven unles per hour, and opposite to coming to the table after the rest of the tions except Tanugah, the hunter who arithmometer relieves that intelligence ly. If it were possible to distinguish the about a hundred paces from the spot. I on in the bed of the river. I meant to dismounted, and called to one of the and low water mark is only twelve feet. Lucy was much mortified about this, and warrior who never came from the war- tions. Instead of repeating responses die from in the bed of the river, I meant to dismounted, and called to one of the fire at him there—the ditch being a Arabs, who had been keeping themselves and the current little over three nules to one would think it would have cared her path without scalps. He alone loved tated to it, this instrument instantaneous the hour. The width and depth of the number of protection for me in case I at a safe distance, to take my horse. Sevmeans of protection for me in case I at a safe distance, to take my horse. Sev. the nour. The world and weight of the at least for that day, of waiting a minute. Neco turn. been nine o'clock when I heard the roar, obliged to Teave my burnous in their about a hundred yards beyond the brook hands, in order to prevent them putting ter passes by the mouth of White river not so easily cured. For this reason children well as the collection which we call the roar, obliged to Teave my burnous in their ter passes by the mouth of White river not so easily cured. For this reason children well as the collection which we call the roar, obliged to Teave my burnous in their ter passes by the mouth of White river not so easily cured. For this reason children we call the roar, obliged to Teave my burnous in their ter passes by the mouth of White river not so easily cured. With my elbow on my knee, the butt me on my horse again and carrying me end of my gun on my shoulder, and my away. A few of them followed me, in oreyes fixed on the water, which I could der to dissuade me from my project; but is that it escapes by the bayous "Plaque distinguish from time to time, I waited as by degrees I quickened my pace and mine, "Lafourche," and "Iberville," but The time seemed long, when I heard, just drew nearer to the hon, their number diin front of me, on the opposite side of the manshed. At last one man only remaingling with it; but any person who has searched the trees forming the group, en one, knows that a man strugging one by one, when my guide, who has with a lion is like a mouse in the clawer remaind a short distance from me. saidof a cat. I have said that I had already "Death will not accept you; you have killed two flors, the smallest of which passed close to the lose without being ter, with one movement of his claw, had met his, you must have died without be stopped a horse at full gallop, and had ing able to fire a shot.' I told him to period I was sufficiently well acquainted revirement. One of the shrubs opened, to expect from become scratelies. Accord the hon in the direction of myself. He ingly, I have never looked upon a dag was at ten steps from me, his tail, straight, ger as a weapon to be depended on. In his mane standing on end, his neck excase a bon should not fall beneath my tended. With his broken leg hanging first or second bullet, (which is possible back, and his claws turned inwards, he enough,) I have determined when he had altogether the appearance of a dog springs upon me and I resist the shock, pointing at game. As soon as he made to endeavor to force my gun down his his appearance, I seated myself on the throat up to the stock; then, if his pow- earth, with the Arab behind me, shoutesful claws have neither thrown me to ing mecasantly, "Fire! why don't you the ground nor pierced me like a bar live!"-exclamations which he mixed up poon, I must either attack him in the with his prayers. The lion made a bound eyes or near the heart, according to the of four or five steps towards me, and means of action left me. If I fall at his was probably about to follow it up with attack, which is more than probable, pro another, when he suddenly found himself vided I have my two hands free, I shall struck with a bullet at about an inch asel for his heart with the left, and with bove the right eye. Heatonce fell. My the right deal the blow. If, on the fol. Arab was already returning thanks to lowing day, two bodies be not found on. God, when the hon turned round and twined together, mine-will not have left raised himself on his hind legs, like a the field of honor, and the lion's will but horse rearing. Another hall, with a the superimposed weight giving lateral thing at the proper time. be far from it. The dagger will ten the more fortunate result, found the unimal's r st. I had just drawn my dagger from heart, and at last stretched him dead on who were dear to me would be proud, when the sun has risen—they rejoice at face. The river is, therefore, from the At least they came to a little bank. who were dear to me would be proud, when the sun has risen—they rejoice all face. The river is, therefore, from the yet, when my finger moved softly tow so when the sun goes down—while they time it comes below the limestone stratas it was so narrow that they could almost, the trigger I was less agritated they art the trigger, I was less agitated than are unconcious of the decay of their own of Missouri and Kentucky, wasting itself but not quite, jump over it. They found company has begun the erection of a arm and cried out "I've gothim, ma, I've the hour lowerit, who was about taking to go their own of the decay of their own of Missouri and Kentucky, wasting itself but not quite, jump over it. They found company has begun the erection of a gothim, ma, I've the hon houself, who was about taking live. Men rejoice on seeing the face of the water. I heard his first step in the a new season, as at the arrival of one before us. Then, all was silent. Was greatly desired. Neverthelers the revolution of one standing still? Was the coming to hatton of one season is the decay of man. wards mef. These were the questions I Fragments of driftwood meeting in the leans would reach one hundred feet above. put to myself, as I sought to pierce the wide ocean continue together a little its present limits; but running over obscurity by which I was enveloped on all sides, when suddenly I thought I heard all sides, when suddenly I thought I heard with a space; thus parents, wives, children, coarse sand, walled in by a deposit made "we are all waiting for you." "In a minute," said Lucy, as all sides, when suddenly I thought I heard space; thus parents, wives, children, coarse sand water in by a deposit made of sand, ancient deluvial detritous and riches remain with us a short vegetable mound, no more water reaches from one flower to another. They were the mud. He had indeed come out of time, then separate—the separation is the ocean than the excess over the amount, willing to wait one minute, or even farmer went to his parson with the fol. The universal testimony of men whose ly mentioned, in several of the larger the brook, and was slowly ascending the inevitable. No mortal can escape the that permeates the surrounding structure more, but she tarried so long that their lowing serious inquiry: steps of the ford, when a movelirent I common lot; he who mourns for depart- and passes off in the process of percolasteps of the ford, when a movement I common lot; he who mourns for depart and passes off in the process of percolation patience was almost exhausted, and fifficulties may be ended by opposition. The was at four or five steps from me, and the pring upon me at any moment. One standing on the road it is useless to look for the sights of your would readily say to a number of persons the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The magnitude of the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from rock or clay in the bottom or bank, is left free to the ocean. The river, without any other restraint from or transperation in a subterrancan difficulties may be ended by opposition.

