DR. GORDON'S VEGETABLE ANTI-BILIOUS FAMILY PILLS.

Only 25 cents per box.

FOR the cure of Headache, Giddiness, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Piles, Heartburn, Worms, Dyspepsia, Cholera Morbus, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Liver complaint, Rising in the Throat, Fevers of all kinds, colds, Gout, Gravel, Female Complaints, Nervous complaints, and all other diseases arising from impurities of the blood, and morbid secretions of the liver and Stomach.

Every disease to which the human frame is subject, originates from impurities of the blood or derangement of digestive organs.

Dr. Gordon's Family Pills, being compounded exclusively of such ingredients as nature intended should operate on the impurities of the Human System. Strike at the root of the disease, removing all impurities from the body, opening the pores externally and internally, separating all foreign and obnoxious particles from the chyle, so that the blood, of which it is the origin, must be thoroughly pure and necessarily securing a free and vigorous action to the Heart, Lungs, Liver and Stomach, thereby restoring health, by opening the pores, cleansing the veins and arteries, unimpeding all the natural veins and purifying the blood; they render the system not only thoroughly sound, but also impervious to disease, even when all other means have failed.

Within the last twelve months, more than one hundred cases of the most aggravated forms of Dyspepsia have been cured by the medicine, where rigid dieting, the Blue Pill, and almost every other means had been resorted to without any benefit, and when death stared its miserable victim fully in the face. If Dr. Gordon's Pills were not adapted to the cure of any but this horrid malady, their uniform success in this disease alone would be sufficient to 'waft on to fame' the name of their inventor, as a benefactor of his species. This medicine never fails to cure the worst cases of piles in one week!

Bowel complaint, Colic, &c

POSITIVELY CURED BY Jayne's Carminative Balsam.

Chicago, Ill., March 27, 1845.

Dr. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir, You ask me what proofs I meet with of the efficacy of your Carminative. I can safely say that I never prescribed a medicine for Bowel complaints that has given me so much satisfaction, and my patients so speedy and perfect relief as this. Whenever introduced into a family, it becomes a standing remedy for those ailments, and is called for again and again, which I think a pretty good proof of its efficacy and usefulness. In the summer complaint of children, it has frequently appeared to snatch the little victims, as it were, from the grave. "It saved the life of my child, and of such and such a child," I have repeatedly heard said. In dysenteric affections of adults, I have time and again seen it act like a charm, and give permanent relief in a few hours, I may say in a few minutes. In fine it is a valuable medicine, and no family should be without it.

Respectfully,
M. L. KNAPP, M. D.
Professor of Materia Medica in the Laporte University, Indiana.

A scientific Medicine.

GREAT experience and judgment are equaled to make a valuable, and at the same time, innocent purgative. This is possessed only by few.

The great majority of the remedies advertised of this class are manufactured by persons who have no idea of the relative or individual powers of the drugs they use. It is this cause, more than any other, which occasions the inertness and often injurious effects, produced by advertised remedies. And hence the general prejudice which prevails against them. Now there is a great difference in this respect, with regard to the pills made by Dr. B. Brandreth, and consequently, their superior claims upon the public. Each of the articles composing the

Brandreth Pills

Are prepared in that way which will secure their beneficial effects to the system in the safest and easiest manner. For instance, some ingredients have to be prepared in the vacuum; that is, the air is exhausted in the vessel, and remains so until a combination is effected with other ingredients, which afterwards prevents the air from acting injuriously upon the medicine. Again, the proportion of each ingredient depends upon its multiplying power upon other ingredients—For the power of different vegetable purgatives upon each other is governed by similar laws that govern the power of figures by multiplication. Nine added to nine make eighteen; but nine times nine are eighty-one. So it is with some vegetable purgatives. By adding nine parts of one ingredient, and nine parts of another ingredient together, the power is increased, not to eighteen, but to eighty-one. For example, either of the articles to produce any purgative effect, would have to be used to the extent of eighty-one grains; by combining them, only eighteen grains have to be used. Again, another ingredient is found to multiply this power again, which in a proportion of two grains, would have no effect upon the animal economy; but which, added to eighteen grains of a compound of two parts of nine grains, each of two ingredients, will again multiply the power which they have gained of eighty-one, to one hundred and sixty-two. So again, the mixture of twenty grains can be again multiplied by an addition of two grains, to the power of three hundred and twenty-four grains of the original power of the two first ingredients. Here we have twenty-two grains, which as a purgative, contain the power equal to three hundred and twenty-four grains of either of the articles alone; nevertheless, also so powerful after being thus combined, are safe in any quantity—always having a beneficial effect, and in no case capable of doing injury, of which thousands bear ample witness.

