The Exile's Memory.

BY ELEANOR C. DAY.

A [illegible] quiet and lonely,
[illegible]
[illegible] for those who love me,
I, alas! they are not dead!
Round thy rustic porch the woodbine
Flowers in the evening breeze;
Still the lowly gate is guarded
By those ancient poplar trees—
Sighing sentry, night and day,
With their leaves of trembling gray.

Well I know each sounding chamber;
Well I know each dark recess;
Oh! I might be happy there
If I could but love it less!
Well I know the stretches winding
Through thy pleasant pasture-land,
Where at noon the dappled cattle
Lie the shady waters stand,
Thoughts of home are sweet to me,
Pacing o'er the distant sea.

Say the sparrows, grief the deepest
Did my heart with sorrow tire
To that homestead, quaint and lonely,
Near to our gray, old English shore;
There I drank life's cup of anguish,
Brimming o'er with bitter tears;
When our gentle Mother left us
In the daze of joyous years—
Through a chaplet where woodbines wave,
Borne in silence, to the grave.

There love's sweetness first entranced me;
There I felt its tender spell;
Chaplet, notes and gentle glances
Telling what the lips should tell.
Absence comes, with wider changes,
And the dream was soon forgot;
Yet it leaves a lingering kindness
For the old, familiar spot.
Oft as ever my mind recalls
Glimpses of those treed walls.

Ah! I ever my mind recalls it—
Well may I recall it so!
Well I know I ne'er shall see more;
Oft I dream its garlet casement
Shows the master-lights of yore;
In the midst of outward sorrow,
Whatever may be bowing fast,
Memory's voice, whispering solace
Tells me of the happy past—
Distant stream and returning breeze
Sighing 'mong the circling poplar trees.

WHEREABOUTS OF A NOTORIOUS DEFAULTER.

A Toronto, Canada, correspondent writes as follows to the New York Times of Tuesday:

I never knew, you may have forgotten it, as you never did know, it will [illegible] to tell you that Mr. Breslin, formerly [illegible] of the State of Ohio, who, [illegible] fall away with I forget how many hundred thousand dollars, has, since that exploit, been living quite [illegible] in the neighboring city of Hamilton. He resides, I believe, at the Anglo American Hotel. He is very retiring, and pay considerable attention to the attractions of the fair sex. His hair is getting very gray. I saw him the other day, and noted a great change. The general impression is, that a man who lives so quietly and unostentatiously, nay, even closely as he, cannot have made much by running away. As a people don't often respect unless they can make a "pile" by so doing, it is thought likely that the [illegible] will, ere long, be traced to [illegible] the Ex Treasurer of Ohio, as Canadians have no means [illegible] only conjecture.

Joy to the Admirers
OF A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.
Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more use circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.
PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids; and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to it [illegible] old age, in all its natural beauty. We call them upon the bald, the grey, or dimmed in the scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.
The Agent for Prof Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few we he since:
Deer Rivur, Conn., July 23, 1856.
Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing, it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow; it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect,
RUFUS PRATT.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.
PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact bald. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it.
Yours respectfully,
D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 464 Vine street.
VINCENNES, In., June 22, 1853.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It generally eradicates the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without disordering the hands that apply it, or the [illegible] upon which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and [illegible] to hair. Respectfully yours,
WILSON KING.

CELEBRATED VEGETABLE
CATTLE POWDER.

THE Proprietors take pleasure in offering their Vegetable Cattle Powder, feeling confident that it is the article long needed by the Agricultural community. The Compound is useful in most all diseases incident to Horses, Cows, Hogs, and Sheep, entering into the constitution, producing an alternative effect thereby, purifying the blood and all secretions. The Powder is recommended for horses to be given in complaints of Distemper, Slobbering, Coughs, Fevers, Foot-diseases, Glanders, Farcy, Gripes and Colic, Jaundice and Yellow Water, diseases of the kidneys, foundered horses, &c.
It may be given in doses of tablespoonful three or four times a week mixed with water when drinking.
COWS.
The powder is highly recommended for cows. Purifying their blood and bringing them to a healthy state, driving out all the impurities of the body, increasing their strength and improving their appetite, making them yield twice the amount of milk, with a good condition. A farmer, that once uses this powder, will never be without it. It should be given in doses of a tablespoonful three times a week, and in continuing the use of it, all the diseases arising from the impure state of the blood and secretions may be entirely driven out.
In diseases of Hollow Horn, Hard dugges, or cows that give bloody milk, or for dry cows, it has been found highly beneficial by giving the powder every day, or three times a week.
HOGS.
For hogs the powder is recommended to be given in coughs, swelled necks, worms in the lungs, and liver, and in fattening, and may be given by mixing a pound or a half of a package in a barrel of swill.
POULTRY.
The Cattle Powder, proving so effectual for what I was first recommended, induced several farmers to feed it to some laying hens, and found the effect most wonderful in fattening them; hens do, making them continue longer than usual in laying eggs. We can, therefore, recommend it to be fed to chickens, geese, turkeys and for all kinds of the feathered tribe, where it is desired to keep up a healthy condition. It may be given mixed with Indian meal and water two or three times a week.

The schools are conducted in large buildings, and at a suitable distance apart, affording parents an opportunity to give their sons and daughters a thorough education in the same village. We have a fine apparatus, with maps and globes, also a good library for the benefit of the pupils.
We now have several large boarding houses open for the accommodation of students, at the low rates of $7 per month, and we hope that parents and guardians will send us in one hundred and fifty for the next session.
