ONE VIEW OF CREDIT CURRENCY.

In reply to a great many questions as to what is meant by a credit currency, it may be said that it is a proposal to give the banks the right to issue currency, first, on the basis of the amount of real money in hand. When that runs out, to issue currency on the basis of everything they owe, whether they ever expect to pay it or not. When that runs out, to issue currency on the basis of their check. When that runs out, to issue it on their nerve, and so on ad infinitum.

The only limit is what the traffic will bear and the experience of the past has shown that the traffic is very forbearing.—Puck.

BURIAL CUSTOMS OF THE PHILIPPINES.

Since his return Secretary Taft has been kept busy telling of his varied experiences during his notable trip. Among other things, he was impressed by some of the burial customs of the Philippines, which in some instances are somewhat akin to pigeon holing the dead. There is indescribable pathos in the funerals of the poor. The mother, smoking a pipe, carries the little pastboard coffin covered with colored cotton. Behind her are several children, presumably the surviving members of her family, and except for the coffin she carries on her head, there is nothing to indicate that a burial is about to take place. The fact that the child death rate in the city of Manila is so heavy makes it evident that the little ones who survive the climate there are in a small proportion to those who die and the poet's argument that "Loss is common, doth not make our loss the less, but rather more" appears to be somewhat disproved by the Filipino attitude toward funerals.

The interment of a rich man is quite different; there is much pomp and a brass band plays. It has been grimly stated that the favorite tune on these occasions is "There'll Be a Hot Time," an air always associated with America by the Filipinos. "Dixie" and "Hawthorne" are also popular airs for a funeral, and have served to enliven many a ceremony of this nature. Funerals in the Philippines appear to be regarded as a sort of public spectacle, and a day when one or two such gorgeous functions do not occur is regarded as a dull period in Manila.—Joe Mitchell Chapple, in the National Magazine.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken 4 doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are sold by R. E. L. Cook.

AN ANCIENT DIAMOND.

Although by far the greatest of all, the Cullinan diamond, now the property of King Edward of England, is only one of many famous diamonds held by crowned rulers of Europe. The King has still the Kohinoor, a stone which was known as long ago as the time of Caesar's landing in Britain. Another well-known gem, Florentine, is now owned by the Emperor of Austria. It formerly belonged to Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy, who lost it on the battlefield. The Swiss peasant who discovered it mistook it for glass and gladly parted with it for about half a crown. Subsequently it came into the possession of Pope Julius II, who presented it to the Emperor of Austria.

DOMINO DANCE.

To mark the closing of one term of her dancing school, Miss Annie Cordon gave her pupils a domino dance, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number who took part as well as a number of spectators. Thursday evening, the young people did not unmask till nearly 11 o'clock. The guessings at identity and the mistakes made furnished no end of amusement.

GRACEFULLY ACQUIESCES.

President Emerson of the Coast Line has written Governor Glenn: "I have received a copy of the act of the Legislature passed at the extra session covering the passenger rate matter. I note from the same that you were unable to carry out in full your recommendation as contained in your proposal, notably that part which provided that the question of the reasonableness of the proposed rate be remanded to the corporation on commission at the end of twelve months' trial. Nevertheless it is our intention to give our part of the agreement the two months' trial, under the condition as provided for in our letter of December 28th, 1907. I have furnished the counsel for the complaining stockholders a copy of this letter. I do add that it is our intent to readjust interstate rates effective if possible on April 1st."

FEDERAL MEAT INSPECTION.

The Federal meat inspection has been greatly extended and improved under the new law of June 30, 1906, and is now on a higher plane than ever before. Public confidence, which was unsettled by the agitation of the previous year, has been restored. The important matters of sanitation of slaughtering and packing establishments, preparation of meat and products, use of chemicals, preservatives, etc., and prevention of fraudulent labeling are now controlled and regulated, whereas formerly the department had no authority over them, but was practically confined to an inspection before and at the time of slaughter to determine the health of the animals. The interstate transportation of meats and meat food products is also now under control.

