

SLAVE STAMPEDES IN MARYLAND

The Baltimore American says, that in looking over its Maryland exchanges, it has been struck by the number of advertisements of runaway slaves. On the border counties, especially, this species of property is becoming a very usual incident.

CAROLINA WATCHMAN. SALISBURY, N. C.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 14, 1853. TERMS OF THIS PAPER $2.00 CASH.

A Davie Voter. The Watchman, of the 21st volume, in reply to a "Davie Voter," writing for the Standard, has an article intended to appear as a fair denunciation of the custom of treating of slaves.

One of two things is certain: Either the Banner cannot understand the plainest language we are capable of using, or it is determined to falsify us, if it can.

We give below the reply we made to a "Davie Voter," and if we believed there was an unprejudiced man or boy, with common sense, in the United States, or even in Africa, who cannot see that our remarks were intended for all persons, of whatever party, we would at least resolve never to use language again.

Now if the author of these extracts intended to represent us as looking for acts of oppression on the part of the Democrats, and very especially on the part of the Whigs, he is entirely mistaken in so doing.

It does seem to us that this is plain enough; and intelligent men must see very clearly that we were trying to make it as plain and as pointed as possible. There is no attempt here to "carefully screen" any one, political friend or foe.

We give below an extract from Bayard Taylor's correspondence of the New York Tribune. WASHINGTON, June 14, 1853. Before leaving Craok, we visited the monument to Kewauko, which is about a mile and a half from the city.

WHIGS, AHoy!

We heartily endorse the sentiments of the editorial article, and in view to it the current situation of our Whig readers. We like the idea of reviving the old Whig party name, and in this step its old members in Western North Carolina, have led off.

Feeling no disposition to have a newspaper controversy, I at first thought of composing a long letter for a moment, which I would send to my own "opinion" over a newspaper, or through another as "your old-fashioned defender," might imply.

We will prevail and gladly throw out again the flag of the old Whig Party, and call upon all who are true to the principles and its principles to gather under that banner, and defend it of all past wrongs, since their devotion to a cause that is followed by association with the great and greatest names of the Republic.

The facts are well ascertained. By a union of the Opposition, last election, James Buchanan would have been beaten by 500,000 votes. Should the Opposition remain divided, and the supply of nullifying Democracy be permitted to rule the country?

Amuse. We are by the last Spirit of the Age, that the editor "has no desire to be a party to do injuries" to Salisbury, and copies our reply to the Banner of the 25th August.

The Daily South Carolina (Columbia) has done itself in favor of the election of Mr. DeLoach instead of Mr. DeLoach. Doubtless his name is entirely satisfactory to itself; but it strikes us as another one of those remarks which show extreme want and harmonious Mr. Lincoln, we believe in an out-and-out Black Republican and abolitionist; whereas Douglas has enjoyed the reputation of being just, fair and equal in view, as well as to have been often spoken of by Southern democratic presses as a reliable candidate for the Presidency.

Ball Road Accidents. We regret to learn that GEORGE COLMAN of Concord, had his ankle dislocated on the small train of the E. & W. R. R. on Friday last, on the N. C. Railroad, in attempting to get off the freight train before it had come to a standstill.

The Fall Trade. Our merchants are now receiving and opening their goods for the Fall Trade; and for the last few days our crowded streets have indicated that business was opening with pretty fair prospects.

We have some noble old oaks occupying similar positions in reference to our side-walks; but if there be a lady in our town who would not rather go without a horse than see them fall, let her speak out. Our customers are open to her.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH

We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH

We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH

We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH

We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We had the following dispatch to our Washington correspondent: New York, September 2.—A communication from Cyrus W. Field, Esq., says that a dispatch from Newfoundland informs him that, though the installation of the Atlantic Cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days.