Dr. Jayne's Family Medicines.

Worms are swept away from the Stomach and Bowels by Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge, as by the besom of destruction. They perish under its searching influence instantly, and are expelled with the mucus in which they are imbedded. The cure is in almost all cases permanent, and if a recurrence of the disorder should take place, a few doses of the preparation will never fail to produce the desired object—for the effect does not weaken with repetition. Those who suffer from Piles or remittent fever or any complaint where a mild tonic or alterative may be desired, will find in Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge a most valuable remedy.

Still more proof.

Darlington, Beaver Co., Pa., Feb. 18, 1839. Dr. D. JAYNE.—Dear Sir.—My little son, when about two months old, was seized with a bowel complaint. It continued for two weeks without intermission, and notwithstanding the remedies prescribed by a respectable Physician, we gave up the child a victim, as we supposed, to a fatal disease. But I providentially heard of "Jayne's Carminative," as an effectual cure for bowel complaint, and immediately despatched a messenger to a town seventeen miles off for a bottle. By the use of this medicine, in less than thirty-six hours the disease was checked, and by its constant use for a few days, the child was restored to perfect health. Shortly after this, there occurred a similar case in one of the families of my congregation. I prescribed "Jayne's Carminative," and the result was a speedy cure.

The same child, owing to exposure, when recently coming up the Ohio, was attacked by that horrible malady the Croup. We landed in the night at Beaver Point, and when our fears were alarmed lest the hoarse sepulchral cough was the forerunner of death, we gave him a teaspoonful of your Expectorant, and applied some liniment to the throat and breast; and before many minutes the hoarseness was gone, the child breathed freely and slept sweetly. Owing to these circumstances it cannot be wondered at why I have so high an opinion of your medicines, and why I advise every family to keep them on hand, ready for any emergency.

Respectfully yours,

ARTHUR B. BRADFORD,
Pastor of the Presbyterian Church,
Darlington Pa.

MORNING SESSION Thursday, April 13.

The Convention met according to adjournment.

The Convention was addressed by Mr. McRae.

Senators Houston and Douglas were then conducted to seats at the right and left of the President by Vice Presidents Graves and Marsteller, the latter of whom introduced them to the Convention.

The Committee of thirteen appointed by the Convention to prepare Resolutions and to present matter for the consideration and action of that body, reported through their Chairman, James B. Shepard, the following Preamble and Resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it is proper in a Representative Government like our own, for the people to be always vigilant of their rights and interests—more especially is it so at a time like the present, when the policy and all the measures of the Democratic party, though in the full tide of success, are still insidiously opposed and attacked by the leaders of the Whig party; and whereas our country is now engaged in a foreign war, and that too with an enemy infatuated and blind, assisted and supported (whether purposely or not), by an unscrupulous opposition and party press at home; be it therefore

1. Resolved, That the Administration, in using every exertion, by persuasion and by sending to Mexico a Minister to settle by peaceful negotiation all matters in dispute, exhibited the American character in its true light; and that it is equally a part of that character, when forced to ulterior measures, never to sheathe the sword until all the objects for which it has been drawn have been secured; and regarding the Treaty (so far as we understand the terms thereof) lately approved by the President and sanctioned by the Senate, as honorable to this nation and just to a prostrate and conquered foe, we tender our thanks to those who with such singular skill devised the conduct of hostilities, as well as to those gallant officers and soldiers who so promptly executed the mandates of the civil authority.

2. Resolved, That any encouragement or countenance gratuitously tendered a public enemy in time of actual war, prompted by whatever motive, is injurious to the best interests of the Republic; and ought to be stigmatized and known by no other name than that of moral treason.

3. Resolved, That the acknowledged leaders of the opposition, by their Speeches, Addresses, unfortunate and protracted delays of the necessary supplies to carry on a war resulting from a series of murders, robberies, and other outrages, perpetrated by the Mexican nation and patiently endured by us for a number of years—and finally from a deliberate invasion of American soil, and the shedding of American blood thereon, have inflicted deep injury upon the country; that we believe the gallant achievements of our army would long since have procured a peace satisfactory to both nations, but for the double enemy we have had to encounter—the one on our own, the other on Mexican soil: and abhorring perjury, whether in public or private life, howsoever disguised, there is one sentiment in the speech delivered by Mr. Clay in Lexington to which we can heartily subscribe—and that is, that whoever "idolizes truth" should rather endure any calamity than vote for what he knew to be false; thereby commencing, prosecuting, and continuing a war (according to their own showing,) at once impious in the sight of God and detestable in the view of man.

4. Resolved, That the Independent Treasury, the Tariff of 1846, and other measures of domestic policy advocated by the Democratic party, have been so eminently successful that many of the candid as well as the cunning among the opposition, pretend to be ready to abandon what they call old issues, and now defy us to meet them on the question of the war—a defiance we are prepared to meet, and a gauntlet we most cheerfully take up; boldly pointing to a series of victories as having elevated our national character abroad, and as having hastened (what has long been smothered by arbitrary power) a Revolution in France, establishing on the ruins of the proudest monarchy in Europe a republic intended as a counterpart of our own.

