—Oyster farming in America dates back to the year 1851, when certain East River (N. Y.) oystermen, observing that young oysters fastened their great numbers to the shells of other oysters, started the practice of shelving their beds and the ground contiguous to them just before spawning time.

A TARIFF FED CITY.

How Protection Makes Millionaires and Impoverishes Labor.

Four years the death rate from typhoid fever in Pittsburgh has been the highest of any city in the civilized world. Everybody knew it. Everybody knew why. There was no supply of pure drinking water. A filtration plant was needed. Did any Pittsburgh millionaire offer to build it? No; they left a corrupted city government to fight over the appropriation for the work and scattered in endowments and in institutions in other cities and other States, many times the five millions needed in Pittsburgh to save the lives of the workmen.

They hold up to the world for admiration, their love of great material problems; they argue with the American people that their skill in solving these problems is a good and sufficient reason for continuing general taxation in their favor. But a problem which worked out would benefit nobody but the humble $23.40 man who sweats out his life in the heat of his profitable furnace does not interest them. It might as well be paternalism!

This Pittsburgh survey is the most awful arraignment of an American institution and its resulting class prostitution since the days of slavery. It puts upon the Pittsburgh millionaire the awful stamp of greed, of stupidity and of heartless pride. But what should we expect of him? He is the creature of a special privilege which for years he has not needed. He has fought for it because he fattened on it. He must have it for labor. But look at him and look at his laborer and believe him if you can.

Justice takes a terrible revenge on those who thrive by privilege. She blinds their eyes until they no longer see human misery. She dulls their hearts until they no longer beat with humanity. She bewames their senses until they respond only to a narrow horizon of what they can individually possess, touch and feel. She makes, as she has in Pittsburgh, a generation of men and women who day by day can pass hundreds of tumbled down and filthy homes, in which the men and women who make their wealth live, and feel no shock; who can know that deadly fevers and diseases which are preventable are wiping hundreds of those who do their tasks and raise no hand. Little children may die or grow up stunted and evil within their sight and no penny of their wealth, no hour of their leisure is given them. Women may pass hours of lament and toll and die, broken and unburied, within their sight and they raise no hand. The wealth which comes by privilege kills. The curse of justice on those who will not recognize injustice is the sodden mind, the dulled vision, the unfeeling heart.—Ida M. Tarbell in the American Magazine.

Renewal.
Spring's arbor spurs the torpid will; The frugal codder piles his box; And bridal bottles, the robing suit Above the backstair's sprinkled snow.

The ivy takes new gloss, behold. Demure as downward gazing nuns, Fyarl snowdrops on the border grow. And thro' their flies a light wind runs.

The pale anemones are here, Not snow seems chaster, nor the flame Of yonder swan that oars the mere. A star-flake floating on the gloom, Young daisies clot the turf like spume From some spent wave of ebbling green; And air is heavy with the fume Of gorse-lamps lit and burning keen.

The soul's flower bursts the body's sheath; Though blight may slay, it may not bide. Unblown; with fowers the meadows wreaths Late-widowed Earth once more a bride, Light waves of laughing wind de ride The cloistral spirit dimly stirred; A bird sings buoyant on the tide. And all the blood sings with the bird. —Wilfred C. Thorley, in the Spectator.

Chisoom-Dozier.

At the home of the bride in Washington county, near Mackay's Ferry at 11 o'clock, Wednesday morning, F. J. Dozier and Miss Margaret H. Chisoom were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Eben of the Episcopal church.

The home was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens. The Wedding March was played by Mrs. Louis Chessom.

Robt. P. Walker, of Plymouth, was best man, and Miss Eva Chessom was maid of honor.

At 12:40, Mr. and Mrs. Dozier left for Wilmington and New Haven, Conn. They will spend about two weeks on their trip.

Among those present at the wedding were Mrs. Blount, of Rogers; Mrs. Nicholson, of Washington; Mrs. Martha Dozier, of Greenboro; Mrs. J. M. Horton, of Plymouth; Mrs. Abner Chessom, of Chase City, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chessom of Henderson, and Mr. Paul Jones of " " " " " " " "

Grade Survey.

The town commissioners Friday evening met and instructed the mayor and clerk to employ a surveyor to establish street and sidewalk grades.

The minimum width of sidewalks on Main street above the Common was fixed at six feet on all side and back streets, not less than four feet.

As a number of abutting property owners are ready to put down such sidewalks, the survey will be made as soon as possible.

This survey it is hoped to make as complete as possible, establishing not only street grades for the numerous drains through the town.

Great Young Americans.

The history of the United States shows that it is no uncommon thing for young men to achieve national fame and to be intrusted with important public functions.

It is possible that at the present time the average age of local or municipal officers is less than formerly; but it is a fact that the high officers of the States and the nation have from the first often been held by young men.

At the very beginning of the Republic, Thomas Jefferson in the Continental Congress, wrote the Declaration of Independence when he was thirty-three. He had entered the Virginia Legislature at twenty-six, an honor obtained prominence there.

Alexander Hamilton surpassed his great opponent, Jefferson, in early advancement. He was a member of Congress at twenty-five, and a member of President Washington's Cabinet at thirty-two. James Madison was a Congressman at twenty-nine, and John Randolph at twenty-six; while John Quincy Adams was appointed Minister to the Netherlands when only twenty-seven.

SAVINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON.

Being the Confessions of the Seven Hundredth Wife and Translated by Helen Roland For the Washington Herald.

Hearken unto my counsel, my daughter, and thou shalt fear not any man. For a woman is as the X in algebra, an unknown quantity; but a man is an almanac riddle, to which the answer is always easy.

Tremble not when he blustereth, for he is like unto the March Wind, which roareth and rouseth but acquiesceth noisily. Hearken unto him silently, and when he hath done speaking go thine own way untroubled, for behold! he hath taken it all out in words.

Yes, all the days of thy married life thou shalt rule the roost; for in matrimony he that getteth his satisfaction getteth his way.

When a man declaimeth loudly against marriage, agree with him, saying, "Verily, it is as thou hast described, an unattractive thing, and I am confirmed old maid," but proceed to collect thy trousseau and save thy calling cards printed in his name, for thou shalt need them.

Yet be not deceived by a mild man, nor by him who seemeth easy; for when such an one striketh a decision he sticketh thereto—even as chewing gum to the fingers of a babe. He answereth not back nor argueth the point with thee because he hath no intention of doing aught but that which pleaseth him. Many shall waste the years of their youth upon him because he looketh like a good thing; but the maid that seeketh to draw him into matrimony against his will is as one that seeketh to soften a cheap shoe or coax a cat in to the water.

Verily, my daughter, a berr that groweth can be tamed and led around upon a chain; but a fox that goeth softly wandereth where he listeth, nor falleth into a trap, nor calleth any woman "master!" Selah!

JUST IN TIME.

Some Tarboro People May Wait Till Their Too Late.

Don't wait until too late. Be sure to be in time. Just in time with kidney pills. Means curbing the back. Before backache becomes chronic. Before serious urinary troubles set in.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this. Here is testimony to prove it. Turner Althrock, Greenwood St., Seaside Neck, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have proved of great value to me. I suffered severely from a lame back and sharp pains through my joints, making it impossible for me to turn over in bed. When the attacks were at their height, I was lame and sore and could hardly get around. If I attempted to lift or straighten after stooping, sharp pains dashed through me and caused me to suffer intensely. My kidneys were disordered and the secretions were frequent in passage. I used every remedy that was brought to my attention but received no relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. They banished the lameness and pains through my back and corrected the difficulty with the kidney secretions. At present I feel better in every way. I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney complaint."

What Awaits This Eager Pace.

(John Burroughs.) I stay my haste, I make delays. For what awaits this eager pace? I stand amid the eternal ways. And what is mine shall know my face.

The waters know their own and draw The brook that springs in yonder height; So flows the good with equal law Into the soul of pure delight. The stars come nightly to the sky; The tidal wave unto the sea; Nor time, nor space, nor deep, nor high. Can keep my own away from me. —From Published Poems.

Want Girls Taught Housewifery.

The care of gas stoves and babies is believed to be more important to girl students in the schools than the knowledge of logarithms and spherics, at Atlantic City, N. J., and members of the Women's Research club have notified the Board of Education and petitioned it to fit up model kitchens and other paraphernalia in which household science and economy can be taught to advantage.

The experiment will be tried in the new $150,000 grammar school to be erected this year and will be extended to other schools if successful. Even the pliancy of sweeping and dusting will be in the curriculum, along with scientific instruction in the details of housekeeping.

A HEAVY STORM.

Wind, Lightning and Rain All Do Damage.

Friday night rain fell in torrents aggregating 3.6 inches. Streets, roads and fields have been badly washed. Streams become greatly swollen. The river at this place, so great was the downpour rose two and a half feet.

Lightning was vivid and severe. Here it struck the feed wire to the spooling back of J. M. Dixon's poolroom, about half past eleven, killing the gas which burned as it flowed out, sending up a flame several feet high.

The first alarm was sounded to which, notwithstanding the heavy down pour, the firemen promptly responded. But little damage was done by the wind. The stable of the Dunbar farm, sheltering 21 horses and mules were blown down, three mules were killed and seven others more or less injured, a loss that probably exceeded $2,000.

W. P. Thorne's house four miles from here was blown over and then a tree was blown down on that. Not far from him a tree was blown on a tenant house. It was a double house and one end occupied. Fortunately the tree fell on the unoccupied end.

The house of W. P. Thorne was not blown over as first reports stated, it was moved about four feet. A tree nearly did fall but not on the house. Mr. Thorne was in the house at the time, but when it began to move he did also. It is said that he beat the wind as it blew.

The fact that eight casualties in December were no greater is due to the fact that James Ruffin never shuts his stable doors, but permits his horses and mules, after eating to come into the lot. Half were out when the building fell.

Two mules Mr. Ruffin found so injured that death would be a mercy, so he killed them. Two others were so seriously injured that he is doubtful whether he is doing right to permit them to suffer so long and so much. Several others are injured but not so seriously as the others and there are hopes they will recover, but even yet it is too soon to predict.

In some places there was hail. At the County Home there was quite a heavy fall. At the Cromwell farm between here and Old Sparta, there was also a light fall.

—A recorder's court seems to stretch the county commissioners. One county commissioner should study figures, cases and defendants, then draw their conclusions and not leave it to others.
