WILT THOU THAT WE COMMAND FIRE?

Luke 9:51-56—October 23

"And it came to pass, when the days were well-nigh come, that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem and sent messengers before his face."

THIS week's study relates an incident which occurred on the occasion of our Lord's journey from Galilee to Jerusalem just before his crucifixion. He knew that his hour was come; that his sacrificial life of three and a half years should be accomplished. The Great Teacher was full of courage. "But of the people there were none with him" in the sense of sympathetic appreciation of the conditions. True, he had informed the twelve Apostles respecting the consummation of his work and his nearness, but they had been slow to believe all the things written in the Law and the prophecies concerning him. Their minds naturally grasped the glorious things spoken of the Messiah. They were so busy thinking of his glorious Kingdom, and of their glorious association with him in that Kingdom, that they failed to note the other prophecies which, with equal distinctness, foretold his sufferings and ignominy. Similarly, they overlooked the Master's own words concerning his death. They thought of him as speaking in some figurative, hyperbolic manner. And Peter even attempted to rebuke him, saying, "Be this far from thee, Lord; it shall not happen unto thee."

Refused by the Samaritans. Another account intimates that James and John visited the Samaritan city for the purchase of bread and supplies for the party. The Samaritans recognized them and inquired, would the Great Teacher recognize the Samaritans and heal their sickness or would he treat them as Jews in general treatment—unkindly? They believed the latter. The Apostle frankly told them that the Great Teacher was sent only to the Jewish nation and would not stop to heal their sick ones, because he was "not sent save to the lost sheep of the house of Israel."

Naturally enough the Samaritans resented this and were angry. They said, "Very well. Buy bread from the people whom you instruct and whose sick you heal." St. John and St. James were greatly incensed at this. "Was not Jesus the greatest Teacher? Was he not the Messiah? Had he not, as such, the right to determine the will of God respecting who should and who should not receive his benefactions? With this answer they came to Jesus and, relating the circumstances, asked, "Wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven to destroy these men and their city?"

What Spirit Are Ye Of? We listen with keen interest for the Master's response. As we once viewed the matter of the Divine program to life have seemed right for the Great Teacher to say to the Apostles, "Never mind, my dear Disciples; wait just a little while and all those Samaritans will deliver them over to the devils for an eternity of torture. In comparison with eternal torture that which you purpose in the way of burning up their city and incidentally burning them for a few minutes would be as nothing. I appreciate, my dear disciples, your spirit, that it is God-like; that you desire to do all the roasting and burning within your power, and I commend you for it. Continue to thus copy your God and to cause suffering to as many as possible of your fellow creatures who do not think exactly as you do."

Was this the answer of the Great Teacher? Thank God, No! His teaching was the very reverse—sympathetic, loving, kind. And he had the Father's Spirit and understood it all followed it perfectly. In answer to their query we read, "Jesus turned and rebuked them" and said, "Ye know not what spirit ye are of! The Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them!"

"A Savior and a Great One" The language spoken in Palestine in Jesus' day was the Syriac. One of the Great Teacher's titles is the Savior. And this, in the Syriac language, signifies, "The Life-Giver." The whole world was damned enough before Jesus came. He came not to damn (condemn) them more, but that they through him might have life (John 3: 10, 11, 17).

Life! Did they not have life? No. All human life was forfeited through father Adam's disobedience. All mankind are dying as a result. A Life-Giver, a Savior from death (and not from eternal torment), was what was needed.

The first work of the Savior is the redemptive work of Calvary. His second work is the selection of his Church to be his joint-heirs in the Kingdom. His third work will be the saving of death—from all the mental, moral and physical degradation which came through father Adam's disobedience and through his children being born in sin and shapen in iniquity and in sin conceived by the mothers.

The saving of the Church is a great work! How faithful we should be if we have heard, if our eyes have seen, if our hearts have tasted of the grace of God in this wonderful privilege of becoming members of the Bride of Christ. However, we cannot suppose that the saving of merely a handful of select ones is the purpose of God in the creation of the world and in the redeeming of the world. On the contrary, this elect "Little Flock" is spoken of as a "first-fruits unto God of his creatures" (James 1: 18; Revelation 14: 4). This implies an after-fruitage much more numerous. While God does not propose to save anyone out of death and to life eternal contrary to the individual will, he does propose that every creature lost in Adam and redeemed by Jesus shall be brought to a clear knowledge of the Truth, that they may be saved. He does propose that only the willing, obedient shall be lost; and their loss will be the loss of life—as the Apostle declares, "everlasting destruction."

