TO SPOIL A DAUGHTER.
 Be always telling her how very pretty she is. Instill into her young mind an undue love for dress. Allow her to read nothing but works of fiction. Teach her all the accomplishments, but none of the utilities of life. Keep her in the darkest ignorance of the mysteries of housekeeping. Initiate her into the principle that it is vulgar to do anything for herself. To strengthen her later, let her have a lady's maid. Teach her to think that she is better than anybody else. Make her think that she is sick when she is not, and let her lie in bed taking medicines when half an hour's use of dose exercise would completely cure her of her laziness. And, lastly, having given her such an education, marry her to a monstrosity of a gentleman, who is a clerk, with a salary of $250.

Milking Young Cows.—It is said that young cows, the first year they give milk, may be made, with careful milking and good keeping, to give milk almost any length of time desired, but that if they are allowed to dry up early in the fall, they will give a much better milk at the same season, dry up at the same time each succeeding year, and nothing but extra feed will prevent it, and that but for a short time.

The Doctor's Welcome.—Down East there resides a certain M. D. One very cold night he was roused from his slumber by a very loud knocking at the door. After some hesitation he went to the window and asked—
 "Who's there?"
 "Friend."
 "What do you want?"
 "Stay all night."
 "Stay there, then," was the benevolent reply.

The Gloucester News tells the story of a boy in one of the schools in that town who is an inveterate rhymer, and who laughed one morning during prayers, at the sight of a rat. Being asked why he laughed, he replied:
 "I saw a rat upon the stairs.
 Coming up to hear my prayers."
 Being told that he must immediately make another rhyme or be flogged, he quickly answered:
 "Here I stand before Miss Daggett, She's going to nurse, and I shall do it,"
 and took his seat, the whole school being in a roar of laughter.

Grant graciously what you cannot refuse safely and conciliate those you cannot conquer.

We notice the arrival of a lot of machinery for the Gas Works, (being the same a Newbern paper sometime ago) and we are glad to hear that it is being erected by Mr. Price. He intends the gas more particularly for lighting the Academy and his factories; but we presume a number of other ailments will avail themselves of the opportunity and use it in their stores and private residences. We hope that the Commissioners will also make use of it for lighting the streets.
 Salem Press.

The Cable celebration in New York cost the city $200,000, besides the loss of a portion of the City Hall. As the thing now appears to be a failure, we suppose nobody will glorify Cyrus W. Field any more. Adversity is the article to try one's admirers and friends.
 Charlotte Democrat.

The hardest situation for a grumbler to be in, is to feel like grumbling, and have nothing to grumble at.

FOR DISEASE OF THE LIVER.
 There are hundreds of remedies sold as every drug store, purporting to cure the liver, but there is one exception.
 We speak of Dr. Serravallo's Ferruginous, which is a powerful and reliable medicine, and is a valuable addition to any household.

Chop Paint for a Barn.—An excellent and cheap paint for rough wood work is made of six pounds of melted pitch, one pint of linseed oil, and one pound of brick dust or yellow ochre.

"You have lost your baby, I hear, said one gentleman to another.
 "Yes, poor little thing! It was only five months old. We did all we could for it. We had four doctors, blistered its head and feet, put mustard plasters all over it, gave it nine calomel powders, leached its temples, had it bled, and gave it all kinds of medicines, and yet, after a week's illness, it died."

Life appears to be too short to be spent in nursing animosity, or registering wrongs.
