

The Tarborough Southerner.

BE SURE YOU ARE RIGHT; THEN GO AHEAD.—D Crockett

VOL. 88, NO. 34

TARBORO, N. C. THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1910.

ESTABLISHED 1822

A HAPPY HOME

Is one where health abounds, with impure blood there cannot be good health. With a disordered LIVER there cannot be good blood.

Tutt's Pills

revivify the torpid LIVER and restore its natural action.

A healthy LIVER means pure blood. Pure blood means health. Health means happiness. Take no substitute. All Druggists.

Privileges Of Women.

The women of the Wyandotte tribe of Indians constituted four-fifths of the civil council of the tribe but had no voice in the military council and the reason they were so numerous in the civil council was that most of the occupations of the tribe were in their hands. They had charge of all industries and took care of the children, but were not deemed capable of helping their lords with opinions in matters of war, which were the main interests of the tribe. Tacitus says that Germans of ancient times consult their women in all grave matters, but women did most of the work, except the fighting. German women own the household goods and they were benefited from them because the German men did not concern themselves with any such things.

—It does not pay to plant cheap and inferior seed. Buy the Old Reliable Landreth's seed and you know you've got the best. For sale only at Macnair's Drug Store.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Having qualified as administrator of the estate of James K. Lawrence late of Edgecombe county notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against said estate to present them duly proven on or before Aug. 31, 1911, or this notice will be placed in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to the estate must make immediate payment.

THEO. LAWRENCE, Adm.

G. M. T. FOUNTAIN & Son, Attys.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Having qualified as administrator of the estate of E. L. Roberson late of Edgecombe county notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against my intestate to present them duly proven on or before July 28th, 1911 or this notice will be placed in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to the estate must make immediate payment.

JANIE M. ROBERSON, Adm.

W. O. HOWARD, G. M. T. FOUNTAIN, Attys.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Having qualified as administrator of the estate of Ada Howerton late of Edgecombe county, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against her estate to present them duly proven on or before Aug. 11, 1911 or this notice will be placed in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to the estate must make immediate payment.

W. G. CLARK, Adm.

G. M. T. FOUNTAIN & SON, Attys.

NEW PROPOSITION:

Cummings & Little will give you cash coupon tickets with every cash purchase you make in their store, which will entitle you to chinaware free. Ask for coupons. Special prices on High Grade Coffees and Teas.

CUMMINGS & LITTLE.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

DIAMOND BRAND. Bowers of Constipation. Refuse All Substitutes. Add your Druggist for CHICHESTER'S PILLS. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist and ask for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS. For twenty-five cents a box. Sold by all druggists. EVERYWHERE TESTED.

FREY'S VERMIFUGE

is the same good, old-fashioned medicine that has cured the lives of little children for the past 60 years. It is a medicine made to cure. It is never known to fail. If your child is sick get a bottle of FREY'S VERMIFUGE. A FINE TONIC FOR CHILDREN. Do not take a substitute. If your druggist does not keep it send twenty-five cents in stamps to E. S. FREY, Baltimore, Md. and a bottle will be mailed you.

"THE SINS OF THE FATHER."

Dixon Play to Open in Norfolk, Va. Just Five Years after "The Clansman."

The same Southern city and the same theatre that were the birthplace of "The Clansman" in 1905 will start Thomas Dixon's new play, "The Sins of the Fathers"—Just five years later to a day. The Academy of Music Norfolk, was the scene of "The Clansman" inaugural. There on September 21, 22 next "The Sins of the Fathers" will be seen for the first time, and here a few weeks later.

Theatrical folk associate good luck with the birthplace of famous plays. Manager George H. Brennan and Playwright Thos. Dixon are firm believers in the oldwater Virginia city. And there's another interesting resemblance between record breaking success of 1905 and the keenly awaited premier of 1910. "The Sins of the Fathers" deals with a vital, throbbing race question also.

The New work is not a "Clansman" number two or a "Clansman" sequel in any sense. It is entirely original and novel. Yet the thread of the story depends on the question of "a taint in the blood." Newspapers have voiced popular indignation on this subject, legislature have passed stringent laws a ban has been put on the old mixed marriages. Mr. Dixon is the first to see the tremendous emotional and dramatic possibilities of such a theme and to express them in a play.

After opening in Norfolk on September 21 and 22, the new play will be presented in the principal Southern cities. It will be mounted even more lavishly than Manager Brennan's previous efforts and will be interpreted by actors who are specialists in the delineation of its characteristic types.

Farming in Japan.

Those who despise the power of the Japanese people should correct their estimates by a study of the agricultural prodigies of this most capable race. In warlike final victory rests with the commensurate, and the last objective of all military operations is the command of the wheat fields—the rice fields. Nations are strong not in proportion to their natural resources, but in proportion to their ability to make much of what they have.

Now, Japan does its farming in a way that is, from a military point of view, simply formidable. It supports a population of 51,000,000 on an area of arable land that could be contained in a circle with a radius of 75 miles—considerably less than the distance from New York to Philadelphia. There are more farms than are called "worn out" in New England and the Middle States than would equal the whole of the tillable surface of the Japanese islands. Our lands are "worn out" of course, merely because our scant skillful fickle patience are exhausted and not because they do not contain under their hidebound sods the making for food of millions. The teeming little farms of present-day Japan were cropped a thousand years before the Pilgrims landed on the Plymouth sands.—New York American.

Home Coming Week.