As to Teaching. Among the English branches to be taught in our public schools, writing in nine cases out of ten, is a regular farce. "Agreed to writing" says the teacher and very systematically the books are dropped around and the order of exercises opens up. John is sleepy and rests his head on his elbow, Will tucks his feet under him, Mary's pose almost touches her paper, pen holders point in every direction but the right one and every book lies in every position imaginable. Listen to the instructions as usually given, "Letters too slanting John—Will you ought to keep your book neater—Mary don't bear on so hard—Jane, how are you getting along? Now there is one right and best way and forty wrong ones, just the same with this as with any other arithmetic and grammar; teach them correctly and right and they will succeed, but let instruction go and the smattering they get of it only serves as an annoyance all their lives. What teach, do you ask? Teach them to place a proper way to sit—to place the paper—to hold the pen—position for the arms, book feet—teach them there are principles entering into every letter, easy to learn and self-sustaining to good writing. Six weeks' proper drill in the usual allotted time with scholars from ten to fifteen years will make far better penmen of them than the smattering they get in all their school life, which is a positive hindrance to their ever attaining to any degree of proficiency.

SINS OF THE FATHER.

Tom Dixon's Drama Draws Record House.

For excellent acting, intelligent interpretation of character Tom Dixon's latest drama "The Sins of the Fathers" has nothing to be desired. The stage setting was a no. 1. One local manufacturer makes all styles of playing cards ranging from 18 to 240 cards to the pack, according to the games for which they are used. The regular Spanish deck, used for treble is composed of 48 cards. Cards are manufactured here for export particularly to South America and former colonies. In 1908 (latest figures to hand) Spain exported $149,100 worth of playing cards of which $73,630 went to the Philippines $15,660 to Cuba, $11,380 to Argentina and $10,000 to Uruguay.

The Spanish government collects an excise duty of 30 centimes (about 5 1/2 cents) on every pack of cards manufactured in Spain. It was formerly customary to affix a revenue stamp to the wrapper. At present however to avoid evasion of the law manufacturers are compelled to send one card (usually an ace) out of every deck to Madrid where it is stamped. It is stated that this system gives better results. This tax is remitted in case cards are exported.

The "rival" business in cards is falling off. This is attributed to the fact that clubs and casinos which have been driven from the manufacturers, and their cards while still in good condition, are sold individually. Outside of leading casinos the Spanish deck of 48 cards is used almost exclusively. These cards differ from those elsewhere in design and coloring.

The so-called French deck of 32 cards is used to a certain extent, principally in the two or three leading clubs. Such decks are manufactured here, but the demand is very small. A Spanish deck of this description is handled here at 2 1/2 cents (about 10 cents) with the silver pose's flag at 18 cents.

The leading local club uses chiefly packs of 52 cards. Cards bought here come 102 cents (18.25) per gross delivered. Cards imported from France cost about 110 per gross ($20.00) per gross. This is the price of cards including duty excise tax and freight. The importer takes possession of the imported cards at the frontier and sends them to Madrid for stamping by the importer paying the freight to and from Madrid. These cards brought to Barcelona sell in Paris at 78 per gross ($14.04). A contractor, which concern which is to supply the club with cards especially designed for it, with program set, which takes from six to twelve packs of cards a day. It has never used American cards. English cards were formerly used for poker, but this game is no longer played.

So far as this office is able to ascertain American cards are not known here. It does not appear that they could be imported here in large quantities.—Consultant Reports.

PLAYING CARDS IN SPAIN.

Where The Sins Of War For Poker Are Made.

