It Happens Once In A Blue Moon

They say there is a man who isn't in the show. He left town and is afraid to come home. We can think of nothing funnier than splashing the skirts of B.L. Ballenger and John Artz with tomatoes. "Ohs" and "Ahs" are now being whispered down the street when little bits of information leaks out about the show. City Manager Helms hurried back from his vacation to see what's going on, Harold Crandall was seen going up the street yesterday with two big beverage kegs under each arm. "Oh", "Ah", The atmosphere is getting charged. So look for developments.
