The Sun.
 NEW YORK, 1882.
 The Sun for 1882 will make its fifteenth annual revision. Under the present management, shining as always, for all, big and little, mean and gracious, ostentatious and happy. Reprinted in the Dime Magazine, and drawn and written, intelligent and wise. The Sun's light is for mankind and woman. In this country in the dawn years, the sun is for the good, while it pours discord on the backs of the persistently wicked.
 The Sun of 1882 will be the same as of old. It is the same in its spirit and its aim. It is a fresh, succinct, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting no event of consequence, and commenting on them with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was the success of the Sun. It is the same as of old. It is the same in its spirit and its aim. It is a fresh, succinct, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting no event of consequence, and commenting on them with the fearlessness of absolute independence.

THE GREAT Specific
SIMMONS' UNFADING REGULATOR LIVER COMPLAINT
 The SYMPTOMS of Liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side, sometimes pain in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism; the stomach is affected for a time; the head is troubled with pain and with loss of appetite and sickness; bowels, in general, costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain and dull, heavy sensation of having laid undone something that ought to have been done; often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease and at other times very few of them—but the liver is generally the organ most involved.
Regulate the Liver and Prevent Dyspepsia, Constipation, Jaundice, Bilious Attacks, Chills and Fever, Headache, Colic, Depression of Spirits, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Indigestion, &c.
Tonic, Alterative and Cathartic!
 Simmons' Liver Regulator, purely vegetable, is the medicine generally used in the South to arouse the torpid liver to healthy action. It acts with extraordinary power and efficiency on the LIVER and KIDNEYS!
 The action of the Regulator is free from nausea or griping. It is most effective in starting the secretions of the Liver, causing the bile to act as a cathartic. When there is an excess of bile in the stomach, the Regulator is an active purgative, after the removal of which the bowels and bladder are invigorated, and health to the whole system.
 Be sure you get the genuine in White Wrapper with the red Z, prepared only by J. H. Ziehn & Co.

Hitches at the Altar.
 A recent hitch at the altar occurred at a fashionable English town. A large party had assembled in one of the churches there to witness the nuptials of the niece of a prominent citizen, when when it was discovered at the last moment that the registrar, who had the license in his pocket, had not arrived. At the suggestion of the officiating clergyman, the ceremony was delayed for a short time, while one of the party went in search of the errant registrar. His office was soon located, but he had left the work he was to be begun. The road was to be a narrow gage, and to begin at Lenoirville, S. C., in the heart of a fine cotton region, and run via Society Hills, on the road from Cherwell to Florence, connecting with Charleston, via Fayetteville, N. C., and thence by the Chatham coal fields, by the Deep river factories, and High Point to Winston. From the Yadkin Valley, by Patterson, and thence to meet the road of General Imboden. There will be a branch to Graham, and possibly one to Mt. Airy from Elkin, or that vicinity. This is the only railroad in North Carolina or proposed road designed to foster manufacturing and mining enterprises. A glance at the map will show that it is wisely located. It will be within reach of nearly thirty existing manufacturing concerns of cotton and woolen goods; will pass by the Chatham coalfields, and over the richest and best iron deposits of the State; will penetrate the heart of the best agricultural resources not likely to be reached by any other road, the most valuable forests of timber, and of immense water power. It will have a base on the Norfolk Atlantic, at the ports of Norfolk, Beaufort, Wilmington and Charleston. Will open a way from the centre of the cotton belt of the Atlantic with the densest manufacturing operations of the South, the capabilities of which have hardly been tapped, and will ultimately reach the Mississippi Valley.

The parties concerned seem to be in earnest, working quietly and practically. On the 29th December, book were opened at High Point where there was, subscribed that they live hundred and twenty thousand dollars. No effort has been made to tax the communities along the line, and the company seem anxious first to show that its purposes are fixed and bona fide, and that it can and will carry out its plans.

American Prosperity.
 In the valuation of natural wealth the United States stand near the head of the list—third on the list of all Western nations. The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland heads the list, with a valuation of $4,400,000,000; then comes France, with $36,700,000,000; the United States, with $32,000,000,000; Germany, with $22,000,000,000; Russia, with $15,000,000,000; and the Low Countries with $11,150,000,000, collectively. These are the valuations made by those countries of their entire resources.

Rather Entertained.
 The Wilmington (Del.) Daily Republican lately contained the following item of popular interest. F. S. Jacobus, who is connected with the Wilmington Every Evening, speaks rather enthusiastically of St. Jacobs Oil. Dr. Speck states that he uses it in his home, and also uses it in his office, a sort of universal panacea for all aches and pains, and has always found it to not most highly. His sister-in-law, he says, he has used it upon himself for sore throat. Two applications were sufficient to cure. He also uses it on his little girl for sore throat with gratifying success. The same child had scarlet fever this winter which left the tendons of the hand stiff, and she also used it, and she could not walk without assistance and suffered much inconvenience and pain. Several applications of St. Jacobs Oil restored her to her normal condition and she has not experienced any trouble since. Dr. Speck states that he has also seen the oil charmingly to his eye. He thinks St. Jacobs Oil is a sterling remedy, and does not hesitate to recommend it for rheumatism, etc.

