'Everybody's Vegetable Cathartic Pills'

Boystown, Va., Dec. 1st, 1873.
Gentlemen—Have been a great sufferer for several years with liver complaint and general debility, and at times troubled with immense pain in the regions of my liver. I have had the attendance of the best medical men to be had here, but without any permanent relief. I was at last advised to try "Everybody's Pills," and feel no hesitation in saying that one bottle did me more good than all the other medicine I had taken before. I now feel entirely relieved, the pain having left me. I have a good appetite, and what I eat agrees with me. I have no hesitation in saying that I love my good health, and perhaps my life, to the use of "Everybody's Pills."
Very respectfully,
K. A. DAVES,

Protest Against Joint Decorations.

EDITORS SOUTHERNER:—We noticed in your last issue an article copied from the Louisville Commercial, and written by an ex-confederate officer, endorsing an article from the pen of Prof. G. W. Rauck, advocating a joint decoration day of those who wore the grey and those who wore the blue in the late war. As an humble follower of the "stars and bars," we protest against any such proposition.

We hope the day will never come when the long suffering people of the impoverished South will cease to remember, with grateful hearts, the sufferings, hardships and self-sacrificing devotion of those noble Southern boys.

"Who vainly brave, and to decorate their rude graves with fresh and beautiful flowers upon each returning spring; but for us to join with those who brought all our misfortunes upon us, in decorating the graves of those who wretchedly laid waste our fields, ruined our homes and murdered thousands of our young men—the flower of this Southern land—is utterly abhorrent to the feelings of every true Southern man.

A commingling of all sections in celebrating the Centennial of Lexington, Mecklenburg and Bunker Hill may be very proper, as our victories at those places are a common heritage; but it is a mere sham and mockery for us to gather flowers to strew over the graves of those who, not only put the torch to our dwellings, but in many instances, with a ruthless hand destroyed the shrubbery and lovely flower-gardens that surrounded them, and many places that were sweet with the perfume of roses were left as black and desolate as a desert.

A voluntary agreement on our part to any such arrangement as alluded to in the article referred to, would be a surrender of our manhood and would be scorned and despised by those whose good will we thus seek to secure. That this is so, we have only to satisfy ourselves by calling to mind the treatment of our dead comrades at Arlington. Our own people were not permitted to place tokens of affection upon their graves, and more recently similar conduct in Greenwood Cemetery, New York, where the remains of the brave General Whiting lie mouldering to dust.

We take the following extract from a letter of June 1st, written in New York by a Southern man: "There were many thousands of people in all parts of Greenwood decorating the graves of Federal soldiers and civilians, but the only tribute to Whiting was by your correspondent; his the only visit to that lonely and unmarked grave. I make no comment—you may do that."

After such instances as these, for the Southern people to join with those of the North in decorating the graves of Federal soldiers is repugnant to our idea of honor and self-respect. How can we, without feelings of shame and self-abasement, place flowers, emblems of love, upon the graves of those, it may be, whose hands were once red with the blood of our brothers, or who fired the fatal bullet through the heart of an only son. To do this, human nature must undergo a revolution.

To be guilty of such a sacrilege, we must blot from our memories all recollections of the glorious past, and the outrages and inhuman vassalage of our enemies; we must cease to remember the burning of Atlanta and driving twenty thousand men, women and children from their homes upon thirty hours notice; burning the beautiful city of Columbia, the firing of one hundred guns over the burning of Richmond and the burning of two hundred flowering mills in the Valley of Virginia; the burning of thousands of Southern residences and robbing the Southern people of countless millions of property; Butler's infamous New Orleans order reflecting upon the chastity of our women; Sheridan's banditti dispatch, endorsed by Grant and to a great extent sustained by popular sentiment at the North, and many other crimes and outrages not herein enumerated.

When we forget all this, we may "unite with Federal soldiers and Northern men in decorating the Federal dead," and not before.

We wish to see "concord in our land and the animosities of the war forever buried," but our "love for peace" does not require us to degrade ourselves by kissing the rod that smote us, or to honor those who lost their lives while trying to take ours.

"I hate anything that occupies more space than it is worth," says William Hazitt: "I hate to see a load of band-boxes go along the street, and I hate to see a pair of big words without anything in them."

Convention—The Radical Programme.

