—The New Year began in a most anti-festive style. Exceedingly heavy showers fell frequently Sunday.
—A happy New Year to one and all and may you break not one of the good intentions with which you begin 1888.

—Pender & Cotten offer ladies' wool dress goods, Hamburg trimmings and men's clothing at invoice cost for cash. 1 t.

—Wages for farm hands will remain about the same, though the tendency is upward if anything. Nine dollars per month will be about the average.

—Mr. Eaton King has been appointed deputy sheriff in the place of James T. Dupree. Dependent says not whether the former is a king of catsin.
—The abutment to the Princeville side of the river bridge is so steep as to seriously interfere with traffic. It takes a very strong team to pull a moderately loaded vehicle up it.

—The number of horses and mules now offered for sale by the dealers is no indication of hard times. There is enough competition, though, to make this market very cheap one.
—The directors of the Shiloh Oil Mills met Tuesday and elected Elias Carr Jr., superintendent. Bids for furnishing the material for the buildings were ordered to be advertised.

—Messrs. H. B. Slodge & Co. have moved their hardware and store and repair shop to the building on St. James street, next door to Mr. W. H. Johnston's law office.
—An intelligent person when hurt will at once procure a bottle of Salvation Oil. It is the best thing to cure swellings, burns, or wounds. All druggists sell it at twenty-five cents a bottle. 1 t.

—Another tournament and ball is on the tapis at Mildred for the 13th. By the way, this town is growing. Besides the new store, which Mr. John O. Worsley recently erected, Mr. David E. Cobb has built a very neat one into which he has just moved.

—The County Commissioners Monday disposed of all the business before them which was mostly routine. They temporarily allowed the Sheriff one thousand insolvent polls. They also decided to raise the side-walk in front of the court house even with the culvert recently built.

—Monday, Mr. Jas. Hodges made a deed of trust to Mr. H. L. Stator to secure his creditors and sureties for E. B. Hodges & Co. He conveys all his land without any homestead exemption. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr. Hodges in his financial troubles. By steady industry he accumulated an estate worth $30,000 or $30,000, every dime of which represented a drop of sweat.

—In the Opera House Wednesday night of last week a good crowd assembled to hear the cantata by the little girls given for the benefit of the Thompson Orphanage the proceeds of which amounted to $41.00. After the music and singing, which made a merry evening, a beautiful Christmas tree was disclosed, the presiding genius of which was S. S. Nash Esq., disguised as Santa Claus, bewickered, bearded and weighing about four hundred pounds. With the aid of his assistants the gifts were distributed to the children.

TAX SALE.—See list of persons and land advertised on fourth page of this week's SOUTHERNER for taxes under this heading. JOSEPH COBB, Sheriff.

INCENDIARY FIRE.—Monday night between 6 and 7 o'clock in Township No. 9, a three-room, unpainted dwelling from which Levi Harrell had just removed was burned. Mr. Harrell had sold it to J. W. Bridgers. A few articles of personal property left by Mr. Harrell were consumed with the house. Loss $200, no insurance.

TAX COLLECTOR FROM WAY BACK.—W. S. Cummings, deputy tax collector for Sheriff Cobb, sweeps off all the perambulations, leaves and skins the bark. He sent a negro boy three miles away to get his banjo to pick him a tune and after the tune had been picked seized the banjo for pill tax.

Lightning will strike him before the year ends.
FROM THE "SEWING MACHINE ADVOCATE."
—"The Helpmate" machine has kept up the average it started out with the first of the season in the matter of securing prizes in all competitions entered into at this Fall's fairs. It has therefore, secured 100 out of a possible 100.

It is decidedly far in advance of any other machine in improvement, in merit, and fine finish. Call and see it. For sale by BAZL, the Jeweler. 48 t.

WHOLESALE HARDWARE.—To merchants who are in the market for spring hardware, farming implements &c., we will say that we have now a large stock of shovels, trace chains, hames, cotton ropes, axes, &c., bought direct from the factories—placing us in position to compete with Northern houses and we will duplicate any bill you have bought. Call and examine our Crescent Steel Shovel—guaranteed equal to any shovel manufactured. 1 t.

NASH, PORTER & CO.
BROUHAHA CLAVORED.—The party attached to residence of A. H. Ricks, Esq., living in Nash county, about four miles from Battleboro and Whitakers, had been burglarized on several occasions. Last Monday night Mr. Ricks was absent in Baltimore; Chas. Exum and Mr. Moore were standing guard. At 10 o'clock they were rewarded by capturing a negro who had effected an entrance, shooting another who had run off and placing both in jail.