The manufacture of playing cards is a Spanish specialty. The industry like the paper industry is well represented in this region. At Barcelona six firms manufacture playing cards. One local manufacturer makes all styles of playing cards ranging from 18 to 240 cards to the pack, according to the games for which they are used. The regular Spanish deck, used for treble is composed of 48 cards. Cards are manufactured here for export particularly to South America and former colonies. HONORING MEYER.

Edgecombe County Normal Students Celebrate Founder's Day.

The Edgecombe County Alumnae of the State Normal and Industrial College were most charmingly entertained last night by Miss Nina Clark, the occasion being the celebration of Founder's Day in honor of the first President of the College, Dr. Charles D. Meyer. The party was beautifully decorated with flowers and the college gowns, and about twenty of the former students gathered there, filled with a spirit of love and loyalty to their Alma Mater.

An interesting programme suitable to the occasion had been arranged, but before announcing the programme the President of the Edgecombe Normal Association in a few words explained the object of the meeting. The first number on the programme was a beautiful tribute to Dr. Meyer prepared and read by Mrs. A. V. Joyner. Mrs. Joyner's paper deserves special mention as being a piece of literary art and rendered in such a charming manner. Following this was a well written and appropriate toast given to the College by Mrs. R. J. Brown, which Mrs. A. V. Joyner responded. While the Association was paying tribute to the Founder of the College, they would not forget the ones whose shoulders the mantle of this great man has fallen and who is so nobly carrying on his work, so Miss May R. Williams read in low sweet charming manner a toast to Dr. Julius I. Frost after which Miss Mary H. Bridges read a loving message sent in response to this toast by Dr. Frost. Miss Emily S. Austin, the organist and President of the Edgecombe Alumnae Association was then thanked by Miss Temple Dameron and Miss Nina Blake. Dameron from the Oglethorpe were then read by the President after which all joined in singing the Ode North State. After an hour of social chat and reminiscences about the college the charming hostess served delightful refreshments, and golden used in the refreshments. Just before bidding the guests goodnight, the President of the Association offered a toast to the hostess, and all left declaring that the occasion had been a most successful one, as a delightful unforgetting one.

UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY.

North Carolina Division. (Mrs. F. M. Williams, President).

Newton, N. C. Sept. 7, 1910. To the North Carolina Division U. D. C.

The appeal comes to us from the United Confederate Veterans to aid them in erecting a Monument to the Women of the Confederacy—a call that should be answered by the hearty co-operation of not only every Chapter but of every individual daughter in the Old North State.

In aiding in the erection of this Monument we are not erecting a monument to ourselves, for it is a mere handful of the women of the sixties now collected under the banner of the U. D. C. R. is to the memory of our beloved mothers and grandmothers that this monument is to stand. Great, noble and true as is the life story of the Confederate soldier, it is still with a greater brilliancy that the life of the women of the Confederacy will ever shine upon history's pages.

Daughters of North Carolina let us one and all, rise in our might in answer to this call of the Veterans. Let us second them in their every endeavor. Let us adopt the very good plans which they are suggesting for raising money for this cause and hasten to do their bidding.

Let each one remember the mother that bore with patient smiles and uncompelling lips, the tortures of endless waitings the denials of all the luxuries to which she was accustomed, ate even food and raiment to all and uphold the men at the front. Women who with brave hearts and sweatearts go forth and battle for the right, well knowing that many would severance return.

Take success as your watchword and work diligently and untiringly for the Monument to the noble Women of the Confederacy.

FANNIE RANSOM WILLIAMS, Pres. N. C. Div. U. D. C.

Sits of Wisdom. There is no secret of success but work. The mind of a good man is a kingdom to him and he can always enjoy it.

Many run after flicky like a man hunting for his hat; while it is on his head.

Take pleasure in your work. A task which appears distasteful at first sight soon becomes pleasure.

Endurance is more valuable than cleverness. It is the patient steady plodder who gains and keep fortance.

When benignly and gentleness reign within we are in least danger from without; every person, and every creature is beheld in the most favorable light.

A graceful behavior toward others is a constant source of pleasure; it pleases others because it indicates respect for their personality and it gives unalloyed more pleasure to ourselves.

A man builds a bridge and he is a great man. Another man puts up a cathedral and he is a great man. But he who gives a man a idea which changes his life for good is the greatest of all.