The Republican party proposes to defeat the objects of the bill by electing candidates pledged to meet and adjourn. In other words, they are opposed to any reforms, so wedded are they to the few "flesh spots" they still retain, and so hostile are they to the real welfare of the State. Some of the best men in their party freely confess that the organic law needs amendment, and by the votes of the Republican leader in the Senate, Judge Cantwell, and the Republican leader in the House, Mr. Candler, the present bill passed the Legislature by the Constitutional majority.

In the face of these facts, so blinded are they by party prejudices, by party hopes, and by hatred of all that is honorable and substantial in the present and future of the State, that they will cheerfully sacrifice everything to gain a few years lease of power.

The Raleigh News, by some means, has gotten a copy of a number of resolutions adopted at a private meeting of editors and leaders of the Republican party which foreshadow the plan of their campaign. We give them in full:

NULLIFICATION.
Resolved 1. That it is deemed by this association good policy for Republicans to support none for delegates to the Convention but those who will pledge themselves to advocate an immediate adjournment of that body, in this manner, defeating the purpose of those who compelled this call for Convention contrary to the wishes of a large majority of the voters of North Carolina, and saving a vast outlay of money to the people.

CONSPIRACY BETWEEN THE LEADERS AND THE PRESS.
Resolved 2. That the State Executive Committee is hereby respectfully requested, by an address or otherwise, to recommend this policy to the voters opposed to Convention; and that the newspapers connected with the association will heartily uphold the policy herein indicated and use every endeavor to disseminate this plea among the people.

Resolved 3. That there is no more effectual guide to political sentiment than an out-spoken and independent press, and that it is incumbent upon office-holders who are pecuniarily benefited by their party, to contribute of their means, to the sustenance of their party papers.

HELP ME CASSIUS, OR I SINK!
Resolved 4. That the Chairman of the Executive Committee of each Congressional District of North Carolina be requested to solicit the office-holders of the District, both State and Federal, to subscribe for a greater or less number of the Republican journals of this District to furnish the post office address and name to the editor, with a view of circulating such newspapers among the people. The Secretary is instructed to send a copy of this resolution to the Chairman of each District Executive Committee.

Resolved 5. That this Association will oppose the appointment to office of men who are unwilling to contribute to the support of Republican newspapers; and under proper circumstances, will use its influence to oust office holders who show such illiberal spirit.

OFF WITH THEIR HEADS!
Resolved 6. That this Association condemns the employment in Federal offices of those who are unwilling to vote the Republican ticket, and that the employment of such persons will be deemed a sufficient cause, when ascertained, to impel this association to use its influence for the removal of the heads of officers who thus abuse the confidence of the Republican party.

THE USURY LAW TO BE USED FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.
Resolved 7. That the passage of the Usury Law is of doubtful utility and that it is likely to cause much distress to the people; and that while it is not recommended that the Republican press shall take decided grounds for, or against it, it is deemed advisable to take such advantage of an unpopular law as will ensure to the advantage of the Republican party.

MUM ON REPUTATION.
Resolved 8. That no true Republican ought to advocate reputation of the State debt, but it is deemed most fitting that Republican newspapers should not at present discuss the question.

CIVIL RIGHTS A LIVING ISSUE.
Resolved 9. That an extended discussion of the civil rights bill is deemed inadvisable, but that the Republicans should never intimate that the bill is wrong in principle, or that it will be disastrous in its operations, and it is believed time will show the people that no evil need be apprehended from its enactment.

A RAILROAD POLICY (ONE OF THE CONSPIRATORS, A RAILROAD ATTORNEY.)

Resolved 10. That the attacks of certain Democratic newspapers upon the Judges of the Supreme Court because of the guage decision, is infamous and ought to be condemned without qualification, by Republican newspapers.

Resolved 11. That Republicans are in favor of Consolidation and that they do not regard a change of guage detrimental to that project but believe if carried out in its full scope that it would materially assist in building up the North Carolina system from Morehead City to the Tennessee line.

SQUIDS AND POP GUNS.
Resolved 12. That pungent paragraphs and shot articles are recommended to our newspapers.

OURS ARE THE PLANS OF FAIR, DE LIGHTFUL PEACE!
Resolved 13. That the Republican newspapers represent in this Association, whether by letter or by personal representation, will cooperate so far as possible in matters of opinion and that they will especially refrain from disagreements and quarrels with right and truth they agree to stand by each other and so far as is consistent with one another.

MACAULAY.
It was not until Macaulay stood up that