Thousands of North Carolinians have migrated to all parts of the country. This State has played a great part in the winning of the west and in the development of all sections. North Carolina virility, pluck and ability have proved notable factors in many other States. People from the Old North State have set their mark every where but have never lost their love for their mother State, North Carolina. Complete arrangements have been made for the great "Home-Coming Jubilee and Reunion" for all persons born in North Carolina; this to be held at Raleigh during the fiftieth State Fair, October 17-22. Mayor J. S. Wynne is chairman and Fred A. Olds secretary of the committee which has this matter in charge and they desire to obtain the names and addresses, as far as possible, of any people from this community who now reside in other States, in order that invitations may be sent them.

Misnamed Children.

Russell Sage Montgomery Spent his coin in Pomery Nothing did his assets yield, And he lies in potter's field. Adeline Patti Maher Never sang a single bar; In her judgement, you'd rejoice If you ever heard her voice.

Waldo Emerson O'Toole Never went to school. He was plainly marked by Fate For the champion welterweight.

—The Widow.

—Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all druggists.

"Brassie has an awful nerve."

"What did he do?"

"Waited in an umbrella store till the rain was over."—Buffalo Express.

UNUSUAL SHIPPING CONDITIONS.

Overwhelming Congestion of Baled Cotton at New York, Steamship Lines Swamped, Other Ports Loose in Exports.

The congestion of baled cotton at New York following built-up operations of the so-called Patzen pool has created a condition in shipping circles there which on the surface would be indicative of the early re-establishment of the county's trade balance were it not for the abnormal quantity of the staple brought here for delivery by the steamship lines. These have been swamped with freight all through June and July and it is only now that the vessels engaged in transatlantic freight can find accommodations for passage. What New York gained in exports of cotton, however, was lost by New Orleans, Galveston, Savannah and other Southern ports, the cotton exports for July covering the entire country showing a decrease over 1909 of 20,000,000 pounds. At New York however, exports of merchandise during July increased upwards of $5,000,000.

In Memoriam.

Charles Franklin Jenkins was the son of Nora O. and the late Samuel P. Jenkins. He was born March 12th, 1855, and died July 14th, 1910. "The Lord giveth him and the Lord taketh him away, Blessed be the name of the Lord."

Weep not dear mother for your child, Who has gone from us forever. While he is laid in the deep cold ground. His soul is safe in Heaven.

"Oh God, how divine thy love," "how manifold thy blessings." When death comes to us in youth, it gives us the more years in Heaven. How I will miss dear little Franklin his bright beaming face, his sweet gentle manner, was always beautiful to me. His walk in life was true, loving and christian like always ready to do what was right and good. How my heart goes out for you dear mother, fond sister and brother, how deeply I sympathize. A place is made vacant in your happy home which never can be filled. I know it is hard, oh so hard, to give up your bright little life but I believe your heart is too concentered to God, "who doeth all things well, to feel that Franklin is not better off in his heaven of rest, than on earth where only trials and bitter temptations are ours.

There we know he is safe from it all and has simply paid the debt we all have to pay, only a little while before, and in time to add one other to your little group of loved ones, who so anxiously wait to welcome "Mother and wife" to complete their circle of love and add the greatest and grandest voice to their choir in singling praise to their King.

A great consolation and comfort to you, dear mother, is to know all was done for him that the very best physician and nurse could do, not one thing left undone every call for me was granted, and she was soon by his side not to leave her dear child until he consented for her to go. The words from his sweet lips "I love my Mama" "I love my Mama," I hate to give my Mama up, was enough to inflict a scar upon the heart which it seems impossible now to ever heal. But may God, in his Almighty Wisdom and goodness, be with the heart stricken mother, fond sister and brother in the daily lonely hours of their bereavement and show to them that "their loss is His eternal gain" and he needed dear sweet Franklin as now wearing the beautiful golden wings he wished for in the picture over his bed and viewing Heaven in all its glory to tell his loved ones, as he meets them at the gate, how beautiful it is, and how happy he will be to dwell together on the shores of Eternity in everlasting peace and love forever.

"In that beautiful place he has gone to prepare. For all who are washed and forgiven. And many dear children shall be with him there. For such is the kingdom of Heaven." A Friend.

SHAKE INTO YOUR SHOES

Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder. It cures painful, smarting, nervous feet, and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous, tired, aching feet. Always use it to break in new shoes. Try it today. Sold everywhere. By mail for 25 cents in stamps. Don't accept any substitutes. For FREE trial package, address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Little Howard came in the other day, crying and rubbing several bumps caused by a series of "bumps" administered by a pot sheep.

"Well, Howard," said his sympathetic auntie, "what did you do when the sheep knocked you down?"

"I didn't do anything. I was getting up all the time."—The Delinquent.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES

ISRAEL'S KING REJECTED. Matthew 21:1-17—August 25. "Reverence to the Son of David! Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the Highest!"

ALTHOUGH God foreknew and the prophets foretold that the Jewish nation would reject Jesus and not receive him as their King, nevertheless, everything was done as though the results were not foreknown and foretold. The tabernacle was built. Today's study illustrates this. Jesus offered himself to Israel as their Messianic King, just five days before his crucifixion, and on the exact day upon which, as the Lamb of God, he should have been received by them, in order that they might have been "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation was "passed over" and, as a nation, become the antitypical Levites from amongst whom would have been selected the antitypical priests. Their failure to receive Jesus at the appointed time did not at all interfere with the Divine arrangement and foretold. The antitypical Levites were selected, although the spiritual priests were rejected, although the nation