...surplus, for this past year, to $[illegible] 62, but states a "deficit" to larger amount, outstanding indebtedness "not been paid them was known to exist."

In July, 1858, he reports the net earnings over operating expenses, for the preceeding year, to be $188,212 06.

In his report of the 20th January, 1859, he makes the net earnings, from July 1st, '58, to January 1st 1859, $110,544 26.

These net earnings, summed up, stand thus:

Net earnings for the year ending July, 1857.....	$162,324 [illegible]
" " " July, 1858.....	188,212 06
" " to January, 1859.....	110,544 26
	$460,880 [illegible]
Gained interest for two years on the $600,000 of 9 per cent.....	$108,000
Sinking Fund.....	61,000
	$629,881 [illegible]

If Mr. Fisher's estimates made with so much care in July, 1858, had been correct, then the net surplus in the treasury, according to his own showings, should have been, on the first January, 1859, $379,-881 67, instead of $47,305 26. As the Express stock was not over-rated in the assessment of 1858, amounting to $70,000, that sum ought also to be deducted. This would reduce net surplus to $264,-881 67 Deduct the present report net surplus, 47,305 26

$[illegible]

And you will see, to make these reports consistent, that there must have been paid with a few years, $263,576 21, on debts "not known to exist," at the time the memorial was submitted to the General Assembly at its last session.

Your committee believe from the report of Col. Gwynn, on 'paving the road, sustained by repeated reports of the President and directors since that date, that the road was cheaply constructed, and that its future prospects, if well and economically managed, are highly encouraging.

Your committee are not ignorant, that in the management of an extensive road, the most vigilant and judicious administration might commit errors. But making due allowance for these, we think the facts herein disclosed, warrant the conclusion that this road has been badly managed—by the President and Directors—in particulars in which we have been able to examine, at the time and under the circumstances, herein set forth. In many respects particulars, we have made no examination, because we could not do it without totally neglecting our other legislative duties.

We regret that we have been unable to make our investigations so thorough as we think the interests of the State require.

TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 1, 1859.

NORTH CAROLINA RAIL ROAD.

As the surest way of doing full and impartial justice to those involved in the affairs of the N. C. R. R. Company, we have determined to publish entire, the Report of the Joint Select Committee, made to the Legislature, and the reply of the President, Mr. Fisher, to the same. With these papers before them our readers may come right for themselves how the Committee performed the duty assigned to them, and to what Mr. Fisher objects.

Many of our citizens have invested their money in the stock of this Road, and are therefore interested in its affairs. And as it was for their satisfaction the investigation was made, so much as we dislike to burden our columns at a such lengthy article, is to them that all should be given.

The Tables referred to in the report shall appear in our next.

☞ The Hon. Phifo Ware and lady, are stopping at Mr. Mongant, Bower's, in this place, at present. They have been to the vicinity, and here, visiting and receiving visits from old friends and acquaintances, for several weeks. We are pleased to see they are in excellent health and preservation.

The Salisbury Band did them the honor of a serenade, a few evenings ago—selecting for the occasion that renowned piece—"Home, sweet Home." We can well imagine the effect of this simple offering upon those who have just returned to their native land, after an absence of five years, spent in a strange and far distant country. Doubtless it found its way to the heart, & awaked many a tender thought. Mr. Ware appeared in the parlor, and in a few appropriate remarks thanked the Band for the compliment they had paid himself and lady.

☞ The 23d of February was celebrated in this Town by our new Volunteer Companies and the Brass Band. The brave-ship display of the Military and the inspiring strains of our amateur Musicians, lent to the day a charming spirit of patriotism. The Rowan Rifle Guard went out on the Western Train, in the morning, for the purpose for target shooting, as we understood; but, it turned out that they went to Statesville—took the Iredell Cadets by surprise, and broke the monotony of study for the young ladies at Concord College. By-the-way, our boys of the Artillery and Guard seem fond of a visit to College Hill in Statesville, as the Cadets ought to be.

On their returning in the evening, the Guard was under the escort of the Cadets, under the command of Capt. Andrews, one of the best drilled officers in the State. They paraded their several of our principal streets and fired salutes; and later in the evening, the Cadets stepped aboard the train and returned to Statesville.

Public Documents.—Our thanks are due Hon Z. B. Vance, of the Mountain District, for a copy of the report on the survey for the Pacific Railroad. Also, for a copy of his speech on the Tariff—Public Lands and Pensions. Mr. Vance bids fair to become a prominent actor in the councils of the Nation.

Found.—A fine satin vest, but little worn, was picked up on the store premises of Mr. Wm. Murphy, one day last week. The owner can get it by applying at the Counting room of Messrs. Murphy & Co.

A LIVER REMEDY.

