The rising tide of Democracy is so high that we hope that the Peerless Williams Jennings Bryn will be submerged.

Senators Aldrich and Hale have announced their declination to be Senators again, on account of their health. The public health would probably have been better had they never been Senators.

It may be that the next political platform adopted by a National Convention may mean something that the voters really understand.

The next presidency is settled. Taft is to have Roosevelt elected and then Roosevelt is to appoint Taft Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The system it is said to approve.

Beveridge's First Speech. Indianapolis tell a story of Senator Beveridge's entrance in politics when he was little more than a boy. He won the liking of the governor of the State by a quaint little speech he made during the presentation of a petition by a delegation. The speaker was an insufferably long-winded and tedious. The man talked to the Governor nearly an hour, during which every one stood. To all it seemed that it would never end. When however, it finally did, the governor asked wearily if the delegates wished to offer any further reasons for the granting of the petition. Whereupon Beveridge remarked: "If you don't grant it, governor, we'll have that speech repeated to you." — Lippincott's.

Universe Running Down. It is absolutely certain that the machinery of the solar system is running down. The earth, with its mass of 3,000 trillion tons moving through space a thousand times faster than the express train goes, is being retarded by the friction of the atmosphere and tides to the extent that it loses about an hour in 16,000 years—a very slow process, it would seem, but one that will inevitably bring the earth to a standstill ultimately. And what is true of the earth is true of all the worlds and suns. Sir Isaac Newton maintained that the motions of all bodies in space suffer retardation, and that their velocity is steadily becoming less and will finally cease. Solar systems, like everything else, have their time to be born and their time to die.—Chicago Examiner.

The Editor's Paradise. Frederick C. Beyer, a well-known Cleveland editor, told at a recent press banquet a newspaper story. "A Media editor died," he said, "and was of course directed to ascend to the abode of the just. But during the ascent the editor's journalistic curiosity asserted itself, and he said: "Is it permitted for one to have a look at the—er—the other place?" "Certainly," was the gracious reply, and accordingly a descent to the other place was made. Here the editor found much to interest him. He scurried about, and was soon lost to view.

"His angelic escort got worried at last and began a systematic search for his charge. He found him at last seated before a furnace fanning himself and gazing at the people in the fire. On the door of the furnace was a plate saying, 'Delinquent Subscribers.'"

"Come said the angel to the editor, 'we must be going.' "You go on," the editor answered, without lifting his eyes. "I'm not coming. This is heaven enough for me." — Louisville Times.

THE TWO JONES.

A Duality That Explains the Opposition to the Re-election of Present Mayor.

The Southerner has no desire to misrepresent Mayor Jones, but on the contrary to do him justice. We have at all times given him credit for good intentions; but his promise fails so far short of performance that we have to record our opposition to him, and insist that he is not the man that Tarboro or any other town should have for Mayor, its executive officer.

The following incident should make our meaning clear and give his supporters serious thought. What we state is not hearsay, or street report, but is from first hands.

In his capacity as Superintendent of Health, Dr. S. P. Bass inspected the market house and reported conditions to the mayor and to the Southerner, which promptly published them.

When Mayor Jones was informed of the conditions he informed the health officer that the stenches and other unsanitary conditions of the market house had caused him to rent an armory elsewhere for the Edgecombe Guards, of which he was captain.

Clothed with most ample authority by the common law, the statute law, the ordinances of his town, what comment could be more to the point to illustrate his inefficiency as the executive officer of the town than the reproduction of his admission.

WASHINGTON LETTER. (From Our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C. April 23, 1910. The past week has furnished nothing startling from a legislative or an executive point of view at the capital of the United States. Business is not the slightest abatement of interest in the political situation.

Wherever men of information and prominence in political affairs come together, the election of Havens Democrat in New York, to succeed Perkins Republican deceased and this election reversing a 10,000 Republican majority, practically changing 15,000 votes is regarded as extremely significant of general dissatisfaction with the national political situation and programme. As far as can be discerned the dissatisfaction is mainly with the tariff bill of the special session.

and the President's persistent approval of it. It seems to be in vain that Senator Aldrich and Representative Payne and the President point to the fact that the revenues of the government are increasing, and that there is fair prosperity under the present tariff. The election in New York coming so quickly upon the heels of Foss's victory in Massachusetts is regarded as indicative of a nationwide movement which only Roosevelt can stem. Otherwise, "Will Roosevelt be able to lead?" Will he not rather join K. T. Wilson can tell. It is certain that the country is following the triumphant procession of Roosevelt in Europe more closely than the standpoint of the President in Washington.

