TARBORO', N. C.

Thursday, : : January 20, 1881 ENTHERD AT THE POST-OFFICE AT TARBO BO, N. O. AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER,

The telegraph reports are full of crime. Our grand republic is becoming great in this particular as well as others.

If every bill introduced in the legislature, up to the present, should be fully argued (as they ought to be) it would require a ten year's session.

Conkling, as usual, overcame the New York Legislature.

There is a bill in the legislature to make the railways reduce their fare. This is hopeful sine most of them are popularly supposed to hold free passes in their pockets.

The lesson of last season for you, farmer, is that you have no corn to buy this year. Now, will the cotton craze again catch you? Make plenty corn; then your cetton.

O'Hara is in Washington looking after his contest with Capt Kitcher for his seat in Congress. We expect the upshot of the case will be that both will draw pay from the people's treasury. These cases ought to be decided in a non-partisan way at once, and the ousted member should receive no pay.

With great ceremony and brilliant pageantry, Gov. Jarvis and State officers were inaugurated on Tuesday, ending in a grand full dress ball at night. While they were tripping their "light fantastic toes," poor children were rubbing their pangful and cold struck toes.

If the legislature can't see it will be more beneficial to debtor and creditor, financially, to have sales published in a newspaper so that buyers may read, than stuck on an obscure tree to be washed off by the rain or tern off by some designing person, they should better attempt no important legislation but come home and leave such work to the

Since writing our article on Cruel w to animals, we see that the bill has passed the House and been sen to the Senate. Glorious beginning for the House, and we've no doubt that no Senator will be so captious as to object.

We clip from the Raleigh Star the following text of the bill, introduc by Mr. Smedes, of Wake.

We do not deem it advisable to publish full proceedings as offering little enlightenment to our readers and filling space. The Raleigh News from which we condense, only gives the headings of bills introduced, but we will mention the most important in synopsis.

A bill to pay Coroner's inquest jurors, to punish abortion, to protect ministers from working public roads, to throw the election back to August, touching meeting of County Commissioners, to allow defendant to testify, petition of Robins of Nash to contest Lindsey's seat, several bills, by Republicans to place election of Justices and County Commissioners with the people, to exempt cotton and woolen manufacturers from taxation, to amend road law. to change bastardy law, to make 30 pounds a bushel of cotton seed, to revive and amend public school laws, that after 95 no person shall vote who can't read or write, (to amend constitution therefore), to regulate freight charges, to repeal tax on horse drovers, to lay 50 cts tax on dogs, (good 1)

Nowhere is philanthropy more needed than here. While most Southern Colleges have endowments, our line of historical lustre, has to work seemingly thankless.

The establishment of the fund by mand more taxes, we believe the Dr. Deems, no doubt suggested the people could stand the difference donation to Mr. Vanderbilt, but it

Upon the reorganization of the University in 1875 contributions were made by friends of the institution, out of their own private means, to the amount of about $20,-000, the greater part of which was used in repairs upon the building, all of which belong to the State."

Charlotte Observer.

The Tarboro Southerner is ably championing the cause of the animal kingdom in urging a law for the pro tection of the brute creation from the heartless, criminal cruelty of man. The editor of that paper has been in communication with Mr. Bergh, of New York, and has placed the New York law in the hands of a nember of the General Assembly of North Carolina. Mr. Bergh writes that the law has been amended from time to time to meet the technical objections of shrewd lawyers, until it is nearly perfect. The Southerner adds that the same law was passed by the Arkansas Legislature, and a similar one graces and glorifies the statute books of thirty-four States of the American Union. It is not at all likely that the present Legislat-ure will fail to add it to the laws of North Carolina; for once presented, it appeals directly to our humanity in a manner which cannot, without violating some of our best instincts. be resisted. There is, or use to be, a society in this State which thad for its object the prevention of cruelty to animals, but it was never active and the honor of inaugurating the movement must be given to the edi tor of the Southerner.

Nearly every editor of the State, we believe, is strong for the bill before the legislature, but we are glad to note so powerful an ally as the daily Charlotte Observer.

While we do not claim superiority in goodness of heart over other men, nor de other editors, so far as we management of the kind and genial Geo. Smedes, member from Wake, our champion.

Prohibition.

At the recent Prohibition meeting in Raleigh, the following resolutions were adopted:

RESOLVED. That the convention recommend that county prohibition associations be organized at once in each county to further the work in their respective counties by procur-ing signers to prohibition petitions, and in such other ways as the good of the cause may require, and that these associations put themselves in immediate communication with the central committee in Raleigh On motion the resolutions were adopted.
