TARBORD

PIRIESS.

Whole No. 673.

Tarborough, (Edgecombe County, N. C.) Saturday, September 16, 1837.

Vol. XIII - No. 37.

The "Turborough Press," BY GEORGE HOWARD.

mblished weekly at Two Dullars and Direct Dollars at the expiration of the iption year. For any period less an year, Twenty five Cents per mouth hers are at liberty to discontinue or time, on giving notice thereof and ag arrears-those residing at a disce must tovariably pay in advance, or es responsible reference in this vicinity. Advertisements not exceeding 16 lines length (or a square) will be inserted at cents the first insertion and 25 cts. each nuance. Longer ones at that rate every square. Advertisements must d or they will be continued until other se ordered, and charged accordingly. Letters addressed to the Editor must be st paid, or they may not be attended to.

Discellaneous.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE. Fellow-Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives :

que the use of such of them as good of the country. should at any time refuse to revisory powers over the subject.

der it certain that this deficiency recommend them. will occur, if additional means be The history of trade in the not provided by Congress.

ther direction.

tion of Congress.

then in specie or its equivalent, dred and forty millions, and the unprecedented expansions of the but, although advocates of each to anticipate the proceeds of pro-prohibited the offer of any bank loans and discounts to more than systems of credit. A reference to system are still to be found, it is perty actually transmitted. Bills into gold or silver at the will of the holder; and the ability of the to be added the many millions of in circulation in Great Britain, by ed the desire, long existing among well deserve all the encourageposite, to meet its engagements in eign loans, contracted by the the years 1834, 1835, and 1836, to separate the fiscal operations of to them. Another class is made was rendered very doubtful by the event to which I have referred.

Sensible that adequate provisions for these unexpected exigencies could only be made by Cong. ess; convinced that some of them would be indispensably necessary to the public service, before the regular period of your meeting; and desirous also to enable you to exercise, at the earliest moment, your full constitutional powers for the relief of the country, I could not, with propriety, avoid subjecting you to the inconvenience of assembling at as early a day as the The act of the 23d of June, state of the popular representation $36, regulating the deposites of would permit. I am sure that I the public money, and directing have done but justice to your feelthe employment of State, District, ings, in believing that this inconand Territorial banks for that pur- venience will be cheerfully encounnose, made it the duty of the Sec- tered, in the hope of rendering retary of the Treasury to discon- your meeting conducive to the

During the earlier stages of the deem their notes in specie, and to revulsion through which we have substitute other banks, provided a just passed, much acrimonious dissufficient number could be obtain- cussion arose, and great diversity ed to receive the public deposites of opinion existed, as to its real upon the terms and conditions causes. This was not surprising. therein prescribed. The general The operations of credit are so diand almost simultaneous suspen- versified, and the influences which sion of specie payments by the affect them so numerous, and often banks in May last, rendered the so subtle, that even impartial and performance of his duty impera- well-informed persons are seldom live, in respect to those which had found to agree in respect to them. been selected under the act; and To inherent difficulties were also made it, at the same time, imprac- added other tendencies, which ticable to employ the requisite were by no means favorable to the number of others, upon the pre- discovery of truth. It was hardly scribed conditions. The specific to be expected, that those who disregulations established by Con- approved the policy of the Govgress for the deposite and safe ernment in relation to the currenkeeping of the public moneys, cy, would in the excited state of having thus unexpectedly become public feeling produced by the ocinoperative, I felt it to be my duty casion, fail to attribute to that polto afford you an early opportuni- icy any extensive embarrassment y for the exercise of your super- in the monetary affairs of the country. The matter thus became I was also led to apprehend connected with the passions and that the suspension of specie pay- conflicts of party; opinions were nents before existing in the pecu- considerations; and differences mary affairs of the country, would were prolonged which might so far diminish the public revenue, otherwise have been determined that the accruing receipts into the by an appeal to facts, by the ex-Treasury, would not, with the re- ercise of reason, or by mutual conserved five millions, be sufficient cession. It is, however, a cheerto defray the unavoidable expen-ing reflection, that circumstances ses of the Government, until the of this nature cannot prevent a usual period for the meeting of community so intelligent as ours Congress; whilst the authority to from ultimately arriving at correct call upon the States, for a portion conclusions. Encouraged by the of the sums deposited with them, firm belief of this truth, I proceed was too restricted to enable the De- to state my views, so far as may partment to realize a sufficient be necessary to a clear understandamount from that source. These ing of the remedies, I feel it my apprehensions have been justified duty to propose, and of the reaby subsequent results, which ren- sons by which I have been led to

