From the South Carolinian. THE FLEET.

MOBILE, Oct. 26.—Eleven Lincoln men-of-war, and one transport steamer, are at the mouth of the Mississippi River.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, October 30.—Official intelligence has been received here of the arrival of Mobile of a Spanish brig, loaded with coffee and other valuables, having successfully run the blockade.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, October 30.—Late New York papers report the trial progressing against the crew of the privateer Savannah. Mr. Laroque defended the prisoners. Among the grounds of defence, he urged that the prisoners were in the service of what they considered a de facto Government.

Several of the New York papers are complaining about the suppression of the truth in regard to the losses at the battle of Leesburg.

NORTHERN AND WESTERN ITEMS.

NASHVILLE, October 29, (via Mobile).—The latest Louisville papers report that seventeen regiments of infantry, and three companies of cavalry, and one artillery company, from Indiana, are now in Kentucky, numbering eighteen thousand one hundred and seventy-eight.

A despatch from St. Louis, of the 24th, says that Col. Morgan, with two hundred troops and several pieces of artillery, had a fight with four hundred rebels, in Carroll county, on the 19th, killing fourteen, and taking eight prisoners, and putting the remainder to flight.

A special despatch to the St. Louis Democrat, from Jefferson City, of the 24th, says that Col. Wagner arrived there that day, from Tippecanoe and reports that it was rumored and believed that Lane and Montgomery had intercepted McFulch, or some one assuming this name, in the attempt to join Price, and that his army had been cut to pieces.

It is reported in St. Louis that five hundred rebels have congregated at Fulton, with the design of crossing the river to burn the Orange bridge on the Pacific Railroad.

A despatch from New York, of the 24th, says that the Brig Granada, from Narragansett for New York, was captured on the 13th by the privateer Sailer, from Charleston.

Fremont gives the Federal Administration much trouble. The Cabinet met on the 23d. Some favored depriving him of his command immediately, and ordering him to Washington, to be tried by court-martial. It was left for the President to decide, who finds the question difficult to settle, involving, as it does, not only great pecuniary interests of the Government, but perhaps immediate and important military results.

Advises from Cairo, of the 24th, say that the Government steamer March Cook was fired upon, last night, by three hundred cavalry, and about one hundred shots fired into her, wounding one man. The fire was returned on the rebels. The rebels followed the boat for several miles, but she escaped.

The Memphis Appeal has reliable advices from General Price, which report him at Nashville, on the 18th. His army was in good fighting condition. McCulloch was in close proximity, and receiving large reinforcements. Their combined forces will outnumber any force Fremont can bring against them. It is the opinion that Fremont is making a desperate effort to retrieve his falling fortunes. Price's retrograde movement was strategic, and he is now amply supplied with ammunition and determined to make a stand.

Jeff Thompson has arrived at Memphis. He left his home in Mississippi on the 10th inst. He brings no news in regard to cotton. Breadcrumbs were bought and provisions sold. Consols were quoted at 92 1/2.

Washington, Friday, October 25.—The blockade of the Potomac is complete. It has been found necessary to transport the army stores by rail.

St. Johns, October 25.—The City of Washington has arrived with Liverpool dates to the 10th inst. She brings no news in regard to cotton. Breadcrumbs were bought and provisions sold. Consols were quoted at 92 1/2.

Washington, Friday, October 25.—The blockade of the Potomac is complete. It has been found necessary to transport the army stores by rail.

FASTING, PRAYER, &c. RICHMOND, Oct. 31.—The President has issued a proclamation appointing the 15th of November as a day for fasting, humiliation and prayer, by the people throughout the Confederate States.

ARREST OF PRISONERS. A despatch to the Cincinnati Commercial says that a detachment of the Forty-ninth Ohio regiment, Col. Gibson, consisting of 22 privates, under command of Maj. Drake, have returned to Muldraugh's hill from a scouting expedition, with 22 Secession prisoners.

Thus, according to their own authority, nine Kentuckians, while attending to their own business and hard at work in their wheat-field, for no crime but simply because they were for Kentucky and the South, arrested by Abolition soldiers from the North, hurried away from their families and their homes, and like common felons, incarcerated in prison.

Roanoke Island.—The following paragraph is taken from the Raleigh (N. C.) Standard, of the 23d:

This is an important strategic point for the protection of the region bordering upon Albemarle Sound, and to check any rear movement of the enemy against Norfolk. It is, therefore, of great importance that the eyes of President Davis and Governor Clark should be directed to that point.

M. & E. MYERS. Salisbury, Oct. 24, 1861.

Me. Burrus: "Should said acquaintance be forgot"? Is it not time to redeem my promise to you? Anyhow I will give you a few paragraphs from our sequestered Regiment. And sequestered it is truly so far as distance from railroads and thrifty towns is concerned.

But our location is both beautiful and pleasant. A more hilly section I have seldom seen. It is rare that there are so many hills—all so large. We are encamped on the south side of a gentle slope which runs off into a ravine that forms several of these hills, and gives us a full view of a splendid landscape towards the south.

The soil is poor here and so is nearly everything that lives on it. The people are exceedingly stingy, though I don't think it is altogether so mean for them to be so as for some other people—for stinginess is a sort of religious element in all this section. At any rate I have heard so and I'm sure that I have had no reason to doubt it. Indeed, sir, as soon as a Regiment pitches its camp in a community the population generally turns into a raving, conscienceless company of speculators.

What astonishes me most is that they can engage in so abominable a business with so much nonchalance and apparent self-respect. I detest such extortion because it makes victims of the brave sons of Carolina who are here to defend these very people and their property. As many sick as we are here—as many hundreds of times as many as a Regiment pitches its camp in a community the population generally turns into a raving, conscienceless company of speculators.
