Back To Hogback

Spartanburg Herald.

The story coming out of Tryon sounds interesting. Such a remarkable property as that gotten together by the Carolina Mountains company some years ago, embracing 16,000 acres of the Hogback country, has its appeal and is certain to be developed as a great resort region. It is stated that Messrs. Emmet, Emmet and Tull of New York and Washington; are now in control of the property and will push the developement as a club. Regardless of all the mountain country has passed through in very recent years, there is still lure and life in "them thar hills."

In The Next Letting

The state highway department will ask for construction bids on June 9 for the bridge projects on Federal highway No. 176 between Spartanburg and Tryon, where the paving contract will follow during the summer.
