Increasing cloudiness slightly warmer and probably showers.

Advice is like salt; just enough taken brings into fullness the best traits of a person and leaves him still his own self, but properly seasoned. Too much advice like too much salt destroys the individuality, and the person "taste" too much like the advisor.

Tomorrow the people of Tryon and Try-school district go to the polls to vote City officers and a school board. There has been very little discussion of the election. The only opposition is in the council. The voters will have to pick three men from the five running. It will be a hard job for some, but we should vote anyway, even if we have to toss a coin to decide. If the people are not in interested in government, you can't expect the best service from its officers.

I wish to announce that I am a candidate for Commissioner for the Town of Tryon in the town election, May 5, 1931.