"Well, I will come in one or two of the continuous difficulti on when you can't even see the barrel, passing by, "I will follow you;" why, government of no other law than the law Lucy. fired as best as I could, with my head then should a person grieve when jour- of hydrostatics. The wathing or wasting At last, when she was ready, as she to stand still?

At last, when she was ready, as she cannot be prevented, though cannot be prevented as a series of the banks cannot be prevented, though cannot be prevented, though cannot be prevented as a series of the banks cannot be prevented as a series of the banks cannot be prevented as a series of the banks cannot be prevented as a series of the banks cannot be prevented as a series of the banks cannot be prevented as a series of the banks cannot be prevented as a series of the banks cannot be prevented as a series of the banks cannot be prevented as a series of the b of inducting form. A fearful roar rent the air, the hon was hore decombat. The sembles a cataract running down with irthree gry of pain was followed by a series resistible impetuosity. Knowing that placed in the variety of the strong of the s Of course I running awake all glish town, driving several asses. Adien, crent Kinghts, destroying the was soon part of his phiz and vamosed, leaving the heart, and trust in providence. Great-At daybreak, we reached the mather of asses? cried be. Adien, my kish quarter so completely that only three lit was vory shallow, and she was soon part of his phiz and vamosed, leaving the ness can only be achieved by those who Tribune lectures Meagher for sending it, at he had not be condition of the achieve and Raymond for not placing it in the late the best are tried. The condition of the achieve and Raymond for not placing it in the late the best are tried. here by the blood as far as the stream, low went his way, feeling for his care, some and to have perished. and covered with mgd, . While the rest at their first convenience.