United States for the last three or The difficulties experienced by four years, affords the most he mercantile interest, in meeting convincing evidence that our pretheir engagements, induced them sent condition is chiefly to be at-10 apply to me, previously to the tributed to over-action in all the actual suspension of specie pay- departments of business; an over ments, for indulgence upon their action deriving, perhaps, its first bonds for duties; and all the relief impulses from antecedent causes, authorized by law was promptly but stimulated to its destructive and cheerfully granted. The de- consequences by excessive issues pendence of the Treasury upon of bank paper, and by other facilhe avails of these bonds, to ena- ities for the acquisition and enble it to make the deposites with largement of credit. At the comthe States required by law, led me mencement of the year 1834, the in the outset to limit this indul- banking capital of the U. States, gence to the first of September, including that of the national but it has since been extended to bank then existing, amounted to the first of October, that the mat- about two hundred millions of dolter might be submitted to your fur- lars; the bank notes then in circulation to about ninety-five millions; Questions were also expected and the loans and discounts of the o arise in the recess in respect to banks to three hundred and twenthe October instalment of those ty-four millions. Between that leposites, requiring the interposi- time and the first of January, 1836, being the latest period to which A provision of another act, pass- accurate accounts have been reabout the same time, and intend- ceived, our banking capital was ined to secure a faithful compliance creased to more than two hundred with the obligation of the United and fifty-one millions; our paper dales, to satisfy all demands upon circulation to more than one hundations extended by foreign dealers to our merchants.

of reckless speculation engender- so a spirit of adventurous speculaed by it, were a foreign debt con- tion, embracing the whole range tracted by our citizens, estimated of human enterprise. Aid was in March last at more than thirty profusely given to projected impeople; the investment of thirty- to merchants in foreign countries; changed. should have been applied to agri- be made through a general presculture, thereby contributing to sure, and at the most ruinous sacthe expenditure of large sums in rifices. the importation of grain from Europe-an expenditure which, a seem impossible for sincere inquimounting in 1834 to about two rers after truth to resist the convichundred and fifty thousand dollars, tion, that the causes of the revulwas, in the first two quarters of the sion in both countries have been present year, increased to more substantially the same. Two nafinally, without enumerating other world, enjoying but recently the injurious results, the rapid growth highest degree of apparent prosamong all classes, and especially perity, and maintaining with each in our great commercial towns, of other the closest relations, are sud-

the great loss of capital sustained by the banks. by our commercial emporium in for a season by the great facilties other commercial countries. of credit then existing; the disturbsures adopted by the foreign cred- immediate attention. itors of our merchants to reduce of our specie.

out the commercial world; and perity of the country.

above all, by the lavish accommo- paper currency there, as much disproportioned to the real wants of trade as in the United States. With The consequences of this redun- this reduncy of the paper currendancy of credit, and of the spirit cy, there arose in that country alnine and a half millions of dollars and all means of acquiring and Events, similar in their origin

In view of these facts, it would ted at the time, because postponed history of the revulsion in all law of June, 1336; and the mea- out the objects which call for your instrumentality in producing the to prescribe the terms of indul- terfere. They can never justify present state of things, the devel- gence, and the mode of settlement the creation of an institution to opments subsequently made, and to be adopted, as well in collecting promote such objects. On the the actual condition of other com- from individuals the revenue that contrary, they justly excite among mercial countries, must, as it seems has accrued, as in withdrawing it the community a more diligent into me, dispel all remaining doubts from former depositories, and to quiry into the character of those upon the subject. It has since ap- devise and adopt such further mea- operations of trade, towards which peared that evils, similar to those sures, within the constitutional it is desired to extend such pecusuffered by ourselves, have been competency of Congress, as will liar favors. experienced in Great Britain, on be best calculated to revive the enthe continent, &, indeed, through- terprise and to promote the pros- bear the name of domestic exchan-dividuals or corporations.

