dispatches report it to be. It has been apparent ever since this Congress got down to business that there was a weak spot in the rules of the House, but it was not until the long contest for a quorum to vote on the Bland bill for the coinage of the seigniorage, the end of which is not in sight yet, showed the helpleseness of the House in the absence of a voting quorum that members became fully aroused to the necossity of a change. But they are members have signed a call for a caucus to be held as soon as the Bland bill is disposed of, to decide 754 head of cattle, 1,181,743 hogs upon the nature of the change to be made. Democrats do not wish the Speaker to follow Reed and count a quorum, but a large majority of them want a rule that will prevent members sitting in the House and refu-sing to vote to make a quorum, and they are going to have one, too.

The feeling among southern Democrats in Congress on account of the recent speech of Ex-Congressman Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, has been greatly exaggerated. With few exceptions the southern Congressman regard the matter with entire indifference. Representative Caruth, of Ky, says: "He is in his dotage, and Representative McMillin, of Tenn., "I certainly shall not make Mr. Hewitt a national issue by talk-ing about what he says." Many of the older members recall numerous instances of Mr. Hewitt's devotion when in the House to protection and opposition to any tariff reform that cut into any of the businesses that ter Cooper had money invested in and smile at his attack on Demo-

The people out here are very hospitable In the country the homes are not preten tious, but you are welcomed, and made to feel at home. The great need of this State is more homes in the country, more farmers. A year ago more than half of the committee to take actual charge of population resided in the cities and towns. Up to 18 months ago the almost sole inustry was the lumber business. Large towns sprang up wherever the timber was best and water facilities good. The boom carried every body with a rush, none topped to inquire if the surrounding country after the timber was taken of would support a large urban population. When the time for liquidation came the bubbles burst and there was wailing and gnashing of teeth. Not long ago I was in such a place. If our people did their own work like the Washingtonians, I believe they would enjoy a period of prosperity surprising any women of the family doing their washing and ironing as well as their cooking, and still odder and stranger to see the husband. or one of his sons, doing the chores about the house such as cutting and bringing in the wood before going to work.

Courage is required on the part of man to go out into the woods and clear the land. There is no such timber in North Carolina as is to be found in western Washacres on which nearly a million feet were growing, and many of the trees over 300 feet high. It is out in these woods with a thick undergrowth of firn which can be lot, live on the ranch while the husband is Cascades, and not far from snow clad Mt.
