AN UNPRINCIPLED OPPORTUNIST

Cleveland, June 8.—A severe arraignment of the Southern States for their failure to properly educate the negro was delivered here to night in an address by former Governor R. B. Glenn of North Carolina. Mr. Glenn declared that eleven Southern States, where the negroes form 40 per cent of the population only 15 per cent of the school fund is devoted to their education. He was speaking at the Euclid Avenue Christian Church.

"This leads," he said "to an increase in crime and immorality and especially to the illiterate leadership. There are 20,000 negro preachers who exercise an enormous influence over nine million negroes. About ten per cent of these have received more than primary education and the remaining 27,000 are ignorant men who are framing the destinies of millions of their fellows."

What will not a dirty dog do! The idea of Bob Glenn proclaiming injustice to the negro when demagogue that he is, and always has been, scorned his nomination as Governor of this good old State by proclaiming, regardless of the Constitution, that he favored the negro educating himself out of the money he paid for taxes and the whites from what they paid.

This Bob Glenn did in this county and adjoining counties, and then became wrath at Dou and Henry Gilliam and this editor, because he told him in plain words that we would stand for no such unfairness.

The assiduity of some so called reformers is more than damnable. Had it not been for his tirades against the negro in his prenomination campaign, North Carolina would have had a gentlemanly Governor, Charles Manly Steadman, instead of an unprincipled opportunist, and an official jackal.

TAX VALUATION TALK.

Until new assessments of realty are made what the Southerner may say is to awaken the public conscience for the inequalities must exist till next year when a new reappraisal of real property is to be made. Farm lands are so unequally valued that it is timely now to draw attention to the injustice done other taxpayers or certain phases of property. The tax lists will show in over half of the county land is valued at one-fifth of the price it would bring. In one township could be named a tract of land valued, or rather assessed at $3,900, whose owner could sell in the market for probably $30,000.

We know of a lady with $850 solvent credits, in other words she has $850 that she is lending out at 6 per cent. There is a farm of 200 acres adjoining this township, assessed for taxation for $850; yet that farm is mortgaged for over $8,500 and the security is regarded as good that the land is not sold. The holder of the debt probably gives it in as a solvent credit. This is our tax situation, and it is shameful.

June 1827 and 1910.

Older citizens because of the protracted rains and the high water are claiming much similarity for the two periods. The chief difference is the time of the month the wet spell lasted; this June it was the first half of the month and the last in 1827.

The life R. H. Austin kept a weather diary for many years, but at that time he had no rain gauge, so the rainfall is not known.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Special Correspondent.) Washington, D. C. June 11, 1910. Hon. E. C. Stanley, a member of Congress from Kentucky, has presented a unique bill in Congress. It is to provide a government cold storage plant in Washington. He insists that such a plant will more than pay for itself in saving the government thousands of dollars yearly. Dr. Wiley, the distinguished government chemist and advocate of pure food laws, expresses his approval of the Stanley bill. He says a government ice house will result in better provisions for the army and out of the enormous profits of the meat trust. A cold storage plant built by the government according to the statement of his bill, will cost a million and a half and it is provided that the Secretary of the Treasury shall buy a site, proceed at once to build a model storage house for meats but, vegetables and other foods are issued to the army and naval forces of the United States.

The bill has another purpose in that it will give the government a chance to study and learn the cost of keeping perishable foods in a healthful condition without taking the evidence of interested and prejudiced men. In the employ of the trusts. Moreover, it will save thousands yearly by supplying food to the army and navy and to Soldiers' Homes situated in Washington and to other soldiers' homes in different parts of the country. In his argument in favor of the bill, Representative Stanley says that the most odious and oppressive of all trusts is the food trust, and he points out that although the cold storage men protest that they are an industry, they have been discredited, it is universally believed that cold storage is in the hands of the trust in one of the main causes of the high price of foods.

Congressman Stanley and Dr. Wiley have been in correspondence. In a recent letter to Dr. Wiley, Mr. Stanley asked his opinion with reference to the feasibility and advantages of the cold storage plants. In this letter he said: "It is certain that cold storage men are in the habit of keeping meat and other foods long after they cease to be wholesome. The government experiments great difficulty in obtaining accurate information and must necessarily depend upon expert statements of interested parties." In replying to this letter Dr. Wiley said: "In regard to the subject of cold storage in Washington, in so far as facilitating our investigations on the storage of food is concerned, I am free to say it would be of greatest advantage. A government warehouse which could collaborate with us in securing definite degrees of refrigeration would be advantageous. Dr. Wiley declared that cattle are sold from his farm near Washington and bought by the consumers at less than half the prices charged in Washington or any other city where it is necessary to buy cold storage meat. Mr. Stanley argues that if Dr. Wiley is correct in his statements the government will quickly be repaid for the money invested in a cold storage plant, and moreover, that the military and naval forces of the country will be supplied with a better quality of staples than Mr. Stanley says that the plant could be operated by the government at a minimum cost and that inasmuch as the government has refused to buy tobacco from the tobacco trust or powder from the powder trust, there is no reason why it may not make every effort to obtain its supply of meat independent of meat trust, which has been doing time again and is not in a position to be sold to the government. He says that it is not intended to have the government go into the meat business, but has much as the government is the largest purchaser of meat and other like products it is its duty to the tax payer to secure provisions the most economical way.

