POETRY.

[SELECTED]

SPEAK GENTLY.

Speak gently!—it is better far
To rule by love, than fear—
Speak gently—let not harsh words mar
The good we might do here!
Speak gently! Love doth whisper low
The vows that true hearts bind;
And gently friendship's accents flow;
Affection's voice is kind.
Speak gently to the little child!
Its love be sure to gain;
Teach it in accents soft and mild:—
It may not long remain.
Speak gently to the young, for they
Will have enough to bear—
Pass through this life as best they may,
'Tis full of anxious care!
Speak gently to the aged one,
Grieve not the care worn heart,
The sands of life are nearly run,
Let such in life depart!
Speak gently, kindly to the poor;
Let no harsh tone be heard;
They have enough they must endure,
Without an unkind word!
Speak gently to the erring—now
They must have toiled in vain;
Perchance unkindness made them so;
Oh, win them back again.
Speak gently!—He who gave his life
To bend man's stubborn will,
When elements were in fierce strife,
Said to them, "Peace, be still."
Speak gently!—'tis a little thing
Dropped in the heart's deep well;
The good, the joy, which it may bring,
Eternity shall tell.

MISCELLANY.

From the Raleigh Star.

Unpleasant if true—The Hon. Ben Hardin, Secretary of State of Kentucky has been compelled to leave Frankfort, from fear of popular violence. The Cincinnati Gazette says he had sent to his care, from near Bardonia, a country girl to learn the milliners' business. He put her in a brothel, intending, as is supposed, to pollute her there. The citizens of Frankfort found out Mr. Hardin's base intentions, and drove him out of the city as they would some common scullion. It was hard to keep his back free, we learn from a coat of tar and feathers. They served him right. Any man guilty of so brutal an attempt, and more especially upon an ignorant unsuspecting stranger sent to his care, ought to be driven beyond the haunts of civilized man.

From the Raleigh Register.

Cats and Babies.—The "Pottsville Journal" states that a woman left her infant on the bed, while she went down stairs to attend to some domestic duties, and on returning she found a large cat lying upon the infant's breast, with its head near the child's mouth, as if in the act of sucking its breath. Upon examination the child was discovered to be dead, having met its death in this most extraordinary and distressing manner.

From the Newbernian.

The late eccentric John Randolph of Roanoke, by his last will and testament emancipated his slaves, 400 in number, and appropriated $25,000 for their comfortable settlement in a free State. Judge Leigh, his executor, is now making arrangements to carry out the will of the testator.

A Mr. Irving of Maine, in indigent circumstances, has recently learned that his wife has fallen heir to an estate in Scotland worth between 1 and 2,000,000 dollars.

It is said the Townley estate in England, worth 4,000,000 pounds sterling, goes a begging for an heir. Can't some of our Towns-folks make out a Town-ley? ib.

From the N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

Rank Infidelity.—There is one class of the political Abolitionists who have run the gauntlet of radicalism and ultraism, and at last slumped to their chins in a slough of infidelity to God and man. The "Herald of Freedom," an organ of this faction, published at Concord, N. H., gives the following infamous example of its wickedness: "Once settle it, as we soon shall, that this book (the Bible) is a human production, like every other book, the wide world over, containing, as does the nature of man who planted it, a mixture of much that is lovely and of good report, beautiful and true, with other matter, false, absurd, immoral, and gross, and all these fair fabrics of church, clergy, sabbaths, synagogues, and sanctuaries, whose only underpinning is the Bible, fall to the ground."

From the Richmond Herald.

Suspension of the True American.—This paper was established a few months ago by Cassius M. Clay, and issued at Lexington, Ky. Its avowed object was to promote the abolition of slavery in Kentucky. A recent number contained an article, violent in tone, and well calculated to promote insubordination. So obnoxious an article aroused the indignation of the citizens. A meeting was held, and a committee of three chosen to wait on Mr. Clay, and request him to discontinue the publication of the paper. He peremptorily refused, replying to the note of the committee in a strain of vituperation and menace which could not fail to increase the excitement.

A public meeting was held at the C. H., attended by all classes of the citizens, numbering from 1,500 to 2,000. An address, written by T. F. Marshall was adopted, together with several resolutions; and a committee of 60 citizens appointed to take possession of the office, peaceably if practicable. This was done, the press and types boxed up, and sent by railroad to Cincinnati, subject to Mr. Clay's order.

From the N. Y. Jour. of Commerce.

A Riotous Cow.—Yesterday morning a large cow, accompanied by her calf, was landed from one of the North River boats at the foot of Varick street, and scarcely touched the wharf, when she commenced a furious charge up Canal street, clearing the street of all pedestrians, who fled before her as fast as their legs could carry them. Unfortunately, however, a member of the medical profession, Dr. Chapman, being of rather too plethoric a habit to take himself away, "in less than no time", was overtaken by the cow, and badly gored by her. Having thus treated the Doctor, the cow continued her career up Canal street, and into Centre Market, where her ire seemed to be particularly excited by the sight of a large lady, "fat, fair and forty," Dutch built, and wearing an enormously large bustle. Whether the cow was indignant at seeing a "Christian woman, in the 19th century, disguised with an appendage of a Hottentot Venus, or whether she was instigated by a mere feeling of curiosity, she thrust her horns through the very centre of the bustle raised the lady some two or three feet from the ground, and then let her fall in the gutter, from which the lady immediately rose, apparently unhurt, and bustled off with herself as fast as she could. The cow then ran up Centre street, where a man, apparently from fright, fell down in the middle of the street, and the cow ran over him without doing him any injury. A little further on, a small bull dog attacked her, and the next moment he found himself stretched on the awning of a store door, where the cow had tossed him. She then ran up Anthony street, and was in the act of charging into an entry where some women were sitting, when she was suddenly brought to by a gallant tar, who seized her tail, lashed it round an awning post, manfully held on until a man came up with an axe, knocked her down, and cut her throat.

