PARODY.

"WOODMAN, SPARE THAT TREE."

Madman, spare that flag,
Touch not a single star;
From sea to mountain cling
Its stripes have gleamed afar;
Twice our forefathers' hand
That glory it on our lot.
There, madman, let it stand,
Lone rags shall harm it not!

That flag of Liberty,
Whose glory and renown
Are spread o'er land and sea;
And would ye strike it down?
Madmen, suspend your will,
Cut not its heaven-born ties;
Our Country's wrongs still,
Streaked with celestial dyes.

Oh Onan's wave and heath,
To battle and to blast.
Our fathers cheered beneath,
Oh gallied it to the mast;
A tear for those who fell,
For those who lived to carry,
I caught their last farewell—
Oh! do not hew it down.

Our heart-strings round thee cling,
And mem'ries o'er thee throng;
Our field and dusk thy wing
Has born a freeman's shroud!
Old flag, the storm will brave;
And Traitors, leave the spot;
While we've an arm to serve,
Your rags shall harm it not.

CONTENTMENT BETTER THAN WEALTH

"Helen, don't you wish you were that little girl riding in the grand carriage?" said little Sarah Brown to her sis, as they sat by an open window, one pleasant summer's afternoon, watching the passers-by.

"Why, Sarah?" asked Helen.

"Why, Helen, don't you see her beautiful pink bonnet, and her lovely white parasol? and, oh! dear, what a splendid silk dress! Helen, she must be very happy. If I had a frock just like that, and could ride in a carriage, how happy I should be!"

Helen and Sarah Brown were the children of a laborious mechanic in Dundee, though very comfortable circumstances.

Mrs. Brown, who was working in the back part of the room, overheard Sarah's remarks, and to correct in the bud what might in the end become a covetous disposition, called the two children to her side.

"Sarah, my daughter, are you not happy?" said the mother.

"Ah yes, mamma, I am very happy indeed," replied Sarah, somewhat surprised by her mother's question.

"And yet, my child, did I not hear you wishing for riches, that you might be happy?"

Sarah blushed as she replied:

"I was only thinking, mamma, that rich people, who can have everything in the world that they want, must be very happy."

"Listen to me, Sarah, and I will tell you a tale of a rich man; and try, my children, to take note of its moral.

"There lived a rich man at the court of King Herod. He was lord chamberlain, and clothed himself in purple and fine linen, and lived in very great magnificence.

"There came to him from a far distant country, a friend of his youth, who had been his companion when he was a simple country boy, whom he had not seen for many years.

"To do honour to his friend, the chamberlain made a sumptuous feast, and invited all his great acquaintance. There stood upon the table a variety of costly delicacies, in gold and silver dishes and costly vases with perfumes and ointments, together with wine of rarest vintage.

"And the rich man sat at the head of the table, and was hospitable to all, and his friend who had come from a distant country, sat at his right hand. And they ate and drank, and were merry.

"Then the stranger admired the chamberlain of the King: "Such splendour and magnificence as your house contains, is not to be found in my country, far or wide?" And he spoke highly of his estate, and pronounced him the happiest of men.

"But the rich man, the King's chamberlain, reached an apple from a golden dish. The apple was large and beautiful; its color was yellow, streaked with red. And he took the apple and said: "This apple has rested on gold and is fair to look upon." So he reached it to the stranger, the friend of his youth.

"The friend cut the apple, and behold in its middle was a worm! Then the stranger cast his eyes on the chamberlain; but the lord chamberlain looked upon the ground and sighed sorrowfully. There was a worm at the heart of all his grandeur.

"My children, beware of covetousness; for, as Christ hath has said: "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things he possesseth." A contented mind, a quiet conscience, a soul at peace with God—these are the true sources of happiness.

"And, now, my daughter, I want you to carry this little proverb in your heart: "Contentment is better than wealth."

The Ad Valorem Banner,

DAILY AND WEEKLY.

A short time since I issued a prospectus for a Weekly newspaper, to be called the AD VALOREM BANNER, to be published in the City of Raleigh, N. C. The encouragement I have received, far exceeding my most sanguine hopes, induces me to issue this prospect, the object of which is to inform the public that I will on the 1st of January, 1861, commence the publication of the BANNER, not only WEEKLY, but DAILY.

