Another Improvement.—We have just examined the plan of a beautiful brick building, drawn by Mr. A. B. Hendren, which Mr. Joseph F. Chambers contemplates erecting on the corner of the public square, made vacant by the fire in September, 1855. When completed it will add much to the beauty of the Town, besides extending very materially the business facilities of the place, and will also reflect credit on the public spirit and liberality of Mr. Chambers. We trust no obstacle may occur to prevent its speedy erection. It is to contain four apartments for stores, besides rooms for various purposes in the second and third stories.

Salisbury Herald.

DEATH OF CAPT. THOMAS PETIGRU.—We regret to see by the following announcement in the Charleston Standard, the death of Capt. Petigru, a gentleman whom we knew well and esteemed highly:

We were pained, yesterday, to learn of the sudden death of Captain Thomas Petigru, late of the United States Navy. He was on his plantation, in Abbeville District, when he was attacked with a somewhat severe indisposition on Monday last, and though he rallied and there were hopes of his speedy recovery, he died at about 5 o'clock on Friday morning. He was one of those who suffered under the action of the late board for improving the efficiency of the Navy, and has not survived the opportunity of invoking justice.

HEAVY ROBBERY.—A gentleman from North Carolina, whose name is not given, lost his pocket book at the depot in Baltimore, on Wednesday evening, immediately after the arrival of the train from Washington. It contained about six thousand dollars in checks on various banks with the exception of about one hundred and forty dollars in money.

Escape from Jail.—Jesse Langley, imprisoned in the jail of this county (Wake) some two months ago on a charge of horse-stealing, escaped on Wednesday night. He was confined in a cell, the entrance to which was secured by two iron doors. He first opened the inside door of his cell by filing through the granite to the bolt, and then apparently with much ease unlocked the outer door. Having got into the passage which divides the residence of Sheriff High from the jail, by means of an oven-lid he succeeded in burning out of the door of the jail the lock, which of course released him from the walls of the prison. We learn that the Sheriff has been absent from town several days. Langley is said to have escaped from one or two jails in this State and also from the Georgia penitentiary. —Raleigh Register.

Rail Roads in Georgia.—We copy a statement of the number of roads in the Empire State of the South, showing their large number and a remarkable degree of prosperity. These roads are dependent on travel and the ordinary sources of transportation only. They have no great items like coal and iron to sustain them. Yet they pay well. Their costs is moderate, and their expenses not more than an average.—Fayetteville Observer.

A VENERABLE CITIZEN DEPARTED!

We are pained to announce that Dr. BENJAMIN ROBINSON departed this life at Monticello, his residence in this vicinity, yesterday morning at half-past 9 o'clock.

Fayetteville Observer.

HIGH PRICES.—The Washington N. C. Times says that Riley Murray, Esq., residing on Mattamuskeet Lake, in Hyde County, has refused $120 per acre for his farming lands in that county.—Fay. Obs.

Royal Extravagance.—At the last court ball in Paris the jewels of the Empress Eugenie were estimated at four millions of francs, and the flounces of Alencons lace which covered the lilac satin robe of her Majesty cost six hundred thousand—the dress and jewels thus amounting to almost a million of dollars.

Printers in Pennsylvania.—General Parker, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania, is a printer by trade. The two United States Senators and the Chief Justice of Pennsylvania, were also formerly printers.

THE ETHEOPIAN TWINS.

Some few years ago a negro woman in Cumberland county, N. C., gave birth to twin children, more singularly and wonderfully united than the famed Siamese twins. They were purchased by Capt. J. C. Pervis of this place, and sold to J. P. Smith, Esq., of Anson county, N. C., who entrusted them to Brower & Shelton. They were taken to New Orleans for exhibition, where they were tricked out of them. Recently Mr. Smith heard they were on exhibition in England.—Knowing that he could not reclaim them as slaves, he purchased their mother and took her to England to reclaim her children. Upon reaching that country, he heard they were in Scotland, where he proceeded. He found them in Edinburgh, and the mother's claim was respected, even in Abolition England, where the rights of the master are unknown or disregarded.

No effort was spared to induce the mother of these children to desert her master and remain in England. She said she had seen white slavery, and it was far worse in civilized England, than African slavery in the United States. Indeed so strongly was she impressed with the misery of white slavery, that she clung to her master and returned with him home, to endure the misery of negro slavery in North Carolina, as not only a choice of evils, but as the happiest condition of the African race. Mr. Smith and his negroes arrived at this place on Monday last.

Cheraw Gazette.

Office Seeking.—A letter from Washington says that there are at least fifty applicants there for every office in the gift of the Administration. They are of course delighted to learn that Mr. Buchanan goes for rotation in office, and means to put new men into every vacant office, and into every one which he can with propriety vacate.—Fay. Observer.

WHAT A SHAKING THERE WILL BE AMONG THE DRY BONES.

The New York Herald says it is advised from well-informed and reliable sources that upon the question of the distribution of the spoils, Mr. Buchanan has resolved upon a complete re-organization of the working machinery of the Government, and that this re-organization will comprehend out and out, a new catalogue of foreign appointments, diplomatic and consular, and a clean sweep of the higher offices at Washington, of the United States District Attornies and Marshals, of the heads of the principal Custom Houses and Post Offices throughout the country. It further says:

"That Mr. Buchanan will expect every American Minister abroad, every Charge d'Affairs, and every Consul or special Commercial Agent, to send in their resignations respectfully, without delay, for that they will all be displaced, with probably not a single exception from the operation of the rule. From Mr. Dallas, at London, to Major Cass, at Rome, and from the Consul at Liverpool, to the commercial Agent at the Sandwich Islands, new men will take the places of the present incumbents. The same law will be applied to the domestic offices enumerated; and may reach (Brigham Young included) a few of our Territorial saints, governors and judges. But this sweeping change in the personel of the new administration will not be made upon Marcy's mercenary doctrine that "to the victor belong the spoils, nor yet in pursuance of the politicians' rule of party rotation in office; for in this case the office holders and the office seekers are of the same party.

