Women Doctors excel says Dr. Gantt

New Orleans, Nov. 17-Women excel as family physicians because of their sympathetic attitude, Dr. Rosa H. Gantt, of Spartanburg, S. C., president of the National Medical Women's Association, said in an interview here today. She is here to attend Southern Medical Association convention. "Women can come in more intimate contact with the life of the family than can the man physician," she said, "and they seem to reach a better understanding with their patients."
