A MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE—RAIL ROAD COLLISION.

...Express Train ... the other just from Charlotte, bound to Raleigh, collided about two miles beyond Quarter Turn Out, the other of which they should have met, and fatal injuries have been received by some of the Road hands.

The facts, as far as we have been able to learn them, are, that the Train which left Charlotte passed two miles beyond the station, in consequence of the inability of the Engineer to shut off the steam, when the down train met in collision.

The Engines were badly smashed.

Engineer White on the down train was badly cut around the abdomen and otherwise injured; thought to be fatal.

The Engineer on the up train was slightly injured.

Two train hands—free negroes—were also injured; one of them very seriously if not fatally. Dick had both legs broken.

The passengers—a large number—with the exception of three, escaped without injury. Those three were very slightly bruised.

Rufus Barringer, Esq., of Concord, was on the train bound to Charlotte and escaped, we are pleased to state, without receiving serious injuries, although he is somewhat bruised in consequence of being thrown against the door of the car when the collision occurred.

A searching investigation will no doubt be made to ascertain why the up train was not stopped and delayed at the Turn Out. We hope it will be satisfactorily shown that the occurrence was purely accidental.—Charlotte Bulletin.

Engineer White is said to have died from his injuries.

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.

A very dangerous spurious $5 note on the Commercial Bank of this place, (save the Wilmington Herald,) is frequently sent here from the South West. The engraving is fine, and is no doubt a genuine note of some other "Commercial Bank" altered to Wilmington, N. C.

The centre Vignette is a whaling crew. On the left, 5 and ship under full sail; below it, on the right, 5, and sailor at wheel below it. The Commercial Bank has nothing like it.

A bad looking $3 note on the Bank of Wilmington has made its appearance here from the same direction. The Bank has no note below $5.

POSTAL ARRANGEMENTS.

The following Ordinance, offered by Chancellor B. F. Dunkin, has been passed and ratified by the Convention, and is now in force in and for the State of South Carolina. We commend it to all the citizens and to postmasters:

An Ordinance to make provisional Postal Arrangements in South Carolina.

WHEREAS, The State of South Carolina owes it to her own citizens, and to those of other States, that, as one of the contracting parties, she should not prevent or interrupt the performance of the pending contracts for carrying and delivering of the mails made by the U. States while South Carolina was one of said States:

We, the State of South Carolina, in Convention assembled, do declare and ordain, and it is hereby declared and ordained, that the existing postal contracts and arrangements shall be continued, and the persons charged with the duties thereof, shall continue to discharge said duties until a postal treaty or treaties shall be concluded, or until otherwise ordered by this Convention.

Suppose the Federal Government says to the Commissioners from South Carolina we won't "treat" with you, we do not recognize you as persons having any authority to treat with us; no matter what you call yourselves we regard you simply as citizens of one of the States of the Union? If the Federal authorities do their duty, this is the language which they will use.—They cannot "treat" with South Carolina without acknowledging her independence and sovereignty as a nation.—Nat. Register.

☞ A friend writing from Cabarrus County says:

"We had a meeting of a portion of the people of Cabarrus on Saturday. As it was a bad day, and the notice was only written and not extensively circulated, I, with many other Union men, refused to take part in the meeting. The resolutions, however, were not as fire-eating as I expected. I do not believe the meeting reflected the will of the people. Cabarrus is for the Union as long as it can be maintained with honor, and the Constitution is respected—but no longer.—We could get up a larger and more imposing meeting, but we do not think it necessary."

We beg leave to suggest to our correspondent that the course pursued by Mr. Barringer, the Senator from Cabarrus and Stanly, would seem to call for a full and emphatic expression of opinion from the people of those counties. Mr. Barringer is numbered here among the secessionists. It is true he does not seem to be quite ready for dissolution, but he is acting with those who are doing all in their power to bring it about. Is his course in this respect approved by a majority of the people of Cabarrus and Stanly? We do not believe it is.

We have many more letters in hand, from which we will give extracts hereafter.—Raleigh Standard.

☞ We cordially concur with our cotemporary of the Western Sentinel in the following views. Col. Alspaugh has pointed out the true policy for North Carolina in this emergency:

"As we said, we have never yet despaired of the Republic; we do not yet despair, but now that madness rules the hour in many of our sister States, we have our fears that they may be too precipitate—that wiser counsels will be overborne by the fierce and spontaneous determination of the masses to vindicate their rights at once and maintain them at all hazards and regardless of all consequences. And while we can but sympathize with the cotton States, we deplore the agitation which exists within their borders, and censure those who instead of bracing themselves against the pillars of the Constitution like patriots and statesmen, lead off precipitately in a wild disunion dance of which no one can foresee the end or compute the cost.

The position that North Carolina should assume in this threatening aspect of affairs should be, in our humble opinion, a conservative one. Let us look neither to the right nor to the left, but stand by the Constitution. Disunion as a secession is a remedy for no evil. The Constitution, it may only be enforced; let it be enforced, and we are safe. Safe, as long as it remains intact, and we are sheltered beneath its protecting ægis. In the meantime it is our duty to prepare for the exigencies which may arise in the future."

MARRIED:

In this county, on the 19th Dec., by J. Thompson, Esq., Mr. GEORGE R. RITCHIE, to Miss MARTHA ISABELLA, eldest daughter of Mr. James Thompson.

The Ad Valorem Banner,

DAILY AND WEEKLY.

A short time since I issued a prospectus for a Weekly newspaper, to be called the AD VALOREM BANNER, to be published in the City of Raleigh, N. C. The encouragement I have received, far exceeding my most sanguine hopes, induces me to issue this prospect, the object of which is to inform the public that I will on the 1st of January, 1861, commence the publication of the BANNER, not only WEEKLY, but DAILY.

So far as the Banner takes sides with political parties, it will be Democratic; but with regard to Internal Improvements, a change in our system of Taxation, and the preservation of our Constitutional Union, it will know no party, but will be a zealous advocate of all those, repudiating secret caucuses, (where the spirit of the Constitution is often violated,) packed and partial Conventions, and the scheming of would-be political demagogues and tricksters. It shall be just and fearless.

TERMS OF THE DAILY BANNER:
