PAMBOIBO

解 minn  miny  $\pm \mathbf{m a n}$  Wiscellaneous．

Hpas

nemit
（4）tino puan amerotion a fired．

Wid bididy，proudly I can say，
Thed were mumt ruly madt：

 To prison straight must fo．
Thers shall not trumph iol my fall，

$\qquad$

GOING A－FISHING．

Mr．Fitzgig was a valiant ba

muarriage noose will make yon frem

og Miss Seraphina Serena len she took a cat by the Wrling it two or three times izzing and crashing through， Window into the street．The his abiluy to make a good wife

Su what is there by sea or land That can a wayward woman stand？

las，for Fitzgig！Fiery ladies f poney－but tame them if $y$ o

Cilzgig，in two weeks，was met－ had．＂He struggled hard；but m going out of to－morrow，my lown a fish－ Hagig，as he buckled on his Norning；but I＇ll be back arling，snon the next day．＂ slirieked Mrs．Fitzgig，as she sa upright in the bed：＂I se Wrs Fired！I say tired！＂ nest，lifted up a pitcher of $w$ the floor．
only ged in tremulons tone ony going a fishing．＇ Filz seized the looking ant ejaculated，with a siby

| nificant glance，＂going a fishing！＂ |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |
|  |
| No，I bel |
| fishag！＇＂Mrs．Fitz saw she had |
| made an impression．Her mili－ |
| How it op． |
| ＂Ah，you only say th |
|  |  |
|  |
| fish－and you want to sneak ofi：＂ |
| Now，Fitz looked con |
| trirken． |
| strirken． |
| Mr．Fitz，＂said slie，and crash |
| went the mirror against the wall． Mrs．Fitx commenced dressing， |
|  |  |
|  |
| rled the lamp at |
| the delights of wedded love，which |
| graced the walls，and，with un－ |
| ashed face，slammed the door |
| d marched down stairs，repeat－ |
|  |  | Fizz sat on the sile of the bed sneaked down．At length he

＂Good morning，Mr．Fitzgig－
 want my breaklast＂＂
＂No breakfast bere，Mr．Fitz
gig．Sally ant Thomat gone－tone a fishing，Mr Filz－ gig．if you wan brealfast，get viously broken by the breakage of the brittle ware up stairs，had lit tle spirits left－and punishiug him in the breal－basket was attaching sued her the tenderest part．He sureness，and，af－ ter two hours solicitation，slee suf－ fered him to kiss her unwashed Fitr was thus changed at once into＂only my hushand＂－the tumblest of all humble animals． He fetches and carries，goes er rands，logs banboxes and bondles， and smirhs and looks dutiful． Before he was booken in，he used now and then to grunble and get sulky；but then Mrs．F．wa wont to give him such a look，and whisper in so stern a voice－Do you want to go a fishing，Air Dr．Franklin＇s Wife．－Frank－ lin，in a sketch of his lite and liab－ its，relates the following anecdote its，relates the following anecdot A wife could scarcely make pretier apology for parchasin her first piece of laxury．
e have an English proverb

＂He that wonld thrive

was locky for me that I had one as much disposed to industry and me cheerfally in my business，fol－ ding and stitching pamphlets，ten ragg shop，purchasing old line rags for the paper makers，\＆c We kept no idte servant；our ta he was plain and simple，our fur tance，my breakfast was for long time bread and milk，（n y earthen porringer，with a pew will enter families，and make progress in spite of principle；be ng called one morning to break Gast，I found it in a china bowl with a spoon of silver．They had been bought for me without my cost her the enormous sum three and twenty shillings，fo which she had no other excuse or which she had no other excuse o apology to make，than that she thought her husband deserved inver spoon and chima bowl well as any of his neiglibors This was the first appearance of plate or china in our house，which afterwards，in the course of years， as our wealth increased，augment ed gradually to several hundred pounds in value．

