Harry Thaw is going to make an other fight to show how insane he is about being sane.

Cupid is packing up his arrows and coming back from the seashore with the rest of the vacationers.

Thanksgiving turkeys are going to be much higher this year, but it is too early to worry about that.

If we could only live on advice like the abundant Roosevelt how it would help this high cost of living business.

"Down with the demagogue and up with the patriot", shouts ex-Vice President Fairbanks. Is't Long Chancery a little rough on his late chief?

Texas has passed a law prohibiting a saloon within ten miles of a schoolhouse. It is thus that the cause of education is impeded in the grand old State.

THE POLITICAL DR. COOK.

The Springfield, Mass., Republic prints a letter from Mrs. Bellamy Storer, written in France, Sept. 6 reviewing the controversy between the Storers and Mr. Roosevelt concerning the former President's alleged authorization of the former ambassador to Austria Hungary to visit Pope Pius X and ask him as a personal favor to the President of the United States to make Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, a cardinal.

Letters written by the archbishop in 1903 and 1904 hitherto unpublished, are quoted by Mrs. Storer to show that at repeated interviews in the White House between the archbishop and the President, Mr. Roosevelt acknowledged that he had commissioned Mr. Storer to act as his personal envoy at the Vatican in behalf of the archbishop. Mr. Roosevelt has hitherto publicly denied that Mr. Storer was ever authorized to represent him in this manner and the Ireland letters now published by Mrs. Storer have the effect of making much sharper the issue of veracity between the Storers and the ex President.

Mrs. Storer's letter to the Republican also seeks to prove on the testimony of Archbishop Ireland that President Roosevelt promised to make Mr. Storer United States Ambassador either at Paris or London; and there is included still another letter alleged to have been written by Mr. Roosevelt to Mr. Storer, just after the Presidential election in 1896, in which Mr. Roosevelt asked Mr. Storer to see President elect McKinley and urge him to appoint Mr. Roosevelt assistant Secretary of the Navy. This last letter seems to confute a recent assertion that Mr. Roosevelt never sought a public office, except when he sought a Presidential nomination in 1901.

Ex-Senator Chandler kept a diary that proved Teddy to be a falsifier. The New York Legislative Committee indisputably proved that Teddy was telling a falsehood and not Judge Parker in 1904.

Theodore Roosevelt is liable to go down in history as the political Dr. Cook.

A letter has been published written by this same big talker to his personal secretary, and at that time his political manager, Cortelyou, in which he stated that he wanted no money for campaign purposes from such corporations as the Standard Oil Co. Yet at that time the Standard Oil had contributed $100,000 to the republican campaign fund and not one dollar of it has been returned.

The Annanias class should have only one president and his name we say with regret is Theodore Roosevelt.

WOMAN SLEPT FOR THIRTY-ONE YEARS.

Famous in the history of sleep is that of the trance which overcame Lenora Ronaldo, a woman of Villancienso, in Spain. She returned home one day from a very long walk utterly exhausted. She lay down and slept all afternoon, all night and all next morning, and her husband thinking it about time for her to waken made efforts to arouse her but in vain.

"Lenora!" he cried. "Wake up! You have slept for 30 hours."

But, like the Sleeping Beauty of Fairyland, nothing would wake her.

Physicians were called in. They tried in every way to arouse her, and failed. The case was beyond their comprehension. But they were sure of one thing—to live she must have food, so they placed a tube in her mouth and poured milk and other nourishments through it. That is how Lenora was kept alive throughout her long sleep.

Days, weeks, months, years went by. Lenora slept on. Sometimes, perhaps in weeks or months she would half rouse herself, her eyes would open for a moment. She would utter a few words and then fall back into slumber, some times physicians would come from miles to see her and study her case. Then they would shake their heads and go away wondering. It was very mysterious; science was completely baffled.

Five years ago after sleeping 31 years, she awoke. She could not believe that the old man bending over her was her husband. She could not understand that she had been asleep so long and believed that she had slumbered only for the usual eight hours.

This case is probably the most unique on record. It stands in the annals of science as baffling and unexplainable and the woman herself, although awake now for five years, has never recovered from the awful change which greeted her when she awoke.