From the Fayetteville Carolinian.

Make your own Candles.—Take two lbs. alum for every 10 pounds of tallow, dissolve it in water, before the tallow is put in, and then melt the tallow in the alum water, with frequent stirring, and it will clarify and harden the tallow so as to make a most beautiful article for either winter or summer use, almost as good as sperm.

A correspondent of the Prairies Farmer, says, a lady of his acquaintance colors wool and woolen goods, blue, with purlane, a common garden weed—that the lady assured him was equal in every respect to the best indigo blue.

GREATLY REDUCED PRICE.
From $5 to $3 per annum.
SINGLE COPY 25 CENTS.

Prospectus of the next (or 17th) VOLUME.

THE price of the DEMOCRATIC REVIEW has heretofore been too high—not for its size, cost, and character, but for the means of tens of thousands of readers who would be glad to receive it, and among whom it is highly desirable that it should circulate. For the purpose therefore, of largely widening the range of its usefulness, and of multiplying the numbers of those to whom it may be accessible, it has been determined, simultaneously with the great reduction in the expense of the postage, to reduce its subscription price also, from Five to only Three dollars; and when several unite in subscription, to as low as $2 50, or even $2 30 per annum.

This very large reduction in the receipts (accompanied with but a comparatively small diminution of its expenses) involves, of course, an entire sacrifice of profit upon it, unless compensated by a vast multiplication of its subscribers. There will be at the outset only a small reduction in its number of pages; soon to be restored to its old number, without increase of price, when the anticipated success of the experiment shall justify it.

The Portraits of Distinguished Democrats will be continued—engraved in better and more costly style than heretofore.

The Postage will hereafter, for any distance, be only five and a half cents; it has heretofore been, for over 100 miles, eighteen cents.

We look for an extension of circulation to be reckoned by tens of thousands, as the result and compensation of this great reduction of price.—Every friend of the work, and of the Democratic principles and cause, is confidently appealed to exert himself with an active interest to procure it subscribers; both to extend its usefulness, and to carry it successfully through the crisis of this great reduction of its receipts.

Those who have paid in advance for the coming year, will receive it at the reduced rate for a year and a half.

TERMS HENCEFORWARD.

(Invariably in advance)

Single copy,	$3 00
Four copies,	11 00
Eight "	20 00
Thirteen, "	30 00

It will thus be seen that when thirteen copies are ordered at once, the price is brought down to about $2 30 each. For six months, half these rates.

These rates afford high inducements to agents and others to interest themselves to procure subscribers.

The Cash system and payment in advance must be uncompromisingly adhered to. The past relaxation of it has caused an accumulation of not far from $40,000 of debts due to the work. Hereafter, this must be wholly reformed; nor must either the most eminent political friend, or the most intimate personal one, be displeased on experiencing its application, in the stoppage of their numbers, if they neglect this rule; the vital necessity of which, at the present reduced rates, must be obvious to all.

No communications will be taken from the Post Office unless free of postage.

All communications, both on editorial and publishing business, must be addressed henceforward to the undersigned. Those relating to the settlement of the past debts due the work will be still addressed to Mr. H. G. LANGLEY, 8 Astor House, the past arrangements with whom, as publisher, have reached their termination.

Last Likeness of Gen. Jackson.

The admirable Daguerreotype of General Jackson, taken by Anthony, Edwards & Co., a few weeks before his death, has been purchased for the use of the Democratic Review. It is in the hands of the artist, and will be engraved in the finest style of mezzotint, of extra size. It is a most beautiful and interesting work, declared by Mr. Van Buren and others to give a more perfect idea of the good and great old man than any other likeness; and ought to be possessed and framed by every friend who loves or reveres his memory. Those who subscribe early will receive it as one of the regular series of Portraits.

To the Democratic Press.

Our friends of the Democratic Press are requested to interest themselves in aiding to carry the work safely and successfully through the crisis of this great reduction of price. Every Editor inserting this prospectus, with an editorial notice, (and sending a copy of the paper marked,) shall receive the Review for a year.

All the above mentioned Medicines are prepared ONLY by Dr. D. Jayne. Inventor and Sole Proprietor, No. 30 South Third Street, Philadelphia, Pa. who has no hesitation in recommending them to the community as preparations worthy of their entire confidence, and is fully persuaded from past experience, that they will be found eminently successful in removing those diseases for which they are severally recommended. For sale in Tarboro' by JAS. M. REDMOND, Agent. July 12, 1845.

Jayne's Ague Pills,

Are WARRANTED to make a perfect and lasting cure of Fever and Ague.

These Pills are put up in vials containing from 25 to 30 Pills each, and being thus excluded from the air, never deteriorate or undergo any change, and are WARRANTED, if used according to the directions, to be an INFALLIBLE REMEDY for Fever and Ague.

During twelve years extensive Practice in a low marshy district of country, where Fever and Agues were very prevalent, the Proprietor was always enabled to effect radical cures, of the most inveterate cases, by the use of these Pills.

Messrs. Jayne & Pancoast of St. Louis, Mo., found these Pills so uniformly successful in curing Fever and Ague, that they sold several hundred bottles to various persons in Missouri, Illinois, &c., agreeing to return money in all cases where they failed to effect a cure, and such was the universal satisfaction the Pills gave of their value that they were never called upon to refund for a single bottle.

These Pills may also be used in all cases where a tonic or strengthening medicine may be required. Prepared only by Dr. D. JAYNE, No. 8 South Third Street, Philadelphia.