amounted to only four and a half of business, and to every quarter lessons of experience must be formillions; the creation of debts, to of the globe. The re-action was gotten, if we suppose that the prean almost countless amount, for proportioned in its violence to the sent overthrow of credit would place to place, the Government is real estate in existing or anticipat- extraordinary character of the have been prevented by the exis- on the same footing with the pried cities and villages, equally un- events which preceded it. The tence of a national bank. Prone- vate citizen, and may resort to the productive, and at prices now seen commercial community of Great ness to excessive issues has ever same legal means. It may do so to have been greatly dispropor- Britain were subjected to the great- been the vice of the banking sys- through the medium of bills drawn tionate to their real value; the ex- est difficulties, and their debtors in tem; a vice as prominent in Nation- from itself, or purchased from penditure of immense sums in im- this country were not only sudden- al as in State institutions. This others; and in these operations it provements which, in many cases, ly deprived of accustomed and ex- propensity is as subservient to the may, in a manner undoubtedly have been found to be ruinously pected credits, but called upon for advancement of private interests constitutional and legitimate, faciimprovident; the diversion to other payments, which, in the actual in the one as in the other; and litate and assist exchanges of indipursuits of much of the labor that posture of things here, could only those who direct them both, being viduals founded on real transacprincipally guided by the same tions of trade. The extent to views, and influenced by the same which this may be done, and the motives, will be equally ready to best means of effecting it, are enstimulate extravagance of enter- titled to the fullest consideration. prise by improvidence of credit. This has been bestowed by the How strikingly is this conclusion Secretary of the Treasury, and sustained by experience. The his views will be submitted to you Bank of the United States, with in his report. the vast powers conferred on it by than two millions of dollars; and, tions, the most commercial in the Congress, did not or could not prevent former and similar embarrassments; nor has the still greater strength it has been said to posluxurious habits, founded too often denly, in a time of profound peace, abled it, in the existing emergency, States, and to provide a general on merely fancied wealth and de- and without any great national dis- to check other institutions, or even standard of value, or medium of trimental alike to the industry, the aster, arrested in their career, and to save itself. In Great Britain, exchange, in gold and silver; but resources, and the morals of our plunged into a state of embarrass- where, it has been seen, the same it is not its province to aid indiment and distress. In both coun- causes have been attended with viduals in the transfer of their It was so impossible that such a tries we have witnessed the same the same effects, a national funds, otherwise than through the ments, increasing the embarrass- more or less affected by political state of things could long continue, that the prospect of revul- other facilities of credit; the same ter than are asked for by the warm- fice Department. As justly might sion was present to the minds of spirit of speculation; the same par- est advocates of such an institu- it be called on to provide for the considerate men before it actually tial success; the same difficulties tion here, has also proved unable transportation of their merchancame. None, however, had cor- and reverses; and, at length, near- to prevent an undue expansion of dise. These are operations of rectly anticipated its severity. A ly the same overwhelming catas- credit, and the evils that flow from trade. They ought to be conduct-