5. Resolved, That while the eminent success of our domestic policy has well nigh silenced the clamors of interested partisans and office-seekers at home, the wonderful and brilliant deeds of our little army of citizen soldiers have had an important agency in precipitating a comparatively peaceful Revolution in the old world, which bids fair to secure the rich blessings of Constitutional liberty to the laboring millions of Europe; and we hereby tender to the people of gallant France our warm and most heartfelt sympathy.

6. Resolved, That the Preamble to the Resolution passed by the Whig party at the last session of our Legislature, appropriating money to the North Carolina Regiment, and in which the President of the United States is charged with having involved the Republic in the existing war with Mexico, is false, and totally unfounded in fact; that this Preamble, emanating as it did from a sovereign State of this Confederacy, was calculated by its very nature to give aid and encouragement to the public foe, and to depress the spirits of our brave volunteers; and that the authors of that Preamble, and those who continue to defend it, deserve the deepest and strongest condemnation at the hands of the people of North Carolina.

7. Resolved, That we feel bound to condemn, in the most decided terms, the conduct of the last Whig Legislature in withholding from the North Carolina Volunteers the right to elect their own Field Officers, and in conferring the power to appoint said Officers on the Governor of the State; that the Volunteers had in their own ranks men well qualified to command them, and that therefore the proposition, which was offered by a Democrat, and sustained by the Democrats as a party, to confine the Governor in his selection to the soldiers of the Regiment, was due to the Volunteers and just and proper in itself; and that the Governor of the State in appointing men to command the Regiment who had just voted in the Legislature that the war was unconstitutional, unnecessary, and unjust, acted in a manner unbecoming his position, and displayed the spirit of a bitter and determined partizan.

8. Resolved, That the act of the last Whig Legislature, commonly called the Re-Districting Bill, was inexpedient—a dangerous innovation on established usage—in a wanton violation of the rights of the people—was designed and intended to advance the selfish purposes of Whig leaders, and has no plea of justice or sound policy to sustain it.

9. Resolved, That when the Whig party first obtained power in North Carolina our State was free of debt; that by their unwise, extravagant, or injudicious use of the public monies she become involved in debt; and that this same party, with a full knowledge of the fact, in the last Legislature shrunk from meeting the danger face to face, and from providing a system gradually to relieve the Treasury of its present and prospective indebtedness.

10. Resolved, That the Congress of the United States "has no control, directly or indirectly, mediately or immediately, over the institution of Slavery"; and that we are opposed to the Wilmot, or Winthrop, or Webster Proviso, in whatever shape it may be presented.

11. Resolved, That our confidence in the President of the United States is unshaken and undiminished; that we cordially approve the policy of the Administration both in our domestic and foreign affairs; and that we tender to President Polk and his Cabinet our hearty thanks for the promptness, firmness, and boldness with which they have carried out Democratic principles and measures.

12. Resolved, That the Democratic members of Congress from this State deserve the unqualified commendations of the Democracy, for the faithful manner in which they have represented the wishes and the will of their constituents, and for their uniform and unshrinking devotion to sound principles.

13. Resolved, That having entire confidence in the ability, integrity, and sound principles of the Hon. DAVID S. REID, of the County of Rockingham, we do hereby recommend him to the good people of North Carolina as a suitable candidate for Governor at the ensuing election.

14. Resolved, That we recommend the Hon. WELDON N. EDWARDS, of Warren County, and the Hon. ROBERT STRANGE, of Cumberland County, as Delegates on behalf of the State to attend the Democratic National Convention to be held in Baltimore on the fourth Monday in May next, to nominate Candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency of the United States.

15. Resolved, That we recommend WILLIAM S. ASHE, Esq., of New Hanover County, and the Hon. ABRAHAM W. VENABLE as alternate Delegates to the Baltimore Convention.

16. Resolved, That we earnestly recommend to the different Electoral and Congressional Districts in this State to take early action in the appointment of Electors and Delegates.

17. Resolved, That the members of this Convention have heard with profound regret of the death of Col. LOUIS D. WILSON, of the County of Edgecombe; that we deplore his loss as an honest man, a brave soldier, an ornament to the State, and a public benefactor.

18. Resolved, That the President of this Convention be requested to forward a copy of the foregoing Resolutions to the relatives of Col. Wilson.

On motion of Mr. McRae, the President of the Convention was authorized to appoint a Democratic Central Committee to consist of thirteen members.

On motion of Mr. Person, the President of the Convention was authorized to appoint a Committee of three to inform the Hon. David S. Reid of his nomination for the office of Governor, and to request his acceptance of the same.

The Convention was then addressed by the Hon. Stephen A. Douglas, after which, on motion, it adjourned until half past 3 o'clock, P. M.

EVENING SESSION, 3 1/2 o'clock, P. M.

The Convention met pursuant to adjournment.

The President announced the following gentlemen as the Committee to inform Mr. Reid of his nomination, and to request his acceptance, to wit: Mr. Person of Moore, Mr. Ashe of New Hanover, and Mr. Cunningham of Person.

The President then announced the members of the Central Committee, as follows: Messrs. Josiah O. Watson, of Johnston, Perrin Busbee, Duncan K. McRae,