Naturally, a very marked increase has occurred in this branch of the work as compared with the preceding year. Inspection was conducted at 708 establishments in 185 cities and towns during the fiscal year 1907, whereas in 1906 the corresponding totals were 163 establishments and 58 cities and towns. The number of employees engaged on meat inspection July 1, 1906, was 881; on July 1, 1907, this force had been increased to 2,290.

The meat inspect on covered 50,999,034 animals, practically all of which were inspected both before and after slaughter. Of these, 149,792 carcasses and 529,876 parts were condemned for disease or other cause. The cost of this inspection was $2,159,471.12. Report of the Secretary of Agriculture.

A FAVORABLE SIGN.

Many plants of the Steel Corporation are starting up again. Within the week 4,000 men after a long layoff have gone to work.

The steel industry is often claimed to be the business barometer. Mr. Carnegie said it was "either a prince or a pauper," reflecting in the extreme business conditions. Giving employment to additional labor is an unerring sign of improved conditions. Let us hope that the action of the Steel Corporation is the forerunner of other increased activity in industrial enterprises.

NEIGHBORHOOD FAVORITE.

Mrs. E. D. Charles, of Harbor, Maine, speaking of Electric Bitters says: "It is a neighborhood favorite here with us." It deserves to be a favorite everywhere. It gives quick relief in dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney derangement, malnutrition, nervousness, weakness and general debility. Its action on the blood, as a thorough purifier makes it especially useful as a spring medicine. This grand alternative tonic is sold under guarantee by all druggists. 50c.

ASILEY HORNE, of Clayton was here today looking over the political situation.

Mr. Horne is a candidate for Governor, and is anxious that a great agricultural county like Edgecombe will appreciate a son of another fine agricultural county, Johnston. He is a very pleasant and genial gentleman, most affable and with no frills. He looks, just what he is, an unassuming, progressive farmer and business man. When he remarked to the Southerner man that he was no oratorical speaker, we felt that he had a great point in his favor. He promises to make another visit soon.

KEEPING OPEN HOUSE.

Everybody is welcome when we feel good; and we feel that way only when our digestive organs are working properly. Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the action of the stomach, liver and bowels so perfectly one can't help feeling good when he uses these pills. 25c by all druggists.

The Kinston cotton mills did a "land office" business last year. It enabled them to declare a stock dividend of 100 per cent and a cash one of 8. With many mills and some of them not afar off, stocks do not know their own par.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

URGENT CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS.

The annual inspection of the Edgecombe Guards will take place here on the 16th day of March, 1908. This inspection will be made by the Inspector General of the State, accompanied by one or more officers of the regular army. The report of the last inspection spoke well and in complimentary terms of the Armory, the condition of the uniforms as well kept and provided for, the guns well cleaned the lockers neat and free from dust and the very good appearance of the men in uniforms. In a word, everything connected with the company proved to be in a satisfactory condition, but the military training of the men. This may well be accounted for from the fact that there are in the Company only two men from Tarboro. The rest of the Guards live outside the town, and it is hard to get these men together to drill more than once or twice a month. To require these men to be present once a week during every month in the year is a hardship, as it requires more than they are able and willing to give to the Company. In the way of furnishing men for the Company, the town is doing practically nothing. This should not be so, and if it continues, the Company cannot be kept up. This is a serious matter, and should appeal to the citizens of Tarboro.

The Company is now in need of ten good men. Who will come forward and enlist? With a pull together the Company can be placed where it belongs, with the rest in the brigade.

Weekly drills will be had from now till the inspection.

For a time he imposed, but it was brief.

YE OLD TYME FIDDLERS.

Goldsboro had the fiddlers' convention on the 11th, when it was a profound success.

The Argus of the following day says of it: "Ye Old Tyme Fiddlers' Convention that was 'pulled off' in the Messenger Opera House in this city last night was simply 'great'—nothing comparable to it for real old time fiddlin' and hilarious enjoyment has ever been experienced in Goldsboro. "And so many fiddlers! and such fiddling! Where did they all come from? was the marveling question on every hand among the large audience that thronged the spacious opera house to standing room and cheered with delight while the contestants drew their spirited bows and made their old violins 'talk to it.' "It beat any 'quitting party,' 'corn shucking,' 'log rolling' or 'riding out the wheat' of 'ye old tyme,' before the modern inventions and modern music, and everyone enjoyed it with keenest zest that had to be given frequent vent in screams of delight to prevent combustion.