So far as the Banner takes sides with political parties, it will be Democratic; but with regard to Internal Improvements, a change in our system of Taxation, and the preservation of a Constitutional Union, it will know no party, but will be a zealous advocate of all those, repudiating secret caucuses, (where the spirit of the Constitution is often violated,) packed and partial Conventions, and the scheming of would-be political demagogues and wirepullers. I shall be just and fear not.

Terms for the Semi-Weekly Edition:

One copy 1 year, in advance,	$5 00
Five copies 1 " "	20 00

Terms of the WEEKLY BANNER:

GREAT EXCITEMENT AT THE HAT AND CAP

MANUFACTORY,

OF

JOHN DOOLEY.

No. 21, Main Street, Simmons, Va.,
Manufacturer and Dealer in

FUR, STRAW, LEGHORN, PANAMA, SOFT AND HOLE SILK HATS.

I HAVE now ready my Spring stock of HATS, CAPS and STRAW GOODS, to which I would invite the attention of the merchants of Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee, confident of my ability to supply them with everything they may want in my line, on as good terms as they can be procured in any market in the country.

My stock will be kept constantly full by the addition of everything new or desirable; and, having greatly increased my manufacturing facilities, many desirable styles will be of my own manufacture. My Black Moleskin Hat is still in the front rank, and is equal, if not superior, to anything produced in the country. My assortment of Boys', Misses' and Children's richly trimmed Hats and Flats of all the different styles of Braid and Leghorns cannot be excelled.

In Military Goods, I can furnish anything required. My stock of the various qualities of Army "Regulation" Hats is very complete, and any of the different styles of Hats or Caps made to order at short notice.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The Proprietors of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are signal with perfect confidence to the American and German community of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of loose assertion or blustering puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the success of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give unsolicited testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of transporting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be of enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women, who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and lately tasted the merits of the article. A few words to the gentle sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so increasing that many of them shut under the trial. The addition of another and child is an exceedingly sudden, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer months, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to restore the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other tonics, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of healthy strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, dizziness, dyspepsy, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, nightmare, restless, paroxysms of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but only the Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown in the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all Druggists, grocers and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have endeavored to preserve the full curative alterative virtues of the Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote for the diseases contagious to our climate and to the changes of season to which we are subject. It is believed that such a remedy is required by those who suffer from Scrofulous complaints, and that a medicine which will accomplish their cure must be a powerful purifier of the blood, and a thorough alterative. Such a remedy, we have reason to believe, we have produced in this Sarsaparilla. Those who have made the trial have, we think, been convinced that it is the best blood purifier that can be found in the following complaints:

Scrofula and Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas and Blotches, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Scurfiness and Dandruff, Syphilitic Affections, Mercurial Diseases, Humors in the Bones, Ulcers, Pains and Weakness arising from Inactivity of the Digestive Organs, Debility, and the various affections arising from an impure state of the blood, whatever cause it may originate, and however it may be manifested. Some complaints for which this remedy is found invaluable, are Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Pain in the Stomach, Sick Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness after Eating, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Gnawing Sensations in the Stomach, and all the morbid symptoms which arise from a disordered stomach. Minute directions for each case are found in the following pages, which should be carefully read before purchasing. Those who are afflicted with bad humors which fester in the blood at this season of the year. By the timely expulsion of these rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Keep the blood pure, and health will follow. Sores cannot exist on a pure body, for the blood cannot nourish them. Through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruption, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find it impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; elevate it when you find it sluggish and dull, and the fluids will tell you when. Rest assured that so long as the blood is foul, and your feelings will tell you when, there will be no lasting health, and few hopes for cure, whatever the skill of the physician. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but so long as the poisons of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must give way, and the great machinery of life is disordered, or worn out.

Sarsaparilla has, and deservedly has, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, pretending to be the article, because it was Sarsaparilla, or contained it, but were worthless, because they contained little or none of the curative virtues of the plant. Hence many patients have been disappointed in not finding relief from the use of Sarsaparilla, which, from the weight of evidence in its favor, they had reason to expect. To obviate this difficulty, we have spared neither pains nor expense in our endeavor to produce the best blood purifier that medical science can develop. How well we have succeeded in this effort we leave to the afflicted to say. Hundreds of certificates have come to us from all parts of the country, of remarkable cures effected by this medicine, many of which have fallen under our own observation, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given, with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on. Demand Ayer's, and take no others. The sick want the best and there is for them, and they should have it.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

has won for itself such a reputation for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidences of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people that it is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for them all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Pain, Inflammation, Rheumatism and Gout, Bilious Complaints, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.
