SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED LIVER.

Bad Breath: Pain in the Side, sometimes the pain is felt under the Shoulder-blade, mistaken for Rheumatism: general loss of appetite: Bowels generally costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, is dull and heavy, with considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful semantion of leaving undone something which ought to have been done; a sight, dry cough and flushed face is sometimes an attendant, often mistaken for consumption; the patient complains of wearintess and debility; nervous, easily startled; feet cold or burging, sometimes a prigkly sensation of the site suiter; spirits are low and despondent, and, although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial, yet one can hardly summon up fortitude to try it—in fact, distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when but few of them existed, yet examination after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively duranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the above symptoms appear. Persons Traveling or Living in Un-healthy Localities, by taking a doss eccasion, ally to keep the Liver in healthy action, etil avoid all Malaria, Billious attacks, Diramess, Nau-sea, Drawiness, Depression of Spirite, etc. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no in-toxicating beverage.