"There were fiddlers there who had never before been even suspected of fiddling—and from all sections of this county and adjoining counties." Similar prizes that were offered there will be offered and given here on next Friday, 21st. A VALENTINE.

Wouldst thou on this happy morning Send someone a valentine— Some small gift, so sweet and dainty Symbol of that love of thine? Listen, then, a precious token Thou mayst to each dear one send Fairer than the fairest treasure Ever sent from friend to friend.

Bear within thy heart the blossoms Blossoms from thy perfumes rare Purify the sweet; fragrant lilies, Charity's red roses fair: All the violet's calm beauty— Bear within that heart of thine, And to each and every dear one— Be a beauteous valentine! A. E. C.

LOVE LIGHT.

Sometimes upon the Sun, or hills A flooding tenderness is shed; The low green intervals of hills As fills the silvery stream its bed. One moment past, it was not there; Or were mine eyes not yet aware.

That light—it comes with flicker in morn, At harvest noon on sun et plains And when the fields look old and lorn.

And on the bough no leaf remains And it can reach and overflow The cruel spirit of the snow.

Sometimes it soothes the aching sphere Of that white planet dead in old; The myriad eyes of Night anstere From their keen wounding have been held.

All betokened is that Ray Whose dawn may be midst dark or day.

There is an ambient World of Love, Wherein our little world is rocked; An arm beneath, an arm above, Around our slumber warmly locked.

And Love Light thence, in moments blest, Goes trembling through some dreamer's breast.

DYING WORDS OF GREAT PHYSICIANS.

Nothnagel, who died alone in his room, noted his own symptoms to the last. A letter to his assistant is said to have ended as follows: "Written late on the evening of July 6, just after experiencing these severe attacks * * * died of calcification of the arteries." Traube also made observations on himself to the very end. Loewek expressed a wish to be present at the post-mortem examination on himself, and among Cuyler's last recorded words is a remark, as his fingers twitched involuntarily, "Charles Bell is right; 'Ce sont les nerfs de la volonte qui sont malades.'"

Doyce Davidson, professor at Aberdeen, died immediately after saying to his class, speaking of the next meeting which was never to take place, "Four o'clock on Monday, gentlemen; 4 o'clock."

Several doctors have taken their leave with a blessing to those around them. Astley Cooper's last recorded words are: "God bless you and goodbye to you all." He had previously said to his physicians, Bright and Chamberlain, "God's will be done; God bless you both," adding, "You must excuse me but I shall take no more medicine." Benjamin Brodie was heard to mutter: "After all, God is very good." The saddest of all recorded last words are probably those of Oliver Goldsmith, who, when asked by his physicians if his mind was at ease, said: "No, it is not." On the other hand, William Hunt's mind seems to have been full of bright thoughts at the moment of his death, for he said: "If I could hold a pen what a book I could write."

Pasture and Darwin, though not belonging to the medical profession, are venerated by his teachers. Darwin's last words were: "I am not the least afraid to die." Pasteur was offered a cup of milk, and being unable to swallow it, murmured: "I cannot." He passed away with one hand in his wife's, the other grasping a crucifix. Lastly are mentioned the last words of Mirabeau, which are said to have been addressed to a doctor, which he gave to his physician, the philosopher "Abanis, the single word "Dormir." Another account which may be an expanded version of this, is that after begging for an anodyne, he said reproachfully to the doctor:

"Were you not my physician and my friend! Did you not promise to spare me the suffering of such a death? Must I go away carrying with me the regret of having counted on you?" This is rather a long and rhetorical speech for a dying man.—British Medical Journal.

Secretary Boaparthe is sure that the only way to reach the trusts is to fine them. Most other people think that cutting off their tariff protection would make them more miserable and moreover help those who consume trust products.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never, poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—only you should always keep, soothed, and ease the inflamed bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a smothering poison. It's strange how some things are constantly warning people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now a little hint—Congress says "Put on the label, if you poison people with your cough mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter, for the very reason, cough and other ailments, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure, or similar poisons. And if it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the difference. No poison marks them! You can always be on the safe side by demanding.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

The number of rural free libraries in the State now approaches the 2,000 mark and almost every day applications for new ones go in.