During the last year more than a million of dollars was expended for meat for the soldiers' home alone. The army expended over two million of dollars for fresh meats, to say nothing of bacon and lard. The navy bill for beef was $400,000 at the rate of 13c per pound. The fresh meat for the navy was fifteen millions. Besides, we purchased thousands of pounds of fresh beef, mutton, lamb, and other like meats furnished this food at exorbitant cost to the government and a tameness profit to themselves.

We advertise to send our 5 ton steel frame Pitless Scale on approval. Misunderstanding a letter from L. D. Egles who only wanted a price we will soon have a scale at Maclefield, which will be sold at a reduction to save storage or re-shipping. The first reasonable offer will be taken. BOOMING MANCHURIA.

China Helping Her Own People to Settle There. A fine exhibition of native products recently took place in Kirin, capital of the central province of Manchuria. A short list of the articles exposed will give a fair idea of the wealth of this corner of the Chinese Empire.

There were tiger and leopard skins, white fox, sable; otter, squirrel, badger; beaver; ferret; wolf; wild dog; cat; bear; deer; sheep and lamb skins; gold dust; silver ore; pearls; glass; rice; wheat; barley; buckwheat; Indian corn; several varieties of millet; hemp; beans; bean cake and bean oil; tobacco of excellent quality; indigo; saffron seed and potatoes.

All these bespeak a rich agricultural country, writes a correspondent of "America" one which would be much improved by further railway expansion and the introduction of foreign machinery, ploughs and modern agricultural implements. Among other valuable products are also wood, frank and medicinal herbs. The oak, chestnut, elm maple and poplar grow to a large size and could well be exported to other parts of the empire, but in China (inter-provincial trade is little developed), "highways" that may lead to the title of good roads are rare and Miksa barriers oppose an insurmountable obstacle to the expansion of trade.

The city of Kirin is a great industrial and trading centre and the head of steam navigation on the Sun garriver. Two new steamers are now being built by the government for the traffic on this river. Communication with Kuangchong on the South Manchurian railway line will also be soon established. When the Antung-Manchurian railway is completed Japan intends connecting Kirin with the Korean railway system, thereby gathering into her orbit the agricultural products mentioned above, i. e. the whole harvest of the finest and richest parts of Manchuria.

To induce foreigners, other than Russia and Japan to settle in Kirin the government is marking out the limits of an international settlement. It is situated outside the main wall and will be two miles in length on one broad. Officers of the Imperial Maritime Customs were opened in the city in the early part of the year. A Constitutional Assembly Hall is already erected and has cost 50,000 taels. Schools are being built with all possible haste and are largely attended. The students have imbued the new patriotic spirit and show everywhere a marked hatred of Japan. Owing to their agitation a boycott is still maintained against Japanese goods.

To resist the influx of foreign soldiers (that is from Russia and Japan) in Manchuria, the Chinese government has recently started an emigration movement, principally to the north and north-eastern parts of the country. In two regions in length towns are springing up which the mushroom rapidity of American cities in the far West. Many places destroyed during the Boxer crisis have again a Chinese population three times as numerous as before. The government encourages these settlers against Russia and Japan. They are generally reserve soldiers, and being trained to bear arms, will prove helpful in all cases of trouble with the now invading element.

To enable them to settle quickly a loan is advanced for traveling expenses, that saving of seed and land outfit. Within ten years the emigrants have to pay to the government all these advances. This obligation is shown that China is the wide awake to the danger and the loss of the mountain in Manchuria and is firmly resolved to hold her own against all outsiders who may wish to settle within her frontiers and exploit her wealth for their own purposes.

America has her racial and economic problems. The white race and labor must be protected against the "yellow peril." China on the other side of the Pacific, is confronted with the same problems in Manchuria and puts into practice the lesson given by the States.—New York Sun.

BRENAU & SHORTER CO. LEASES AND CONSERVATION. Gainesville, Rome Ga. March 15th, 1910. Mr. Chas. M. Stieff, Baltimore, Md. Dear Sir:

The unimpaired growth of our Conservatory and the present presentation of our Conservatory through the consolidation of the Faculty of Shorter College with the Faculty of Sparta renders it necessary to advise you to place with you an order for piano equipment, and we wish twenty $1,000 pianos, which please select for us with great care and ship in time to reach us not later than September first.

We have in our Conservatory pianos of the most famous manufacturers, and in consideration of the fact it should be a source of gratification to you that we are able to say that this order for your pianos is due to our very satisfactory experience of the pianos that we have placed in our Conservatory (and also in Shorter College), and it is of interest also that this purchase gives us no fewer than seventy $1,000 pianos—probably a greater number than the entire equipment of any other woman's college in America.

Very truly yours, H. J. PEARCE, T. J. SIMMONS, Presidents. CHAS. M. STIEFF, of the Artistic Stieff Piano and Stieff Self-Player Pianos. W. M. BAGWELL, Manager.

Battle and vicinity. Farm work is at a stand still and very little has been done in an entire week of the almost continuous rain.

One of the heaviest rains that the oldest inhabitant can remember fell in the 24th X Roads section Friday, June 11. Early in the morning the heaviest rain has ever known to fall in the county. Much damage has been done especially by washing away many bridges have been washed away and the roads especially the hills and lowlands, have been in a bad condition.

The crop in this section has been very low, but on low lands the crop has been practically destroyed in many places.
