Saluda Extends Limits

SALUDA, July 7..Citizens of the town of Saluda voted Tuesday, 93 to 47, to extend its corporate limits. The proposed extension will move the limits out about an eighth of a mile beyond the present boundary, and will include a residential setaion adjacent to the town which already has city water and sewerage. According to the county books, the increased valuation of taxable property that will thus be brought into the town limits will be about $55,000. Of the 140 who registered for the election, 119 actually voted, the 21 who failed to vote being counted as against the proposal in compliance with the conditions of the legislative enactment. Asheville Citizen.