Annoyance Avoided.
 Gray hairs are honorable, but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam prevents the annoyance by promptly restoring the youthful color.

Gold and Silver Certificates as our Paper Money.
 There are so many good and valid reasons for the proposed change in our paper circulation, that it is not easy to say which may be deemed the most conclusive and satisfactory. Hon. Dietrich C. Smith, of Illinois, made a capital speech on the subject in the House of Representatives in Congress, a few days since, in the course of which he said:
 "To the extent that a government becomes the depository of the specie of the people and issues its certificates for the same, to that extent it commands their confidence and develops patriotic devotion to the government in the hearts of the people."
 This is an important fact. The system of gold and silver certificates as the paper money of the country will fortify the government in the interests and hearts of the people; and in doing this, it will furnish them with a currency which will neither fluctuate in value, nor even become worthless in their hands.
 The attention of the country is called to another and a crowning reason for this proposed paper money. It cannot, from its nature, produce contractions or expansions in the standard of value, except such as result from the inevitable operations and laws of trade. Based on gold and silver, the commercial world, the currency of the commercial world, no variations can take place except such as are necessarily required and produced by trade itself. The amount cannot be inflated beyond the actual amount of the gold and silver represented by it, and that amount will be regularly replenished whenever reduced by being drawn out. But it is different with paper money based on credit. That is not regulated by the amount of money in circulation, but by the amount of money on credit. That is not regulated by the amount of money in circulation, but by the amount of money on credit. That is not regulated by the amount of money in circulation, but by the amount of money on credit.

A Cool Reply.
 An important case was tried before the Criminal Court of the District of Columbia. An old colored man was on the witness stand. The District Attorney had before him a long list of convicted criminals. After several glances at the paper, he thus interrogated, the witness:
 "What is your name?"
 "John Williams, sah."
 "Are you the John Williams who was sent to the Albany Penitentiary for larceny?"
 "No, sah—not this John."
 "Are you the John Williams who was convicted of arson and sent to the Baltimore Penitentiary?"
 "No, sah."
 Tired of asking fruitless questions, the District Attorney suddenly put a leading one:
 "Have you ever been in the Penitentiary?"
 "Yes, sah."
 "All eyes were now turned toward the witness. The District Attorney smiled complacently, and then resumed:
 "How many times have you been in the Penitentiary?"
 "Twice, sah."
 "In Baltimore?"
 "How long were you there the first time?"
 "About two hours, sah."
 "And how long were you in the second time?" asked the crestfallen District Attorney.
 "An hour, sah. I went there to whitewash the cell for a lawyer who had robbed his client."
 The Attorney sat down amid the laughter of the spectators.

Time is Money.
 One fine morning, when Franklin was busy preparing his newspaper for the press, a lounge stepped into the store and spent an hour or more looking over the books, etc., and finally, taking one in his hand, asked the shop boy for the price.
 "One dollar," was the answer.
 "One dollar!" said the lounge; "can you not take less than that?"
 "No, indeed; no less than the price."
 Another hour had nearly passed when the lounge said:
 "Is Mr. Franklin at home?"

Political Progress.
 It has been well said, that in the establishment of our political institutions a great advance was made in the science of government. The progress consisted in the following fundamental principles:
 1. That all men are by nature politically equal, having certain unalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.
 2. That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.
 3. The primary object of government is the protection of the people in their rights of personal security, personal liberty and private property, and that when it fails to accomplish this purpose it becomes destructive of its legitimate ends.

TrIBUTE TO A MOTHER.
 Children, look in these eyes, listen to that dear voice, notice the feeling of even a single touch that is bestowed upon you by her gentle hand! Make much of it while you have that most precious of all gifts, a loving mother. Read the unfathomable love in those eyes, the kind anxiety of that tone and look, however slight your pain. In after years you may have friends—but never will you have again the inexpressible love and gentleness lavished upon you which none but mother's bestows. Often do I sigh in my struggles, with the dark, unceasing worry of the sweet, deep security I felt, when of an evening, nestling in her bosom, I listened to some quiet tale, suitable to my age, read in her tender and untrifling voice. Never can I forget her sweet glances cast upon me when I appeared asleep; never her kiss of peace at night. Years have passed away since we laid her beside my father in the old churchyard; and still her voice whispers from the grave, and her eyes watch over me, as I visit spots long since hallowed to the memory of my mother.

CONSUMPTION CURED.
 An old physician, retiring from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary, a formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the cure of all permanent cases of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all other Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure of chronic Debility and all nervous complaints after having thoroughly tested its curative powers in thousands of cases, feels its duty to make known to his suffering fellow-men, the receipt will be sent free of charge, to all who desire it, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Every patient is also entitled to a copy free of charge. Complete Formula, a work of nearly 300 pages, containing over 1000 testimonials. The latest and Best Family Medical Work out of dress with stamp, or stamped self-addressed envelopes. Dr. H. BELL, 124 1/2 Street, St. Baltimore, Md. (1879-82)