During the week the episode of the visit of the editor of the New York American, William Randolph Hearst, to Washington, his local interview with the President and his subsequent eulogy of Taft given to the press, has been much commented on. He was received at the Capitol by members and Senators with it appears almost as much enthusiasm as was Bryan a few days before. There are those who say that Mr. Hearst is playing for the presidential nomination in 1912.

Much interest and significance is attached to the announcement by Senators Aldrich and Hale that their senatorial terms will by their own volition end on the 4th of March next. These Senators and the best of the little coterie in the Senate has very completely ruled in the highest legislative body for a long term of years. Mr. Hale, I believe, is seventy-four years old and Mr. Aldrich sixty-eight. They belong rather to a past political era than that of the present. They are both to a degree provincial "down-East" statesmen and are not in accord with the broader, more modern and more progressive sentiment of the nation. The oncoming younger class of statesmen as represented by Cummins, Beveridge, LaFollette and J. P. Morgan more nearly represent the feeling of the nation with reference to domestic and foreign policies. There continues to be considerable interest in the question of an international exposition to celebrate the completion of the interoceanic canal at Panama, New Orleans, San Diego, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Washington and all reaching out for the exposition. Considerable rivalry is already apparent and these five cities are looking toward Congress for money. Congress has had much experience with expositions at Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Buffalo, New Orleans and Seattle. All these were in a sense provincial expositions. It is time and meet that we should have a distinctively National exposition. The city of Washington has reached that degree of expansion and prominence that even if it were not the capital of the country, it would be entitled to celebrate an event so emphatically national. It is time that the European and Asiatic world, and I may say the American world also, should learn that there is a capital of the United States. The government at the capital should celebrate the most stupendous accomplishment in the completion of the greatest work ever undertaken by man. There is but one logical place for such a celebration. It can be held at Washington at one-half the expense, not only to the nation but to the hundreds of thousands that will visit it as compared with the other cities mentioned. The foreign countries that will send exhibits of art and manufactures to the Exposi-

HANDICAPPED.

This is the Case With Many Tarboro People.

Too many Tarboro citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The increasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and sleeping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sore kidneys and cure them permanently. Can you doubt Tarboro evidence.

J. Frank Powell, West Tarboro N. C. says: "Last spring I had a back of La Grippe and after that suffered from backache and pains across my loins. If I stooped or lifted sharp pains darted through my body causing me great misery. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me and I procured a box at Cook's Drug Store. I can say that they gave me more relief than any other remedy I had ever tried. The contents of one box removed all symptoms of my trouble and I have not had a return attack. Doan's Kidney Pills have certainly done me a great deal of good and I implore to recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

The Demon of the Air is the germ of LaGrippe, that, breathed in brings suffering to thousands. Its after effects are weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, energy and ambition, with disordered liver and kidneys. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the splendid tonic, blood purifier and regulator of Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system and restore health and good spirits after an attack of Grip. If suffering try them. Only 50c. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed by W. H. Macnair.

tion can do it more effectively and economically by landing them at Washington than by sending them across the continent to San Francisco or Los Angeles, or by the Gulf to New Orleans.

Day.

The hills look over to the South, And southward greets the sea; And with the sea breeze hand in hand, Came innocuous and free.

Oh, there were flowers in Storrington, On the turf and on the spray; But the sweetest flower on Sussex hills Was the Daisy flower that day.

Her beauty smoothed earth's furrowed face. She gave me tokens three— A look, a word of her winsome mouth And a wild raspberry.

A berry red, a guileless look, A still word—strings of sand, And yet they made my wild, wild heart Fly down to her little hand.

For, standing ardent as the air, And candid as the skies, She took the berries with her hand And the love with her sweet eyes.

The fairest things have fleeting end; Their scent survives their cheer, But the rose's sweet is bitterest To him that loved the rose.

She looked a little wistfully, Then went her sunshine way— The sea's eye had a mist on it, And the leaves fell from the day.

She went, her unremembering way— She went and left in me The pearls of all the partings gone, And partings yet to be.

She left me wondering why my soul Was sad that she was glad; As all the sadness in the sweet, The sweetness in the sad.

Still, still I seemed to see her, still Look up with soft replies, And take the berries with her hand, And the love with her lovely eyes. —Francis Thompson.