Let those in any way out of health use these Pills. They will find it much to their advantage.

Beware of Oxyenterfeits! the safest course is to buy of the regular agents only.

Townsend's Sarsaparilla.

From the Wilmington Journal.

The following statistics which has been handed to us by Mr. Crandall, Messrs. Clapp & Townsend's travelling agent, will furnish the reading public some idea of the magnitude of their Sarsaparilla business at their manufactory which is erected at Albany, at an expense of seventy thousand dollars.

They prepare and put up 5,000 bottles every day; to perform this labor it requires from 70 to 100 hands. In order to supply the large quantity of bottles used, two of the largest glass establishments in the United States are kept in constant operation. This single item alone amounts to $100,000 per annum. Three Napier steam printing presses, with a double set of hands each, are constantly running on Circulars and Almanacs. They published last year 4,000,000 for gratuitous circulation, containing a great variety of useful information, besides their own advertisements. It took 50 females six months to fold and stitch them. Their Almanacs cost $30,000. Independent of all this, they publish a full column of their medicine matter in over 400 papers in the United States, British Colonies, West India Islands, and South America, where they have extensive sales; this costs them over $80,000 per annum. They have a large number of men and boys engaged in collecting root and other ingredients. Indeed all the hands they employ directly and otherwise, in making glass, paper, corks, sealing wax, packing boxes, together with their agents in selling the medicine, cannot be less than 2,000 persons. The amount of capital employed to keep all the Agents supplied, and their whole business in successful operation, is not less than 500,000 dollars.

It would seem that a medicine which has gained such a high reputation, and such unprecedented sales, swelling to the enormous sum of $600,000 a year, must possess, in and of itself, intrinsic medicinal virtues for the cure of many diseases to which the human flesh is heir to.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

From the Maine Democrat, (Saco,) June 22, 1847.

Wistar's Balsam.—A few days ago, Mr. Elijah Witham, of Sanford, in our county, being in our office, requested us to publish, for the benefit of the public, his testimony in favor of

Wistar's Balsam of wild Cherry

In the fall of 1846, Mr. W. was attacked with a very bad cold, which continued to grow worse till March, when he was confined to the house, with little hope of recovery. Hearing of he resolved to try it. He soon found relief—and after taking four bottles, was able to go out and attend to business. He ascribes his cure entirely to the Balsam, and recommends those who use it to persevere, even if they do not at once perceive any beneficial result. We are not in the habit of writing puffs for medicines, and only give this at the request of Mr. W.

Wistar's Balsam of wild Cherry

POETRY.

TRY—KEEP TRYING.

Have your efforts proved in vain?
Do not sink to earth again;
Try—keep trying.
They who yield can nothing do;
A feather's weight will break them through;
Try—keep trying.
On yourself alone relying,
You will conquer; try—keep trying.
Falter not, but upward rise;
Put forth all your energies,
Try—keep trying.
Every step that you progress
Will make your future effort less;
Try—keep trying.
On the truth and God relying,
You will conquer; try—keep trying.
Ponderous barriers you may meet,
But against them bravely beat;
Try—keep trying.
Nought should drive you from the track,
Or turn you from your purpose back;
Try—keep trying.
On yourself alone relying,
You will conquer; try—keep trying.
You will conquer if you try—
Win the good before you die;
Try—keep trying.
Remember—nothing is so true
As they who dare will ever do;
Try—keep trying.
On yourself and God relying,
You will conquer; try—keep trying.

POLITICAL.

From the N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

The Clay Festival.—The Boston Atlas, commenting upon the remarks, toasts, &c., at the Clay Dinner in this city, says:—

"Our nerves, which are not over sensitive, could not quite withstand flattery so overdone, and panegyric so overstrained, and we experienced a feeling of nausea similar to that experienced by persons whose stomachs are overloaded with the pies, pastry and sweatmeats of a cookery shop."

And again:—

"The dictatorial insolence of this small clique of New Yorkers, were it not relieved by the ridiculous position they assume, would be unendurable. As it is, they are but the laughing-stocks of their enemies, and the melancholy pity of their friends."