STILL IMPROVING.—The Fertilizer Factory is in operation again. Its capacity has been very much enlarged. Fifty tons a day is now what it can do. An elevator has been erected to take up the crude materials which come by river in barges owned by the company. It is an interesting sight to see the huge iron buckets carrying up 50 or 60 feet, nearly a half ton of kankin, ground bone and the like. The fertilizers made at this factory rank with the best made anywhere.

A LARGE PURCHASE.—The Shiloh Stock Farm begins the new year with a numerous and valuable addition to its number of cows. It has just purchased, and yesterday was shipped, a herd of eighteen registered cows, some Holsteins, some Jersey and some Devons. The number of cows on the farm when these arrive, which will probably be Saturday, will be just one hundred.

A happy new year to Messrs. Stator & Jeffreys, may their stock be healthy and prolific and give enough milk to supply the market at five cents a quart.
JUNOS.—The following are the jurors drawn for the Inferior Court which convenes on 31st Monday.
Jos. Hearne, J. B. Porter, Geo. Bulluck, W. J. Harrell, Frank Gorham, M. H. Weatherbee, O. Williams, Jr., Jerry Rutledge, (col.) L. H. Johnson, T. W. Robertson, J. W. Powell, Frank Denton, W. H. Andrews, B. D. Gulon, Anos M. Wooten, W. S. Little, Laurie Weddell, W. T. Gardner, J. M. Johnson, Thos. A. Baker, W. M. Edmondson, S. B. Bradley, H. C. Bourne, Arch. Braswell, Jno. A. Robinson, W. P. Council, I. L. Thigpen, A. E. Wooten, W. H. Powell, J. D. Webb, Luther Lee Stator, J. B. Edwards, J. S. Quinly, Newsum Worsley, Henry Winborne, S. P. Stallings.

REVENUE.—Mr. J. G. Nettles had a happy new year and merry Christmas, 1887. The SOUTHERNER readers will remember that several months ago it was in their columns chronicled that a cow stolen from a gentleman in Rocky Mount was sold to Mr. Nettles, and that his search for the vendor proved unavailing. Well, on 27th of last month another negro, Henry Tice, and it turned out he was a partner of the other "coon", aware that Mr. Nettles was still enthusiastic over stock raising brought a cow to be sold. Mr. N. was a nettle this time, he recognized the cow as belonging to a neighbor. After jehing the negro down to half price for the cow, he summoned assistance and despite a spirited resistance tied the dealer in cows, and then sent for a magistrate and had a warrant issued for him. Before Squire Killebrew arrived at the Hotel Cobb.

HAMILTON RAILROAD.—Captain Haywood Clark informs us that his first-odd change three cents a mile for road-only passenger fare. This is decidedly the cheapest railroad fare in the State and our people will appreciate it fully.
The distance to Hamilton is 18 miles and yet a round trip only costs one dollar. We have no doubt this accommodating rate will enable people on the other end to come to Tarboro to do their trading and return the same day. We advise our merchants to strike out in that direction. By seeking they may find a bonanza in this trade.

The road has now a good equipment, flat and box cars and a very handsome first-class passenger coach. A platform will soon be erected between the railroad and the river bridge, connecting with the bridge, so that vehicles can be driven from the bridge to the platform, for the convenience of loading and unloading freight.

DECEMBER WEATHER.—The following was the state of the weather for December, kindly furnished us by Mr. E. V. Zoeller:
Highest temperature, 67.0 degrees on the 4th.
Lowest temperature, 16.9 deg. on 20th.
Mean temperature, 43.4 degrees.
Mean humidity, 83 per cent.
Highest daily temperature, 61.8 deg.
Lowest daily temperature, 26.4 deg.
Frosts on 13th, 14th, 16th, 18th, 19th, and 27th.
Prevailing direction of wind—North-easterly.

Rainfall, 3.82 inches. The average December rainfall at this place is 4.13 inches.
The average character of the weather for the month has been four clear, eleven fair, ten cloudy, six rainy days.
The U. S. Signal Service indications were verified at this point, as follows: weather, 85 per cent; temperature, 59 per cent.

THE LESLIE MEDAL.—Lieut. Frank B. Lloyd, who a few months since won the Leslie Medal for the best drilled non-commissioned officer or private, in the Edgecombe Guards, has surrendered it to the Company to be again drilled for.

Friday evening 20th at 8 o'clock it will again be competed for. The drill will be held in the old Armory Fireman's Hall, and on same evening will be presented by Mr. Don Gilliam.

