Doctor Wm. EVANS' SOOTHING SYRUP

For children Teething,
PREPARED BY HIMSELF.

To Mothers and Nurses.

THE passage of the teeth through the gums produces troublesome and dangerous symptoms. It is known by mothers that there is great irritation in the mouth and gums during this process. The gums swell, the secretion of saliva is increased, the child is seized with frequent and sudden fits of crying, watchings, starting in the sleep, and spasms of peculiar parts, the child shrieks with extreme violence, and thrusts its fingers into its mouth. If these precursory symptoms are not speedily alleviated, spasmodic convulsions universally supervene, and soon cause the dissolution of the infant. Mothers who have their little babes afflicted with these distressing symptoms, should apply Dr. William Evans's celebrated Soothing Syrup, which has preserved hundreds of infants when thought past recovery, from being suddenly attacked with that fatal malady, convulsions.

POLITICAL.

French Spoliation Bill.—This bill, which the President vetoed, appropriated the sum of $5,000,000 to claimants for damages sustained by the seizure of American vessels by the French government during the war of the French revolution. It was proposed to pay the claim in land scrip. The President in his Veto contends that if the claims be just, they ought to be paid in money, and nothing less valuable. He can see no legal or equitable ground upon which this large appropriation can rest, and that if this became a law, the government would have to borrow money, and increase the public debt to pay those claims.

Gen. Gaines was still at Old Point. We learn that the decisions of the Court Martial are favorable to him, but it is rumored that a new Court is to be ordered, to meet in March next, in consequence of some irregularity discovered in the proceedings.—N. Y. Jour. Com.

Sudden Death.—We learn that some time last week, while Mr. Andrew Patton, of the Hawfields, was in his meadow with his hands at work, apparently in his usual health, he suddenly fell to the ground and almost instantly expired.
Hillsborough Recorder.

We learn that on Tuesday night the 20th instant, a Mr. William Gray, living on New Hope, in this county, went to bed without complaining of any indisposition. In the morning his wife left him in bed, supposing that he was asleep; but finding that he kept his bed longer than usual, she went in to ascertain the cause, and found him a corpse!—Fayetteville Car.

Horrible Murder in Jackson county.

Marianna, 28th July, 1846.

To the Editor of the Florida Sentinel:

Our county has been the theatre of a deed of violence, not inferior in atrocity to any perpetrated by Avant or Powers. One of our most worthy citizens, Mr. Edward C. Pittman, was murdered on last Sunday evening. The account of his death reached Marianna on yesterday morning, and many of our citizens immediately repaired to the scene of assassination. He was killed in his own house at about 8 1/2 o'clock, P. M. The instrument used was a shot gun or musket, and caused instant death. From the position of the body, and the marks of blood and shot on the wall of the house, it seems that he was seated in a chair, reclining back with his head against the wall, when he was killed. Eight buckshot took effect on the right side of his head and neck. The chair fell forward, but it appeared that his body was braced back by his feet resting on the floor, so that it did not fall from the chair but we found it nearly erect, the head having fallen considerably forward and to the right side. Seven shot were found in the wall near where his head must have rested. The murderer fired through the window, and at a very short distance, as the shot were but slightly scattered. So instantaneous was his death, that when we arrived at the scene on the next day, the newspaper which he had been reading, was still in his hands. He had no white person in his family, and there was no one in the house with him but a negro boy about ten years of age, who was asleep when the gun was fired.—His negroes immediately carried the account of his death to his near neighbor and friend, Mr. Meritt, who proceeded to the place, and found the friend of his bosom, whom he had seen but three hours before, full of health and hope, a corpse! The coroner of the county held an inquest over the body, but nothing was elicited which could lead to even a suspicion of the person who had perpetrated the foul deed. No one thinks that it was done by his negroes, for he was a kind master, and his slaves were obedient, faithful, and much attached to him. He was on the best terms with all his neighbors and acquaintances.—It was not believed that he had an enemy in the world. It was known that he had not had any difficulty or misunderstanding with any person in this county. No one had quarrelled with or threatened him.

Mr. Pittman came to this county from the State of North Carolina some eight or nine years ago. He left behind a fair and spotless name, and a large circle of warm and devoted friends. His conduct here has been such as to attach to him in the strongest manner, all those to whom he was in any wise known. He was a warm friend and indulged in no enmities. He was a kind, indulgent master, a good neighbor, and a most affectionate son. Exact in the performance of all his duties, he was in the largest sense of the term, the noblest work of God, an honest man. To his friends, his death is a grievous loss, but who can estimate the crushing weight with which this blow will fall upon his aged mother? That her dearly loved, her first born child should have met such a fate! May He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb, aid and sustain her in the day of her deep affliction.

Excitement in South Carolina—Arrest of Kidnappers.—Considerable excitement prevails in Cheraw, S. C., in consequence of a man named Dorsey, alias Carlisle, who had been arrested, confessing to a number of respectable citizens that he was cognizant of the fact that a plot had been laid for stealing or enticing away negroes from their masters; that it extended from Virginia to Texas, and that some of the most respectable citizens were engaged in it. He further stated that he had an engagement to meet one of the number the following night at Marlboro', and that those who doubted this revelation might accompany him, and satisfy themselves. A number did so, (first painting themselves black,) and permitted Dorsey to pass them off as rescued slaves. They subsequently rallied in a body, and captured the kidnapper whose name is Weatherly. He was committed to jail at Marlboro', and Dorsey at Chesterfield. Another one was arrested at Darlington. An intense excitement prevailed in the neighborhood.

John Randolph's Slaves.—The slaves of the late John Randolph, to the number of 390, having been set free by his will, Judge Leigh, one of the executors, purchased about 3600 acres of land in Mercer county, Ohio, for their use, being about from 40 to 50 acres for each family. No objection to their settlement was made when the land was sold; but when they arrived, a mob numbering several hundreds, armed with muskets, set upon them, and threatened to kill Mr. Caldwell, the agent, unless at a designated hour they were removed from the county. At the latest dates they were still encamped in the woods, 20 miles from their purchased lands. This part of Ohio has been noted for its abolition spirit. It appears, therefore, that while the abolitionists are very willing that the slaves should be set free in the South, they are not willing to receive them as neighbors. If set free, they must remain in the South, even if no employment offers. They must not be permitted to enter into the free States to better their condition. How shall we credit their sincerity?—Richmond Her.

Death of Mulholland, the long Fastener.—Captain Mulholland, whose abstinence from every kind of food, except water, created some talk last winter, was said to have died in March; but we find, by the Red River Republican, that he lived until the 7th of July, on which day he expired in the parish of Rapides, Louisiana. He went forty-nine days without tasting a particle. During this time he would allow nobody to change his clothes, or do anything with him; he could not speak; most of the time he appeared to be in a state of insensibility, occasionally he would rouse himself, when he seemed to know what was going on around him; if any person he did not wish to see, particularly a doctor, came into the room, he would look very angry.

PA have will live 10 years, a cat 10, a goat 8, a jack 30, a horse from 20 to 30, a sheep 16, a ram 15, a dog 20, a bull 15, an ox 20, swine 25, a peacock 25, a pigeon 8, a turtle dove 25, a partridge 25, a raven 100, an eagle 100.
