Echoes of The Horse Show

Tryon Horse and Hound Show again put this community on the map with publicity and delightful entertainment yesterday. Over 2,000 people attended representing twenty-two or more states. The biggest thrill for many was the jumping of one horse over another when Sgt. Daniels of the 109th cavalry mounted on Douglas jumped over Damit, clearing a height of 5 ft. 6 in. Editorial in Spartanburg Herald says:

"The sun broke through and into the valley of the Pacolet in time for the Tryon horse show to be held under favorable conditions. The best horses and the largest crowd rewarded efforts of the organization and delighted the fanciers. It is quite evident that there is a returning and a growing interest on the part of the public in the saddle-horse and the hunter. Establishments devoting themselves to breeding and training such horses, have faith in the future of their business. The show was a decided success."