The weather bureau in Raleigh has put in a complete plant for making the daily maps which are issued. The equipment is one of the best south of Washington. This bureau does considerable work for that at Charleston and has done this for several years.

The January report of the North Carolina department of agriculture shows that during January the total sales amounted to 10,031,692 pounds, of which 9,144,262 was first handled by the warehouses. Winston Salem leads with 1,763,787 pounds, Wilson is second, 1,309,207; Greenville third, with 857,861.

The report on tobacco sales in the warehouses for the State shows how this business has moved from the west towards the east. Some years ago it was very important in the mountain region, but the early frost put a stop to it and now there are no markets in the extreme west. The months of September, October and November showed total sales of 64 million pounds on the warehouse floors; the months of this year showing total sales of 31 millions, so that in the six months since the season opened well on towards 100 million pounds have been handled. Up in the far west a lot of the former tobacco warehouses are now used by men who grow cabbages notably in such places as Hendersonville.

DEMOCRATIC PROGRAMME.

John Sharp Williams, the Democratic leader in Congress has constructed a legislative programme, which should be in harmony with Democratic opinion in Congress, and in the county at large. The more radical may claim that it does not go far enough, while the conservative may hold an opposite opinion. This may be said of it, that it is progressive, without being radical, that it seeks to improve conditions without resorting to untold experiments.

In substance it is as follows: Currency—Require national banks to guarantee their deposits and to keep all their reserves in their own vaults. Authorize the issue of emergency government bonds secured by interconvertible bonds composed of government and State issues, such interconvertible bonds to constitute 50 per cent of the bank reserve.

Labor—Require five days' notice and a hearing in all injunction cases, save those involving jeopardy of life, limb and property. In constructive contempt cases permit hearing before an impartial judge and a trial by jury.

Tariff—Pass a minimum tariff law, with duties 20 per cent lower than at present for purposes of barter with all nations. Enact into law the French reciprocity treaty pigeonholed by the Senate. Remove the duty on coal, permanently. Provide that wherever the existing duty is over 100 per cent it may be reduced to 100 per cent.

Ask for a reconviction of the joint high commission on reciprocal relations with Canada. Reduction of duty on hides and leather and on watches. Put antitoxin on the free list. Free trade in such products as are admitted free into the ports of other nations on the American hemisphere. Free trade with the Philippines. General tariff revision later.

Trusts—Provide against the over capitalization of combinations. Prohibit interstate corporations to make sales of products conditioned on exclusive trading with the seller. Investigate the paper trust.

Shipping—Admit free of duty materials used in the construction of ships. Free ships for trade between the United States and its insular possessions.

Railroads—Require railroads to submit proposed increases in rates to the Interstate Commerce Commission, before putting them into effect, so that shippers may be heard in opposition.

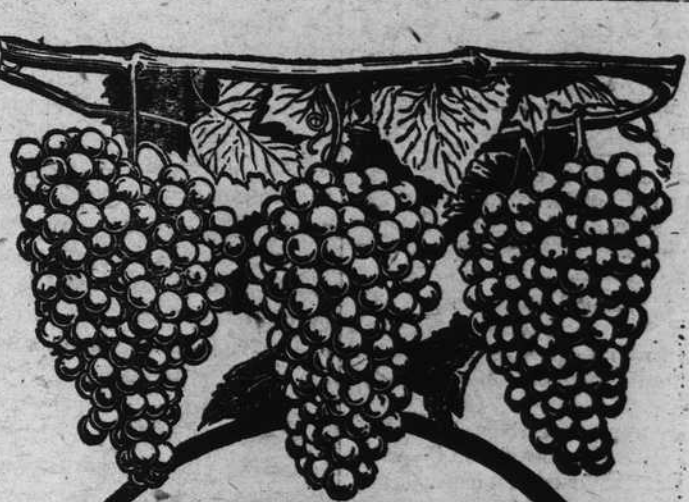

Colonial policy—Independence and neutralization of the Philippines.

Income tax—Try it over again, or amend the Constitution so as to make an income tax possible.

