DEBATES

OF THE CONVENTION.

WE are at length enabled to announce the publication of the "Proceedings and Debates of the Virginia Convention for 1829-30." The public may rest assured that we have spared no pains to make the volume as perfect as possible. We regret that the publication has been delayed longer than was expected; but the delay, perhaps, may have added to its value, as many of the speeches have been revised by the members, and many of the debates are now published for the first time. We may repeat, in the words of the Preface, that "If the volume we now lay before the public be not complete, we are sure, at least, that it is valuable; and we may be, perhaps, excused the harmless vanity of expressing our surprise, that instead of not doing more, we have done so much!" When we determined on the publication, we had no idea that the work would exceed 600 pages; but we have been greatly disappointed, as this volume contains 924 pages, large octavo, closely printed on brevier type, handsomely executed, and on good paper. It contains about as much matter as 2000 pages 8vo. in small pica type—equal to four volumes of 500 pages each! It is, in truth, as complete a history of all the Proceedings of the Convention, as well as a Register of all the Debates, as could well be obtained. It gives most of the views, as well as much of the wisdom and the eloquence, of most of the distinguished men in Virginia, upon the greatest subjects, which can engage the attention of men in society; the foundation of government, and the elements which should enter into the composition of its various departments.

We have always felt the strongest disposition to present this volume to the public at as low a price as possible—yet, in order to indemnify ourselves for the heavy expences we have incurred, and the risks we have run, it is impossible to fix the price at less than $4 for handsome calf binding, and $3 50 in boards. This is considerably below the price suggested by our booksellers—and upon comparison, we may fearlessly pronounce, that it is infinitely the cheapest book ever published in the State of Virginia—or, perhaps, in any other State. If we may judge by our Subscription List, the No. of copies now printed, may fall short of the demand—and, therefore, it may be advisable for those who wish to secure a copy, to make early application.

Our distant friends will perceive that the book is too large to be transmitted by mail—their orders, by private conveyance, will be promptly attended to, if accompanied with the Cash, which in a transaction of this description, is an indispensable article.

New Prospectus.

THE EDITOR

Has already announced in a card to his readers, his determination to issue proposals for improving and enlarging the

Old Dominion,

SO soon as a sufficient number of additional substantial subscribers shall be obtained, to justify the undertaking. For this purpose, the present prospectus is issued. The Old Dominion, it is, perhaps, useless to say, will continue to advocate and defend sound republican doctrines, and will support the existing pure and patriotic administration, in all measures having for their object the maintenance of the great principles of '76 and '98-'99. While the Old Dominion will be thus republican in character, its Editor will not engage in a blind partisan warfare, and, losing sight of principle, support any man, or set of men, however exalted their talents or prominent their situation in life. Although the Old Dominion will continue to be, as formerly, uniform and undeviating in its public course, yet it will not be exclusively political. The additional room which it will possess, when it shall be enlarged, will enable the Editor to render its columns more acceptable to the public, in many respects. When the proposed enlargement shall take place, the Editor would wish to consult every taste and feeling, which shall not militate against his political principles. He will not make any labored protestations, but thinks he can promise to render the Old Dominion, should success attend his present undertaking, a vehicle of varied and valuable information, equal in general interest to any other paper in Virginia. He deems any additional remarks superfluous. He is known—he hopes well known—not only in Petersburg, but in this section of country generally; and to the liberality and discernment of the people, he submits his Prospectus and his hopes.

The terms of the Old Dominion, when enlarged, will be Four Dollars per annum, if paid in advance, or Five Dollars at the expiration of the year. Subscription papers will be forwarded to a number of Postmasters and other gentlemen in this State, North-Carolina, &c. whose kind aid is solicited by the Editor.

EDW'D PESCUO.

Petersburg, Va. Aug. 7.

Richmond Meeting.—On Tuesday night 7th inst. a numerous meeting of the citizens of Richmond was held in the Capitol, at which it was decided that a Public Procession be had on Saturday next, after which an oration will be delivered in the Capitol by Wyndham Robertson, Esq.—and a general illumination of the city recommended the same evening, in celebration of the late glorious revolution in France.

French Revolution.—The Fredericksburg Arena observes: The analogy between the histories of the Stuart and Bourbon families has now been fully completed, and is indeed most curious—Charles the first loses his head, ditto Louis the 16th. A government, republican in its character, is established in both countries, and lasts for about the same length of time. A restoration takes place in the person of the son of Charles and the brother of Louis; these are succeeded by their respective brothers, who alike deaf to the voice of experience, and unchastened by misfortune, hold the same absurd notions of indefeasible right, and are guilty of the same foolish and gratuitous tyranny. The people rise in the majesty of their strength, and James 2d and Charles the 10th are driven from their thrones. The time which elapses from the restoration to the expulsion of each dynasty is of nearly equal length. In short, whether we regard the character of the individuals, or the incidents of their lives, the most striking and wonderful historical coincidences are apparent.

Fraud in Cotton.—The Intelligencer printed at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, mentions that the merchants of that place, have recently entered into an agreement to prosecute, in every instance where fraud is discovered to have been practised in packing cotton; and pledging themselves jointly to defray the expences of prosecution. This measure has been adopted in consequence of several frauds of the kind having been detected at that place, and which had heretofore suffered to pass, on the seller making up the deficiency. One or two cases of prosecution will probably put an end to the practice, which grew and waxed bolder upon the lenity observed towards those guilty of it.

Arrest.—Milo Mower, formerly editor of the Liberal, was arrested at New Orleans, on the 19th ult. for the publication of a seditious circular, addressed to the free people of color.

Education begins a gentleman, conversation and good manners complete him.