VOL. XIII. SALISBURY, N. C., JANUARY 6, 1857.

SISSIPPI RIVER The Mississippi river is the greatest anticipate, with any degree of certainty, was, "In a minute; but it so happened my liopes would be realized. The Arabs year. In some seasons, the waters do not that her minutes were usually much lonreached the other side of the brook; the submerged. Embankments called leaves qualities. It was not, is is true, the most The lion was after them on his height of the flood from the Delta to the She was weeding in her garden or t ree legs, clearing the rocks and shrubs junction of the Missouri is above sixteen morning, when her mother called her to is a far better styles than the men on lect. At the mouth of the latter river it breakfast, horseback, and uttering roars, which so is twenty five feet. Below the entrance > feet; and at New Orleans about twelve ready for breakfast, the family had been feet. What goes with the water. It is seated at the table some time. Her fath, of his nation, known that the difference between high er told her that she must wait until they excess! The only solution ever offered current of these bhyous, they fall vastly short of affording a sufficient escapement sand and shingles of the bottom, it passes the cradle and watch her.

placed in the vaults belonging to the An- over to the opposite side. But she failed set it agoing again?"

IN A MINUTE.

Devoted to Politics, Mews, Agriculture, Internal Improvements, Commerce, the Arts and Sciences, Morality, and the Samily Circle.

temper and amiable disposition. These boats and Railroad Directory," we find qualities secured her many friends; but er being ready to do a thing when it the following instructive article on the she had one fault which caused herself should be done. Her friends had often anything was to be done she was always No experience will enable a person to too late. Her almost invariable reply

"In a minute, mother," said she, as she called to her to know if she was ready. "In a minute," said Lucy. But Lucy's "In a minute," said Lucy. But Lucy's But among the Indians, as among the cal writer of the present century. He was brother knew something about the length pale faces, "the course of true love never the originator of the Anglican or Pusey. dominishes in volume as the difference should lock the school room door at pre-as rapidly as through a common sieve.

By the accurate surveys of several scientific engineers, it is ascertained that the fall of the Mississippi river is four Lucy's minute expired, her little sister taken to the great Sulphur Spring near The surface of the ocean, by measurement she found how inattentive her daughter to a mind diseased," New Orleans, corresponds with the low she was naturally kind-hearted and affec. Spring, and there buried them. water mark below New Orleans, therefore the Missis-ippi river is pouring through its own bottom into the ocean, because she was never ready to do any at this day the grave of Neter. Another child, four and a half years count is visible, and the rade tence of went into the house, emptied the waabout it still stands, the big wigwams of ter out of the pail howked it on the rade.

rent. If the reader has ever stood upon ter tea, some of Lucy's companions called visits the resting place of his daughter, ing of no use the mother thought she seen water poured from a bucket on the sand bar, he has seen that neither can be sand bar, he has seen that neithe

At last, when she was ready, as she to stand still?" of the brook, but after a short time all second connected with happiness and ultimate the donar withing he was dead, I restricted to the donar with my goods, who:

Jour what he had been able to be end of life is death, every right-mind.

One Thousand Persons Killed by a But Lucy was a sprightly, active girl, and seeing a large stone a little way from Rhodes state that the lightning struck the where she stood, she stepped on to it, immense store of gunpowder which was stickling that for the donar which to be a store of gunpowder which was stickling that for the donar with my goods, who: minute, and then place it back again .- "Yes," quoth the farmer.

of the party continued their walk, Lucy OR THE LITTLE GIRL THAT WAS ALWAYS TOO was obliged to return. As she bent her steps towards home, she called to mind Lucy Lathrop was a little girl of mild all the trouble she had brought upon herself during the day, by this habit of nevqualities secured her many friends; but er being ready to do a thing when it reasoned with her about it, but she had never tried in earnest to break herself of it. She now resolved to do so without any farther delay.

