THE TRIAL OF OSCAR—HIS CONVICTION.

We have already alluded to this case, in another column. The trial assumed the whole time of the Court for three days—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

We shall not attempt a history of this trial, believing that a detailed account of such cases is unprofitable to the public...

Excitements enough for one day.—Last Wednesday was quite full enough of excitements for our usually quiet community.

A little before nine o'clock, the fire excitement having terminated, it was reported on the street that the book peddlers...

Oscar is charged with entering the house, putting out the light which was left burning for Mr. Bryant, and then getting into bed with the lady.

But Mrs. Bryant had recognized him—by his voice, by the light of the moon which shone into the window...

The case was given to the Jury about 4 1/2 o'clock, Friday evening; and after an absence of some two hours, they returned a verdict of guilty...

AN OUTBREAK.

We regret that we have to give publicity to a lawless act committed in this town on Saturday last.

The only apology we can offer for this proceeding is to be found in the present temper of Southern people, provoked and outraged as we have been...

Justice, meted out by law, seals the lips and silences the will of offenders...

Robbery.—Messrs. J. R. Cutler & Co., Jewellers and Auctioneers, of Charlotte, So. Ca., who were here since the opening of our Court...
