FEVER & AGUE PILLS.

THE success of these Pills in curing in a few hours where all other remedies have failed, and that too, in cases of twelve and eighteen months' standing—warrants the assertion, that if taken according to directions, they are a certain cure. A long list of certificates in proof of their infallibility, might be added, but those upon the directions are deemed sufficient. Try them and be convinced that they are the most effectual and certain and the very best remedy ever offered to the public, to insure a permanent and lasting cure.

Bragg's Store, Lowndes' co., Ala. } April 29, 1845. }

To Dr. G. K. Tyler:

Dear Sir—This may certify that after using many preparations for the cure of Chills and Fever, and expending some forty-five dollars in physician's bills, without any benefit, I procured a box of Dr. G. K. Tyler's Fever and Ague Pills, at one dollar, which cured me effectually, after I had suffered with this distressing and unpleasant complaint for twelve months. I have known them used in thirty cases, and not a box has failed. I believe them to be the very best and most safe and certain cure for ague and fever that can be used, and unequalled as a tonic restorative, in all debilitated conditions of the system.

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO.

Revolution in Jalisco.—By way of Brazos-Santiago we received yesterday a copy of El Locomotor of Vera Cruz, of the 5th instant, which is four days later than the advices received by the Falmouth. The news is important and confirms our former speculations and anticipations.

A revolution has broken out in the department of Jalisco. It commenced the morning of the 20th May, in the city of Guadalajara. The battalion of Lagos, followed by other bodies of military and by the enthusiastic populace, attacked the palace of the governor. The assault was so prompt the defenders had scarcely time for a single discharge of artillery, by which one man only was killed and one wounded.

The cry of the assailants was "Long live the republic, and death to a foreign prince." Some of the troops at the palace recognised friends among the assailants, and refused to fire upon them. A company from San Juan de los Lagos joined the insurgents, and soon after the soldiers composing the garrison, so general was the disaffection. Some of the leaders of the government troops were arrested, to save them from the fury of the insurgents—among others, Gen. Galindo and the ex-governor, Don Antonio Escovedo. Some further skirmishing took place between the insurgents and some troops of cavalry in the pay of the government, and preparations were making on both sides for a general engagement the next day, when Gen. Francisco Duque, who had taken the command of the government troops, proposed a parley, with a view to spare the effusion of blood.

Commissioners were appointed on each side, and the result of the deliberations was that Gen. Duque, with the officers and troops under him were to retire with the honors of war, they pledging themselves to retire at once from Guadalajara, and the department of Jalisco of which it is the capital, and proceed immediately to the city of Mexico by a route to be designated for them. They were to be provided with necessaries for the march, and were allowed till the morning of the 22d to make preparations for departure. Gen. Duque and his officers were compelled to pledge themselves that they would commit no act of hostility against the troops who had pronounced, nor against the cause for which they had pronounced. The other terms of agreement are unimportant, but the insurgents dictated all.

Yucatan.—A private letter received at New Orleans, by the schooner Joaquina from Campeachy dated the 12th ult., says that the Legislature of that State, now in session at Merida, had declared the independence of Yucatan, and her disavowance from the Mexican Republic. They style her the "Three Stars" Republic. The letter adds, that many of the most influential citizens of the State express the hope that the three stars may soon grace the folds of the star-spangled banner of the United States.

Rumored Secession of the Northern Mexican States.—The Philadelphia North American published the following account, coming from a source in Washington, entitled to credit. "Gen. Taylor has 'conquered peace' in earnest. The States west of the Rio Grande, or some of them, are supposed to make common cause with the Americans, and under their guarantee form themselves into a new and distinct republic, on the Anglo-American basis of free toleration in religion, supremacy of the civil law, universal education, and the uniform administration of justice.

A proposition has been made at Washington in behalf of a number of the leading inhabitants of Tamaulipas, Chihuahua and Zacatecas, entreating a cessation of hostilities on our part, on the ground that being equally aggrieved by the Supreme Government of Mexico, we should be the friends and allies rather than the devastators of the country north of the Tropic. All the educated classes, (including many of the priests,) are in favor of coming under the government of the United States as a provisional territory.

It is furthermore stated that the mass of the people are sick of bloodshed and misrule under the Mexican government, and earnestly solicit the protecting arm of the United States.

A newspaper has been started at Matamoras, styled "The Republic of the Rio Grande," edited by Gen. McLeod, who commanded the unfortunate Santa Fe expedition. It will be published there during the occupation of the city by our troops; and the object of its establishment, we learn, is to subserve the cause of liberty and order amongst the Mexicans.

Drought and Famine in Northern Brazil.

A letter received by a gentleman in this city, dated Aracaty, Feb. 20, gives a heart-rending description of the sufferings of the inhabitants of portions of Northern Brazil. At Aracaty, in consequence of the protracted drought, the streets were withering, and the people were famishing for want of food.—The writer says—"Should the drought continue until May or June we shall have few persons left here. They have already begun to flock to Pernambuco, the capitol; and if opportunity offers all that remain will immediately follow." The writer was at Ico on the 9th of February, and there saw families who a short time since enjoyed abundance begging from door to door. "They appeared," he remarks, "more like skeletons than any thing else. Many were dying in the streets of want, daily; and the deaths were so numerous that the amount of mortality could not be estimated." Articles of first necessity had risen to an exorbitant price.—A quarter of Flour (half a bushel) could not be obtained for less than 24 millreas or $12; and biscuits, weighing half an ounce sold for 30 reas, or one cent and a half each. Salt, which a short time previous was selling at 8 millreas, was held at 16 millreas. In the districts of Inhamum, Crato, the province of Parahyba, and the neighboring country, excepting the sea coast, the distress was great beyond description, and the inhabitants were perishing of hunger in all directions.—American.

The Cholera.—This terrible eastern scourge is reported in the European papers to be again making its way towards the west of Europe. It was said to have approached near to St. Petersburg, the capital of Russia. The rumor of its having made its appearance in Montreal is contradicted.—Wilm. Jour.

Fatal Affair.—We understand that an affair occurred at the muster ground, John Rice's, on Ivy, in Vance county, on Saturday last, in which a young man named Roberts was stabbed by Daniel Angel, and died on the following Monday. Daniel and John Angel have been lodged in jail at Burnsville, both having been instrumental in the death of Roberts. It is said the deceased was a young man much respected. Asheville Messenger.

The Louisville papers announce the death of Judge John J. Marshall, of the Circuit Court of that city. He died very very suddenly on the 3rd instant of apoplexy.

A Railway Race.—The Editor of the London Chronicle gives an account of a race between a pair of well matched locomotives, one being on the atmospheric system in which he was. We were standing (says he) at the Forest Hall station, preparing to start, when it was announced that the Dover express train was in sight! Immediately we (the atmospheric train) made preparations to start, and were just in the act of starting from rest when the locomotive train 'whisked' past us at probably some 35 miles an hour, and got about a mile ahead of us before we started. However on we went like a whirlwind, and it soon became evident that we were gaining on our rival. Three or four minutes decided the race. We passed the express train at a rate exceeding her own by 15 or 20 miles an hour. Our velocity could not then be less than 60 miles an hour.