If any of my young friends who read this story, have formed the same habit, I hope they will not wait a minute before they begin to break themselves of it.

beautiful prairies of Nebraska, which lay north of the Platte River, belonged to But when at last she came in, and was prime of life; a sagacious hunter and a raise or lower a nut screw, to turn a ter passes by the mouth of White river not so easily cured. For this reason childrived for the solemnization of their maras by New Orleans. What goes with the dren should be very careful not to form riage and the presents of robes and hores were already gathered around the By the arrival of the City of Baltimore When it was school time, her brother lodge of her father, while within the feast at Philadelphia, yesterday, we have intel

The true explanation can, we think, be of her minutes, and being somewhat of a did run smooth," and just at the auspi- ite party in the Church of England, and At low water, throughout the whole punctual boy, he did not choose to wait clous moment, a scout came in and re-though his early associate, Dr. Newman At low water, throughout the whole extent, we see a land structure exposed, underlying the bank, or that the alluvial dy, and started for school. The teacher structure on which the plantations are, is had been much annoyed by the tardiness in their war dress, and the war paint little more than twenty years since he a structure of deposit made by the river of some of his pupils. The night before allowe its low water mark, which, opposite to the mouth of White river, is there of the had told them he was resolved to break feet thick. As you descend, the river up this habit, and the next morning he training

A fierce and sanguinary battle was between high and low water mark dimin-cisely five minutes past nine. If any of fought, and many of the Omahas were early corresponds to it, and them came after that time, they would be sent untimely to the spirit land, and wherever the bottom is exposed, it shows obliged to return home again. Lucy throughout the whole extent, that the bottom is purce extent, that the bottom is purce extent and; exhibiting at knew this; that she had alents of time. the superimposed alluvial structure mix. When, however, she arrived at the school- departed. But there was one who took preacher for four years. He was a man stopped a horse at full gallop, and had ing able to fire a shot. I told film to the superior of the strict of the with the tise and fall of the river, not be varying an inch, and through the coarse left the room, telling Lucy to sit beside that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that her spirit had left the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that he was the acknowledged that the body and gone the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledged that the party of which he was the acknowledg to the good hunting grounds to join that edged head.

inches to the mile. The distance from dropped her rattle box over the cradle, the old Council Bluff, and its waters, Natchez to New Orleans of three hand- and as she reached after it, the cradle which were a great medicine, would call red miles will give twelve hundred inche rocked over. The loud cries of the bahee back the spirit, and restore the reason of Granby, New York, hearing a shrick from dieted, tried, found guilty and sentenced es or one hundred feet. The depth of the river is less than fiffy feet at high water mark. The river debouches into the mark. The river debouches into the cocan, from a promontory made by itself eagain. She was much displeased when ficiency of the Spring-waters to "minister below the bottom of the river, above had been. She told her that although to the high bluff over the White Sulphur, where she caught the drowning child by the superimposed weight giving lateral thing at the proper time.

pressure to harry the subterranean curling at the proper time.

It was a long summer's day; and after every moon the aged Yellow Smoke related to the pail, hooked it on the pole, and lowered it into the well. This prove "Come," said one of her companions, of the moccasin in the long prairie grass. Nebraska City News.

make her, in her turn, to wait just one manded the sun to stand still, did he !"

"Well, it stood still, did't it?"

NEW CALCULATING MACHINE.

NUMBER XXXII.

The Paris Moniteur describes a new calculating machine invented by M. Thomas of Colmar, and successfully employed in many great financial establishments-Our contemporary says .- " M. Thomas's arithmometer may be used without the least trouble or possibility of error, not only for addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division, but also for much more complex operations, such as the extracfor of the square root, involution, the resolution of triangles, &c. A unitiplication of eight figures by eight others is made in eighteen seconds; a division of THE DAUGHTER OF YELLOW sixteen figures by eight figures in twenty-four seconds; and in one minute and JULY. SMOKE-A STORY OF THE OMA- a quarter one can extract a square root of sixteen figures, and also prove the ac-Many years ago, the Omaha Indians curacy of the calculation. The arithmomwere a great and warlike tribe. The eter adapts itself to every sort of combination. As an instance of the wonderful extent of its powers, we may state that it them, and far north and west, they follow- can furnish in a few seconds products aed the war path and the game without 999,999,999. The working of this in-Smoke, now an old man, was then in the strument is, however, most simple. To brave warrior, he became the head chief winch a few times, and, by means of a button, to slide off a metal plate from left His daughter, Necesimah, was the flow- to right, or from right to left, is the whole OCTOBER. and low water mark, as high up as White had finished their breakfast before she er of his tribe, and many of the young secret. Instead of simply reproducing braves sought her hand and woodd her beauty. Put all failed to gain her affec-New Orleans the difference between high family were seated must be broken up, never returned without game, and the from the necessity of making the operaman who asks it a question.

