Dr. Tyler's Vegetable FEVER & AGUE PILLS.

THE success of these Pills in curing in a few hours where all other remedies have failed, and that too, in cases of twelve and eighteen months' standing—warrants the assertion, that if taken according to directions, they are a certain cure. A long list of certificates in proof of their infallibility, might be added, but those upon the directions are deemed sufficient. Try them and be convinced that they are the most effectual and certain and the very best remedy ever offered to the public, to insure a permanent and lasting cure.

To Dr. G. K. Tyler:
Dear Sir—This may certify that after using many preparations for the cure of Chills and Fever, and expending some forty-five dollars in physician's bills, without any benefit, I procured a box of Dr. G. K. Tyler's Fever and Ague Pills, at one dollar, which cured me effectually, after I had suffered with this distressing and unpleasant complaint for twelve months. I have known them used in thirty cases, and not a box has failed. I believe them to be the very best and most safe and certain cure for ague and fever that can be used, and unequalled as a tonic restorative, in all debilitated conditions of the system.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR THE TARBORO' PRESS.

A Toast to "THE OLD NORTH STATE."

Written expressly for the 4th of July.
North Carolina! I will toast to thee,
Thy honor and name may not fall;
Peace & happiness may'st thou always see.
Death to him whom thy name miscalls.
They may laugh and sneer at your turpentine,
And point at your naked white pine;
But let them laugh when they follow the line,
And view your glittering gold mines.
They may laugh about your "barrels of tar,"
And make all the fun that they can;
But when they are headed & shipped afar,
They bring back bright money to man.
May your lofty pines never cease to run,
As long as the poor man can toil;
His turpentine flow like the rich man's fun,
To make him love his native soil.
They may laugh at your "green tobacco worms,"
And feign to turn sick at their sight;
You are proud of them, for they feed on germs,
From which the farmer gains his might.
They may cry discount upon "your old banks,"
And say what a name for money;
Duncan Cameron stands foremost in ranks,
His bills pass like "peach and honey."
Your daughters they're like Amazons of old,
With virtue alone for their shield;
If call'd for they'd go in relief so bold,
To fight and die upon the field.
Their lily white hands that look like the snow,
Will never stand back for the sun;
And if time should call they're ready to go,
They fear not the sight of a gun.
North Carolina! feel proud of your girls,
They are worth their weight in "good gold;"
With their red rosy cheeks and dancing curls,
Never acknowledge yourself old.
Go to the farmer and look at his wife,
She looks calm, contented, and mild;
Her needle she plies—the joy of her life
Is seen in the form of her child.
Then ask for his daughter, & where is she?
Counting chickens, or feeding the pigs;
She gathers the plums herself from the tree,
Then pulls & takes her mother the figs.
If man wants a wife Car'lina's the State,
For here 'mong her pines he can find;
Just such a girl as he'd willingly mate,
To keep him contented in mind.
If man wants to flirt, just let him come here,
I think we have some of that sort;
They'll lead him along and call him "a dear,"
Until the poor fellow is caught.
And then they'll fret him, they'll please,
and they'll tease,
At last he becomes monstrous sick;
They feign to relent—he feels more at ease,
He begs—and they give him a kick.
Her sons—they are sons who honor her name,
And love to defend her in strife;
And whatever foe would sully her fame,
They boldly deprive him of life.
CONCLUSION.
Friends, we have met to celebrate this day,
So let each one fill high his glass;
Drink half to our State, and the rest we may
Drink to "our own favorite lass."

vigor. They mean to force Mexico to do us justice at the point of the sword. This then, is their design—this is their plan and it is worthy of a bold, high-minded and energetic people."

Gen. Taylor.—The correspondent of the Philadelphia North American thus writes from Washington:

The management of the war is now committed to the hands of Gen. Taylor, whose progress thus far has shown him to be eminently worthy of the destination and confidence. The plan of operations is exceedingly extensive. The force under Gen. Taylor is to March to the city of Mexico, that under Gen. Wool to subdue, should there be resistance, the provinces of Chihuahua and Coahuila, and to co-operate with Gen. Taylor; and that under Col. Kearney is to take possession of Santa Fe and to be independent in its sphere. A very large discretion is necessarily entrusted to the commander-in-chief. Written orders to this effect, it is said, of much moment have been transmitted to him for three months past.

From the Petersburg Republican.

Gen. Scott.—In the correspondence which recently took place between Gen. Scott and the Secretary of War, the Gen. comments one of his letters by saying that he received Mr. Marcy's communication just as he sat down to a hasty plate of soup. A good deal of fun has been made out of this expression at the expense of the old gentleman. An exchange paper suggests, that henceforth he be called Marshall Turcon; another wants to know if it was clam soup.

From the Raleigh Star.

General Gaines.—A Court of Inquiry, to consist of Brevet Brig. Gen. H. Brady, Brevet Brig. Gen. G. M. Brooke, and Col. J. Crane, members, and Brevet Capt. J. F. Lee recorder, has been ordered by the President to convene at Fort Monroe on the 18th July, to investigate the conduct of Brevet Maj. Gen. Gaines.

From Masatlan.—A letter to the N. Y. Journal of Commerce of the 20th May says: The political movement which I alluded to on the 29th ult. has taken place, by the garrison here pronouncing on the 7th inst. in favor of Santa Anna.

From Mexico.—By a Mexican citizen direct from Carmago, (says the Matamoros newspaper,) we are informed that the Government has ordered the immediate appearance of Generals Arista and Ampudia in the city of Mexico. The former to explain satisfactorily the causes of the misfortunes which befel the army in its late unsuccessful attempts upon the American forces—the latter no doubt, to sustain some very serious charges which he has preferred against Arista. The representations made by these two chieftains, judging from casual expressions immediately after the destruction of their united forces, differed materially. Gen. Arista passed through Monterey some twelve days ago, upon his way to the city of Mexico. Gen. Ampudia proceeded by the way of Tampico.

From the Fayetteville Carolinian.

Farmers' Journal.—We have received the first number of a small paper printed at Salisbury, called the "Farmers' Journal," by Obadiah Woodson. We are glad to see a democratic paper started in Rowan county, there having been none since 1841. From the size and improving business prospects of Salisbury, we should judge that such a paper there might be sustained by pursuing a moderate, judicious, yet firm course in politics, and using economy in the mechanical operations.
We wish Mr. Woodson success, personally and politically.

The Lewisburg (Va.) Chronicle states that 391 manumitted slaves of the late John Randolph passed through that town on the 22d ult., on their way to Mercer county, Ohio, where a large tract of land had been purchased for them. Among them was an old patriarch, aged 110 years. Some difficulty is anticipated on their arrival, the citizens being averse to their settling among them.