The old hall has been selected because it can be heated better.
In the name of O company the SOUTHERNER has been requested to invite the public and especially the ladies, who have always shown themselves staunch and true friends of the Guards, it is believed that if the ladies will lend their presence it will have a stimulating and happy at-fect upon every member of the Company. (It would be passing strange if it did not.) So, come, ladies, encourage the boys and hear an eloquent martial speech from Mr. Gilliam.

THE SOCIAL CIRCLE.—The recent holidays in a social way were probably not quite so gay as they have been known before, yet there was no one of a sorrowful countenance, and whether the holidays were dull or not the reader can judge from the following brief mention of the receptions which does not include all.

December 30 Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Royter gave a large party complimentary to Miss Hatlie Howard.
Monday quite number of new year callers were out; among the young ladies who received were: Misses Alice Howard and Maggie Williams at Judge Howard's; Misses Louise MacNair, Kate Phippen and Mittle Dowd at Mrs. MacNair's; Miss Annie Phillips at Judge Phillips'; Miss Eliza Pittman, at Dr. Pittman's; Miss Lillie Brown, at Capt. Brown's. At each of these places delectable collations were spread and callers and hostesses were radiant with happiness.

On the same evening Miss Gretchen Parr gave an old maid card party. None of those who attended including the charming loveliness were over twenty so playing at old maid must have been much fun. Mrs. J. M. Baker Monday evening gave a party to a few young ladies and gentlemen.

TARBORO FEMALE ACADEMY.—The Christmas entertainment at Tarboro Female Academy was on time as usual.
The difficult studies in music were executed with skill.
The recitations were well rendered and appropriate.
The Entrance March and Christmas Overture elicited praise.

The words of Welcome by little Lottie Barnes were delivered with much ease and grace.
Donizetti's Lucia by Miss Daisy Gillespie was well performed for so small a child.
Martha was rendered by Miss Daniel. Waliz Etude was executed by Miss Bell.

Miss Annie Williams executed Cujus Animam.
The vocal duet was applauded.
Miss Phippen played a difficult solo.
Misses Williams and Prall gave a duet.
Miss Pitt came next with a German recitation.

The school drama contained a good moral, and was well acted.
Miss Long as Fruit Girl was complimented.
The Holiday Convention was well received, and represented our four holidays in a pleasing manner.
Miss Pitt closed the concert with Whispering Winds.

For this enjoyable evening we are indebted to the teachers of the Tarboro Female Academy.
SHIVERING CHIVALRY.—Notwithstanding the mercury stood a dozen degrees below the freezing point last Thursday night Knights entered the lists at Mildred, where quite a number of people ventured to brave the boreal breezes to witness the journey and not for a moment regretted it.

The riding was good and the time, but the score apparently nothing to boast of. The Knights, though it dampened not their ardour, were almost unanimous in ascribing the cause to the wind which forced so much water from the lachrymal ducts into their eyes that they were not able to see distinctly. Be this as it may, arctic blasts dimmed not the eyes of the ladies who watched the tilting till the judges announced the successful ones.
The following were the Knights and their scores:
W. S. Cummings, Knight of Golden Belt, 7; W. R. Edmondson, Knight of Last Week; E. C. King, Knight of Pitt Co; 5; W. H. Warren, Knight of Connetee; J. C. Corbett, Knight of Falkland; S. C. B. Hargrave, Knight of University; 2; and Harrell, Knight of Lost Hope; 2; Henry Harrell, Knight of Mildred; 1; Richard Felton, Knight of Cold Wave; 1.
The tilt for the honor of crowning first and second Maids of Honor between E. C. King, and W. R. Edmondson, resulted in favor of the latter—thanks to W. S. Cummings who rode for him.

The four first named Knights were very happy in the selection of the Queen of Love and Beauty, Miss Maggie Lane, and her Maids of Honor, viz: Miss Ella Cobb, Miss Jackie Daniel, and Miss Addie Harrell.

In the evening over Worsley's store which was beautifully decorated with evergreens, the coronation and ball took place where from 8 o'clock when the crowns were presented by the editor of THE SOUTHERNER until after three next morning all paid their devotions to Torporibus wozazet that betokened complete enjoyment.

DIED.
In Salisbury, December 26th, 1887, Mrs. ELLEN H. SUMMERELL, mother of Rev. J. N. H. Summerell, of this place, in the 64th year of her age. In the Carolina "Watchman" it is said of her:
. . . She has not lived in vain.
Like the virtuous woman described by Solomon, Prov. 31, 28: Her children arise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her. She was permitted to realize one of the dearest wishes of her heart, and the answer of many prayers, in seeing a son, whom she trained for God, fall into the long line of her ancestors as a minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Through him, especially, as well as through others, she will continue to exert a gracious influence upon generations to come.