The various transactions which ges, differ essentially in their nathat in other countries, as well as For the deposite, transfer, and ture, operation, and utility. One in our own, they have been uni- disbursement, of the revenue, Na- class of them consists of bills of formly preceded by an undue en- tional and State banks have always exchange, for the purpose of translargement of the boundaries of with temporary and limited excep- ferring actual capital from one trade, prompted, as with us, by tions, been heretofore employed; part of the country to another, or jurious, and have served only to four hundred and fifty-seven mil- the amount of banking capital, apparent that the events of the last of this description are highly uselions. To this vast increase are and the issues of paper credits put few months have greatly augment- ful in the movements of trade, and credit, acquired by means of for- banks, and in other ways, during the people of the United States, ment which can rightfully be given States and State institutions, and, will show an augmentation of the the Government from those of in- up of bills of exchange, not drawn to transfer actual capital, nor on Again to create a national bank, the credit of property transmitted, as a fiscal agent, would be to dis- but to create fictitious capital, parregard the popular will, twice so- taking at once of the character of lemnly and unequivocally express- notes discounted in bank, and of ed. On no question of domestic bank notes in circulation, & swelpolicy is there stronger evidence ling the mass of paper credits to that the sentiments of a large ma- a vast extent in the most objectionjority are deliberately fixed; and able manner. These bills have millions of dollars; the extension provements; large investments I cannot concur with those who formed, for the last few years, a to traders in the interior of our were made in foreign stocks and think they see, in recent events, a large proportion of what are termcountry of credits for supplies, and loans; credits for goods were proof that these sentiments are, or ed the domestic exchanges of the greatly beyond the wants of the granted with unbounded liberality a reason that they should be, country, serving as the means of usurious prefit, and constituting the most unsafe and precarious pain unproductive public lands, in employing credit were put in ac- and character, have heretofore per in circulation. This species the years 1835 and 1836, whilst tive operation, and extended in frequently occurred, without proin the preceding year the sales their effects to every department ducing any such change; and the foregreen and the people.

But it was not designed by the Constitution that the Government should assume the management of domestic or foreign exchange. It is indeed authorized to regulate by sess, under its present charter, en- law the commerce between the concurrence of circumstances ina- trophe. The most material differ- it. Nor can I find any tenable ed by those who are interested in dequate of themselves to produce ence between the results in the ground for the re-establishment of them, in the same manner that the such wide-spread and calamitous two countries has only been, that a national bank, in the derange- incidental difficulties of other purembarrassments, tended so greatly with us there has also occurred an ment alleged at present to exist in suits are encountered by other to aggravate them, that they can- extensive derangement in the fis- the domestic exchanges of the classes of citizens. Such aid has not be overlooked in considering cal affairs of the Federal and country, or in the facilities it may not been deemed necessary in other their history. Among these may State Governments, occasioned by be capable of affording them. Albe mentioned, as most prominent, the suspension of specie payments though advantages of this sort the domestic as well as the foreign were anticipated when the first vate houses, often, if not general-The history of these causes and Bank of the United States was ly, without the assistance of banks. the fire of December, 1835-a loss, effects, in Great Britain and the created, they were regarded as an Yet they extend throughout disthe effects of which were underra- United States, is substantially the incidental accommodation; not one tinct sovereignties, and far exceed which the Federal Government in amount the real exchanges of was bound, or could be called up- the United States. There is no The present and visible effects on, to furnish. This accommoda- reason why our own may not be ing effects, in our commercial ci- of these circumstances on the ope- tion is now, indeed, after the lapse conducted in the same manner, ties, of the transfers of the public rations of the Government, and on of not many years, demanded from with equal cheapness and safety. moneys required by the deposite the industry of the people, point it as among its first duties; and an Certainly this might be accomomission to aid and regulate com- plished, if it were favored by those mercial exchange, is treated as a most deeply interested; and few They are-to regulate by law ground of loud and serious com- can doubt that their own interest, their debts, and to withdraw from the safe keeping, transfer, and dis- plaint. Such results only serve to as well as the general welfare of the United States a large portion bursement, of the public moneys, exemplify the constant desire, the country, would be promoted to designate the funds to be receiv- among some of our citizens, to en- by leaving such a subject in the However unwilling any of our ed and paid by the Government; large the powers of the Govern- hands of those to whom it propercitizens may heretofore have been to enable the Treasury to meet ment, and extend its control to sub- ly belongs. A system founded on to assign to these causes the chief promptly every demand upon it; jects with which it should not in- private interest, enterprise and competition, without the aid of legislative grants or regulations by law, would rapidly prosper; it would be free from the influence of political agitation, and extend the same exemption to trade itself; and it would put an end to those complaints of neglect, partiality, injustice, and oppression, which are the unavoidable results of interference by the Government, in the proper concerns of individuals. All former attempts on the part of the Government to carry its legislation, in this respect, further than was designed by the Constiution, have in the end proved in-