But there was a great principle upon which the November election turned in favor of Mr. Buchanan—the great principle of the preservation of the Union—against all disorganizing schemes and experiments, all trading demagogues; and all unscrupulous factionists and sectional agitators or disunion fanatics, North and South, within or without the lines of the democratic party; and by that principle will Mr. Buchanan be governed in this terrible work among the office holders. The dignity of the government in the eyes of the world—the restoration of its ancient honest and lofty policy and purposes at home and abroad—is another consideration which will contribute very materially to the execution of the important duty of new men to man the ship from stem to stern."

P. S. Later accounts contradict this statement in regard to the policy of the new President.

WASHINGTON DITS.

The British treaty is referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs. The determination appears to be to act upon it.

Comptroller Whittlesey, and all the heads of Bureau, resigned on Monday.

Mr. Richardson, of Illinois, will probably be appointed Governor of Minnesota.

Gen. Thomas, the present Assistant Secretary of State has been agreeably notified by Mr. Cass to retain his position. No political changes will be made in the subordinates in that department, and even the confidential clerks continue in their former relation. The details of current business will be conducted by Mr. Thomas and Chief Clerk Hunter. Gen. Cass considering only the graver questions.—Wil. Herald.

DREADFUL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

TORONTO, March 12.

Two cars in the train of the Great Western Railroad ran off the bridge near Hamilton, containing one hundred and twenty passengers, sixty-eight of whom are supposed to have been instantly killed. Those who escaped are supposed to be more or less mangled.

He that knows not how to spend his time, hath more business, care, grief, and anguish of mind, than he that is most busy in the midst of all his business.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 6, 1857.

FELLOW-CITIZENS: The time for which I was elected to Congress has expired, and I avail myself of the earliest opportunity to inform you that I decline a second canvass. I would have resigned at the close of the last session, if I had not hoped that the change of the seasons would remove the necessity. Being disappointed in that, I think it necessary for me, and best for you, that I should retire.

Our relation of Representative and constituents, has not, to my knowledge, been disturbed by a single unpleasant incident. I have felt myself much complimented by your confidence. I am grateful for your favors, and proud of the honor conferred.

Of each one of you, without distinction of party, I most respectfully take my leave; in the hope that you will continue to be, as you always have been, conservative citizens devoted to the best interests of the Union. E. G. READE.

An Old Bachelor Bristling Up.—Mr. Buchanan in his Inaugural, speaks of "our children and our children's children."

THE GREAT SOUTHERN HAT AND CAP MANUFACTORY, AND DEPOT.

SPRING TRADE, 1857.

JOHN DOOLEY,

81. MAIN STREET, RICHMOND, VA.

MANUFACTURER AND IMPORTER OF

HATS, CAPS, LADIES FURS, TRIMMINGS &c., &c.

WOULD on this occasion particularly call the attention of his regular customers and others, to the preparations he has made for the business of Spring.

During his recent tour in the North, he visited not only the cities of Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York, but also the principal manufacturing districts where goods in his line are got up—thus he has been enabled both to obtain samples of every article made, and purchase more advantageously than heretofore.

For the importation of French goods, he has made such arrangements as will insure him a regular supply of the newest and choicest styles.

The silk and other Hats of his own make have invariably been deemed by his customers superior to those of Northern importation. From various improvements recently made in his factory, the superiority will not only be maintained, but added to.

Such country merchants as purchase elsewhere, without giving Richmond a trial, he would respectfully invite them to visit his establishment—he assures them should they do so, they will find a stock of goods equalling in variety, quantity, and low prices, that of any other house North or South.

His business arrangements are of the completest kind, and the greatest attention is paid to the careful packing and prompt shipment of goods. [1642

PLAN OF THE LOTTERY.

The numbers from 1 to 30,000, corresponding with those Numbers on the Tickets printed on separate slips of paper, are encircled with small tin tubes and placed in one Wheel.

The first 212 Prizes, similarly printed and encircled, are placed in another wheel.

The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of Numbers, and at the same time a Prize is drawn from the other wheel. The Number and Prize drawn out are opened and exhibited to the audience, and registered by the Commissioners; the Prize being placed against the Number drawn. This operation is repeated until all the Prizes are drawn out.

APPROXIMATION PRIZES.—The two preceding and two succeeding Numbers to those drawing the first 12 Prizes will be entitled to the 48 Approximation Prizes, according to the scheme.

The 3,000 Prizes of $20 will be determined by the last figure of the Number that draws the $50,000 Prize. For example, if the Number drawing the $50,000 Prize ends with No. 1, then all the Tickets where the number ends in 1 will be entitled to 20. If the Number ends with No. 2, then all the Tickets where the Number ends in 2 will be entitled to $20, and so on to 0.

RESPECTFULLY offers his professional services to the citizens of Iredell and public generally.

"To mine to beautify
And mine to bless. T' assuage the stinging tree
Of pain; bid suffering cease, and pour the oil
Of comfort into many wounds. The last
To restore, deformity to raise up from
Her humble path obscure that she, with smiles,
May take her unaccustomed place among
The sons of man. To me
The noble boon is given, to model o'er
The human face divine, on which
The signet seal of Heaven hath fixed her impress true.
I'm cautious then, nor me're with careless and Indifferent hand, abuse my honored trust."