The Liver, according to Physiologists occupies in our human economy a place second only to the heart, and consequently is one of the greatest dispensers of health and happiness or sickness and disease. To keep the Liver in a proper performance of its duties if to keep the system in a state of health, and free from nearly all bodily ills. Dr. Sanford's Liver Invigorator is a great Regulator of the Liver. It instils into it new life and vigor, strengthens it and invigorates it; clearing the fountain from whence so many streams of sickness flow. We say to all who are troubled with any derangement of the Liver, such as Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Sick Headache, Biliousness or debility of system, do not fail to try Dr. Sanford's Liver Invigorator.

Flour, receipts are good, and sales are readily made at prices quoted.

Corn, receipts are fair, but the demands exceeds the supply, and sales each day, are made off all on the dock, at full prices.

Cotton the market has a fair supply, but the article is rather heavy, there is no life to it.

Peas & Rye are received in small lots, sales at quotations.

Dried Fruit, Apples are wanted and sell readily. Peaches are neglected and difficult of sale.

Dr. H. E. Merrill, a skilful Physician of New York City.

In his remarks on Dyspepsia, says—The most effective and medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach, is that prepared by Dr. Geo. B. Green, and called the Oxygenated Bitters.

I would publish the recipe for preparing this valuable medicine, if I knew what it was, but as I do not, I can only recommend it to use. It is not to be confounded with the impurely called "Bitters," at least in the popular acceptation of that term, for it contains no alcohol or other spirits, and is rather sour than bitter. Though here, by the way, I cannot too earnestly caution the dyspeptic sufferer against using so called "bitters," the base of which is alcohol or other ardent spirits. They do more injury to the stomach, than a whip gives strength to a horse. The stimulation which they excite is only temporary, and sure to be followed by a reaction, which of length will inevitably wear out the stomach. The medicine of which I am speaking, obviates these objections.

ANIMAL FERTILIZER,

OR

SUPERPHOSPHATE OF LIME.

THE undersigned having been appointed Agent for this Valuable Fertilizer, respectfully call the attention of

to the same, feeling satisfied they will find it to their interest to use it instead of Peruvian Guano, as its properties are much more lasting, and more suitable to the soil and the growth of all kinds of grain. The Manufacturers say:

"We consider it useless to dwell at any length on the necessity of Manure in general, and shall pass over to the question not less important to the interests of farmers; which of all the various kinds of Manure is the most powerful and best adapted to the growth and yield of every soil and plant.

It is most evident that that soil will be most and permanently enriched, to which Manure returns all those substances that are withdrawn by each crop; and by comparing now all known and so much praised kinds of Manures, we must come to the conclusion that none of them answers fully to the expectations of farmers and to what they claim to be. Barn-yard Manure, owing to the negligence by which its most efficient part, the Urine, is wasted, appears in the soil as mere straw or wood-fibre, and is therefore powerless to enrich it.

Guano possesses a great disadvantage in not containing proportionally sufficient Mineral Substances, and requiring a most careful manipulation, as by the too rapid solubility of Ammonia, caused by the decomposition of Uric Acid, instead of enriching the soil, it exhausts it after the crop more outstrikes than before.

According to chemical theory and to all experience by practical farmers, our Manure is an efficient one, a fresh uncultivated soil, as in our impoverished by many crops. It returns to the soil all substances necessary for the growth and yield of the plants, in a chemical combination most fit for a quick assimilation, nourishing them with Nitrogen, dissolved from the Albumine of the blood, in the form of Ammonia. It considerably accelerates and aids the regular but slow and limited influence of the air, rain and other natural agencies.

By its Salts it neutralizes the bitter and sour substances of a fresh uncultivated soil, substances stimulating vegetation, but being detrimental to the cultivated grain or wine plants.

The Phosphoric Salts of our Manure, by their chemical combination with the Acids of the soil, become soluble in water, and supply all grain growing plants with a sufficient quantity of Phosphate, indispensable for the production of a rich crop.

Our Manure, composed of dead animal, blood, offal, and raw bones, represents the following analysis, which speaks for itself, viz:

Phosphate of Lime,	18 to 20 pr. ct.
Sulphate of Lime,	12 " 10 "
Organic Matter yielding Ammonia,	45 "
Ammonia Salts,	7 "
Insoluble undefined matter,	5 "
Soluble Salts, Chlor. of Soda, &c., Sulphate of Soda, &c.,	13 "
Water and Loss,	3 "
	100 pr. cent

Every one of our customers having found our Manure what we represent it to be—an excellent Manure adapted to every soil and crop, we seldom send it with the fullest confidence to every intelligent farmer and plantation owner who wants to secure to himself a valuable crop. 300 to 400 pounds per acre have frequently increased the yield of the crop fifty per cent."

DR. BACHMAN in his travels on the cape of Good Hope says: I found very frequently among the Dutch Boers of the back country, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which they keep hung up by a thong around the neck of the bottle to a peg over their hammocks. Indeed this seems to be their sole protection against the throat and lung disorders which are quite prevalent among them. I thought it a speaking comment on the practical genius of the American people, that they should furnish the staple, I believe the only remedy this people buy to use. Asking if they used the same manufacturers Pills, they told me that better purgatives grew all around them than any body could prepare.