Take that, ye Federal-Clay-Whigs; and remember that it does not come from a Loco Foco spouter, but from a regular-built Whig mint, where no coin is approved but the genuine. There is no doubt that our Clay Whigs are very silly, and utter sentiments accordingly; but the "harmony of the party" requires that they should be dealt with tenderly, and not told all their faults at once.

Col. Fremont's Second Letter—Dreadful Details.

The National Intelligencer of this morning contains Col. Fremont's second letter, dated Taos, New Mexico, February 6th, giving further extract from his journal, of the horrible sufferings of his party. He says: "One after another, wearied and frozen, were left behind to die—others, passing onward to save themselves from cold, hunger and starvation, were compelled to eat the dead bodies of their comrades, before they become cold," such suffering was never before narrated. The latest accounts from Col. Fremont and the remaining members of his party, state that they expected to leave Santa Fe about the 17th February. Col. Fremont denies that the object of his adventure was gold.

Crowds of Emigrants.—The starting points for California on the western borders are becoming as crowded as Chagres and Panama.

A letter to the St. Louis Republican from St. Joseph, Missouri, dated 2d, says that all the towns in that vicinity are so crowded that it was with great difficulty the new comers could obtain quarters; many were occupying wagons and out-houses. The writer estimates the number which had reached, up to the 2d, the different starting points, at 2,500 persons, and were increasing by every arrival. He says that the plains cannot be traversed before the 1st of May, and advises emigrants to remain at St. Louis or other cities until then, where they could be more comfortably and cheaply accommodated. Mules could be had at reasonable prices at Independence and St. Joseph.

A Singular Case.—A very novel and remarkable suit was brought on Monday in the Dist. Court, which must, on the trial, create no little excitement in this community, as well as in Mobile.

The action is brought by Richard Valentine, of Warren county, Miss., against Mrs. Sally Andrews, wife of the late E. L. Andrews, and Mrs. Esther Abrams, wife of the late Zeligman Andrews. Messrs. Z. and E. L. Andrews are the two brothers, who, our readers will recollect, committed suicide nearly simultaneously, by drowning themselves, some time last spring, on account of the embarrassment of their house.

The petition claims $2166 74, the balance of account due on sales of cotton, and alleges that the said Z. Andrews is not dead, as his wife and the said Sally will know. That Mrs. Esther Abrams, his wife, afterwards gave out to the world, and pretending that her said husband was dead, made application to this Court for letters of administration on his estate, which was granted her. That she then combined with Mrs. Sally Andrews, who resides in the city of Philadelphia, to cheat and defraud the creditors. That the claim of Sally Andrews to $14,000 is a fictitious one, and prays the judgment in her favor on the pretended obligations of Andrews & Brother be set aside, and that the sale of the property on Champ-street, ordered by the Court to pay the debt, be enjoined.—N. O. Picayune

The Latest Imposition.—Most of the New York papers have of late contained notices of the strange animal said to have been captured on the mountains of California by Col. Fremont, and for which naturalists have been unable to find a name. This nondescript which is said to be made up of parts resembling the horse, camel, buffalo, elephant, and deer, has been on exhibition in New York for several weeks past, and has been seen by thousands—the editor of the Courier says he will not pretend to guess how many thousands of persons—at a quarter of a dollar a head. It now appears that the "California Nondescript" is nothing more nor less than a very common horse, with some disease of the skin which changes his coat. To make it more attractive, the hair of the mane and tail has been pulled out, which gives it the neck of the deer and the tail of the elephant. It is not at all likely that the animal ever saw the mountains of California.—Balt. American Surgical Triumph.—Dr. Wildman, of Georgia has made an entire lower lip for a young lady out of a slice of the right cheek. The young lady had through an injudicious administration of calomel, lost a portion of her lower jaw and the entire lip. She stands, therefore as a living monument of the ignorance and the skill to be found in the same profession.

Whenever you get a black eye by a fall on the ice, or from running against the bed-post, or from running away from a powerful fist, apply a cloth wrung out of very warm water and renew it until the pain ceases. The moisture and heat liquifies the blood and sends it back to the proper channels. Use warm or hot, but never cold water to the bruise. A doctor would charge a guinea for this advice—we give it gratis.

Cure for Colic.—Take a piece of chalk the size of a hen egg, pound it fine and put it in a quart bottle,—fill the bottle with vinegar, shake it well, and drench the horse. One drench generally cures—the second will not fail. Try it.