Crime－－th is a remarkable fac are single men．The record says he fewer crimes there will be．H contends that marriage render The father of a fanily，is not will ing to blush before his children．
Daughters．－－Let no father im patiently look for sons．He ma bolduess and mascoline energy and moral or martial achieve ments；but ten to one he will mee with little else than forwarduess reckless imperiousuess and ingra titude．＇Father give me the por tion which falleth to me，＇was the gate prodigal who had been in－ ulged from his childhood．This sands；the painter who drew hi Bortrait，paututed for all posterity he rose leaf about the stem to the parent home，and the parenta hade，and deprecates the slightes not ou forthidden pleasure ground rings not the heart at home with recks not the hopes to which ear y promises have given birth，n the chosen object．Wherever the son may wander in search of daughter within the sacred templ nermost sanctuary，keeping alive the flame of domestic affection and blessing that existence of Fron：the＂Sayings and Doings of The Yankee Lawyer and the Quaker．－．－I cues＊you＇ve vever see the great Daniel Webster，he？ a great man，I teil you；King Wil mam，No．4，I guess，would be no taik him out of sight in half a of Commons，I reckon he＇d make pretty streaked；he＇s a patrint and $\qquad$ There was a Qua－ hough．This Quaker，a pretll knowin＇ofd shaver，had a cause Do Daniel to hire hime to go down and plead his cause for him； says he，＂Lawyer Webster，what your fee？＂＂Why，＂says Daniel， let me see； 1 have got lown south to Washington， plead the great insurance the Hartiond Company； lend the Convention；and I don see how I can go to Rhode Blan without great loss and great fa tigue；it would cost you，may be more than you would be willing to give．＂Well，the Quaker look－ ed pretty white about the gills，年 you，when he heard thas：for he could not do vithout him no liminary talk of his at all；at last he made bold to ask him the worsi of it，what he would take？ ＂Why，＂says Daniel，＂I always liked the Quakers；they are a qui－ et，peaceable people，who neve go to law if they can help it，and it would be better for our great country if there were more such people in it．I＇ll go for you as ow as I can afford；say 1000 dol－ ars．＂The Quaker well nigh was pretty deep too；so says he Loney；but I have more deal there；if I give you the 1000 dol － lars，will you plead the other case

I shall have to give you？＂＂Ye says Daniel，＂I will，to the be of my tumber of my humble abiitities．＂S，St
down they went to Rhode Itand
and Daniel tried the case and it for the Quaker．
ried the case Well，the Quaker，he gnes round Court，and says he，＂What wil vou give me if 1 get the great Daniel to plead for you？It cos me 1000 for a fee；but now he and I are pretty thick，and，as he is on the spot，I d get him to plead cheap for you；＂so he got 300 dollars from one，and 200 from 1100 dollars；jist 100 dollars more than ho gave．Daniel was ＂What，＂said be，＂do you think 1 like a horse to hire＂＂＂Friend Daniel，＂said the Quaker，＂didst thou not undertake to plead all such cases as I should have to give thee？If thou with not stand to thy agreement，weilher will stand to mine．＂Daniel langhed out，ready to split his sides，at this． as well，stand still，for you might he bridle on this time，for ， have fairly piuned me up in a c ner of the fence，any how；＂ went good humoredly and pleaded them all． Premium．－The editor of Philadelphia Botanic Sentinel of－ fers a premium of One Hundred Dollars for the best written essay in the nature of a critical exami－ nation of the question－＂Are the discoveries of Dr．Thomson in the healing art，of any practical hen－ ariter must be a graduate of some the essay must contallege，and Uran fifty nor more than one hun－ dred and fifty common duodec mo pages．

Dentistry．－The Courier \＆En－ quirer，and the Mirror，both have onstruction of artificial teeth by Mr．Leavitt，Surgeon Dentist， more thau ordinary attention，be－ cause it is remarkable for its nov－ clty and utility．The complica－ ted machinery of springs，liga－ tares，gold plates，\＆c．\＆c．are all dispensed with，and atmospheric pressure is substituted，which ena－ used with perfect ease for all pur－ poses of firm mastication，without any unpleasant metallic taste fron the metal or complication in the management of springs and ma－ 0 The rumored discovery of county，Virsimia，turns out to be hoax，as might have been antici pated．The doubloons are all counterfeits．－ib．

Extraorlinary Fact．－It w Dr．Currie，the accomplished

 ographer of Burns，who first re commended cold immersion in ca ses of fever，more particularlywhere the type takes the name scarlet．The suggestion，we be－ and the public naturally enoug revolted at the idea of enoug patient from his warm bed and bath，whether under cover or the open air．But the practice and many striking recoverie were accomplistied by a remedy which to many seemed worse than likely to kill than cure．Stiil so peculiar a mode of treatment part of the practitioner，and tho not of the faculty，we have alway anderstood that it was in a certain Dr．Currie himself considered it

