New Goods.—We notice that our merchants are beginning to receive their Fall and Winter stocks of Goods. We suppose, however, that the scarcity of money in the country, and the apparent impossibility of times improving very materially, will restrain the purchase of heavy stocks.

Stealing Corn.—R. J. West's corn crib was visited by a rogue last Saturday night. The corn, some five or six bushels, was taken out through a hole, made by the thief, who seems to have operated with haste, and he remained to shell and bag it, and hide the cobs under the crib.

A good Un.—There are few traveling men in North Carolina who have not met with Maj., of Salisbury, in their boots; and found him to be one of the brownest "nuts" to be found in a day's ride.

ter leaving Bethany the road meets a ravine which furrows deeply the side of Olivet; from this point the top of Zion is seen, but the rest of the city is hid by an intervening ridge, and just opposite the point, on the other side of the ravine, I saw the site and the remains of an ancient village.

The procession advanced. The crown of the ridge is gained, and Jerusalem in its full extent and beauty bursts upon the view. Moriah crowned by the temple, rises proudly from the deep, dark Kidron.

FRED DOUGLAS. The following is the letter addressed by Fred Douglass, the negro, to a Rochester white black man, announcing his acceptance of the appointment as delegate to the Philadelphia Convention:

FATTENING CATTLE. John Johnson wrote the Country Gentleman that he feeds his cattle on all the hay they will eat, with four quarts each of corn meal and oil meal daily.

BUTLER OVER A GLASS OF WINE. We learn that the following little incident, really took place the other day: Gen. Ben. Butler (who was bottled up at Bermuda Hundred by Beauregard) had a distinguished friend at dinner and brought out before him some of the best wines in the house.

CHEERING PROSPECT IN ILLINOIS. The Chicago Times thinks Illinois will send eight, and perhaps nine, representatives to the next Congress, who support the president's policy.

The New York Evening Post says that there is not a paved street in New York where it is safe for a man to drive at a rate above a walk a horse that he values.

THE ARREST OF GEN. MAHONE. The disgraceful measures instituted against Gen. Mahone, who at present fills the position of President of the Norfolk and Petersburg railroad, and which finally led to his arrest and incarceration in a jail in New York, on the 31st of August last, have aroused the just indignation of his friends, and all who have followed him through his brilliant career.