Election of United States Senators by vote of the people, and publicity of the names of contributors to campaign funds.

WEDNESDAY'S CONCERT.

The Schnbert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette made good Wednesday evening. It was decidedly the best of its kind ever heard here. The recitations and readings were far above the average. The same may be said of the singing, in which there were some splendid voices. The star of the evening was young Thomas Purcell. He is an artist of the first class. His performances on the mandolin and violin, were that of a master. If one could not see him and his instruments, the ear would convince that he was playing on two instruments, the air with one, and the accompaniment with the other.

The audience was large and appreciative, repeated encores greeted many numbers. Not only did the performers make good, but better and more gratifying to relate, the Daughters of the Confederacy under whose auspices the concert was given, were placed on the favorable side of the ledger for more than $35.

That the concert was a combined financial and artistic success makes the pleasure twofold.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.

Mexico is to spend $5,776,000 gold to improve the harbor of at Topolobampo.

In England, Scotland, and Ireland in the first six months of 1907 1,149,825 work people got a net wage increase of $524,819 per week, and 204 a net decrease of $122 per week.

The governor of practically every State in his annual message the last year has spoken of the need of modern methods of agriculture and modern agricultural machinery. American success in agriculture and manufactures appeals to Brazilians almost as success in another State of their own country, so strongly do they feel the similarity of American and Brazilian conditions.

Chilean government official report shows there have been 7,854 copper claims worked in Chile at different times, of which only 784 were worked during the last year. Many of these mines are rich in copper, but with the high price of labor and the poor transportation facilities few, if any, can be made to pay at the present low price of copper.

The importation into Italy of petroleum from April 1, 1907, to September 30, 1907 (that is, from the day on which went into effect the reduction in the import duty from $9.26 per quintal of 220.46 pounds to $4.63 per quintal) amounted to 3,449,200 pounds. For the similar period of 1906 the amount imported under the higher duty was only 47,771,689 pounds.

An ice-making machine has been invented at Grasse, France. The important feature is a cylinder in which the chemicals are sealed (the latter not requiring renewal and lasting as long as the machine itself) and which, revolving in water, produces the ice. It can also produce cold air. It has no point piece, no pressure gauge, no suction or regulating valve, and no pipe tap or circulating pump. It requires neither steam nor fuel, and will work in water reaching even 173 degrees Fahrenheit; it saves 90 per cent of cooling water and 70 per cent of motive power as compared with any other freezing system known. It does not require to be fed with chemicals.

The latest statistics on French postal savings banks only come down to 1901. Then there were 7,883 banks, with 4,345,446 deposits, and deposits, including interest due December 31, of $229,158,290. The interest is 2 1/2 per cent, compounded. The MONEY FOR THE SOUTH.

About $10,000 may be secured from the government by people of the South if a bill reported unanimously by the House committee on war claims becomes a law. The bill gives to the court of claims jurisdiction of the claims for captured and abandoned property which was sold during the civil war and the proceeds turned into the United States treasury. During the war the government authorized the seizure of abandoned property, to be sold and the net proceeds placed in the United States treasury. There was a provision that if any one should bring suits within two years after the close of the war and prove that the property sold belonged to him the money received for it should be paid over, but to do this the citizen bringing the suit had to prove loyalty to the Union. This disqualified most Southerners until the amnesty proclamation was declared in 1866 which came too late to take the claims to court, the two years' grace having expired. The object of this bill is to enable the original owners of the confiscated property to get the money it brought when sold.

THE JUMPING OFF PLACE.

"Consumption had me in its grasp; and I had almost reached the jumping off place when I was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery; and I want to say right now, it saved my life. Improvement began with the first bottle, and after taking one dozen bottles I was a well and happy man again," says George Moore, of Grimsland, N. C. As a remedy for coughs and colds and healer of weak, sore lungs and for preventing pneumonia New Discovery is supreme. 50c and $1.00 by all druggists. Trial bottle free.

GENUINE DEMOCRACY.

Democracy means the least amount of government the people can get along with consistent with the fullest enjoyment of the rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, while Republicanism means the greatest amount of government the people will stand for—and he, (Roosevelt) of all men, is the apostle of the maximum quantity of government.—Cham Clark.