> Death of the Celebrated Doctor Passy of corn and venison was boiling over the ligence of the death of the celebrated Doctor Pasey, the most famous theologiand subtle powers of reasoning were emship based upon the Apostolical success ion, and attributing an efficacy to the ri wicked men, rnd by earnest prayer to gainst his name being used to designate

New York Daily Times.

THRILLING INCIDENT. A few days ago a Mrs. Suydam of

She immediately sent for assistance, but before it came descended into the well, by the arm, and held him out of the wa-emergency requires moral courage and noble manhood to meet it, be equal to and an unusual number in New York althe requirements of the moment, and rise Quite Logical.—An old Connecticut superior to the obstacles in your path. experience exactly coincides with yours, cities, though to a more limited extent, furnishes the consoling reflection that and in one or two of the counties of Virgreater effort than ever at your hands .true, how could Joshua command the sun If you prove recreant in the hour of trial serve no compassion. Be not dismayed J. Raymond, of the Times, to fight a duel. and during, unflinching and resolute. - ragraph saying that Mengher had broken The cloud whose threatening murmurs, his parole when he escaped from Austrayou hear with fear and dread, is pregnant with blessings and the frown whose sternness now makes you shudder and trem- ted with Meagher, and finally retracted "Very well; did you ever hear that he smile of bewitching sweetness and benige a manner to satisfy the demands of the

JANUARY.

FEBRUARY.

18 19 20 21 28 28 25 26 27 28 29 30

1 9 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 19 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 91 23 23 24 25 26 27 28

1 2 3 4 5 6 7

9 10 11 12 13 14 15

16 17 18 19 20 21 22

23 24 25 26 27 28 29

6 7 8 9 10 11 12

13 14 15 16 17 18 19

20 21 22 23 24 25 26

6 7 8 9 10 11 19 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30-11 12 13 14 15 16 17

18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28

DECEMBER.

27 28 29 30 31 Subbath Schools.—The whole chare oncerned in the prosperity of schools, even in a secular point of As they increase, what is of infi greater importance, knowledge, good order and piety will increase. Hence it becomes every true friend of a congregation, as such, to encourage the institution by occasional visits, by the gift of suitable books, which may pass from the Sabbath school library to a hundred families; by appropriating sums of money for incidental expenses; by defending the institution from the attacks of ignorant and work of him. About the same time that Huntington, the great forger, was arrested here, a man named Robson who had defrauded the Crystal Palace at Sydenham of £10,000, was arrested in England. The City of Washington brings the intelligence that Robson had been in to 20 year's imprisonment. Huntington on the contrary, has not yet been indicted. - New York Express.

Conversions to Protestantism .- A London paper of November 27 says:

"The movement towards Protestantism in Bohemia, Moravia and Austrian Silesia, is becoming daily more immense and overwhelming; whole families, in all their branches simultaneously embracing the Lutheran creed, and leeding others in rent. It appears that the recent concordat with the Pope, which disgusts the more intelligent inhabitants of these countries,

The scarlet fever continues to When a crisis befalls you, and the In Boston forty deaths are reported from so. Small pox, too, prevails, as previous-fia. The story is that Raymond negotiable-will ere long, be succeeded by a and explained the offensive paragraph innity. Then be strong and manly; oppose duellist. The sending of a challenge is contrary to law in that State, and the

> The Tribune of Saturday morning states that T. F. Meagher lately challenged II.