F. P. Bacon Wins Flag Tournament

The first of a series of tournaments at the Tryon Country club was won Saturday afternoon by F. P. Bacon with the ball near the 19th green. The cup for second prize was won by "Lefty" Flynn with the ball about midway between the 19th tee and 19th green. Quite a number of business men and visitors participated in the tournament and showed considerable enthusiasm. Next Saturday, February 9th, another handicap tournament will be held. The tournament is open to everybody.

The trophies for Saturday's tournament were donated by Nelson Jackson, Jr., chairman of the tournament committee.

A ladies' and gentlemen mixed tournament will be played some time in the near future. This will be a two-ball foursome.

Alonzo Rhodes' Parole Cancelled

Orders to arrest Alonzo Rhodes who escaped from the Rutherford prison camp a day before being granted a parole, have been received by Sheriff Newman of Polk county. The following news item appears in out-of-town papers.

Raleigh, Feb. 3.—His desire for freedom tonight had robbed Alonzo Rhodes, serving a 30-year second degree murder sentence, of clemency granted him last week.

Edwin Gill, parole commissioner, yesterday announced clemency had

Clothing Specialist Visits In County

Miss Willie Hunter of Raleigh, Extension Specialist in Clothing, addressed the women of Polk county at a meeting at the Katherine Beatson Health House Friday afternoon. Miss Hunter visits Polk county two or three times a year. She discussed the plans and organizations of the clubs so the greatest benefit could be gained during the club meetings of the study of the constructive work of clothing. Miss Hunter talked about and illustrated the making and finishing of garments. Miss Agnes McLeod, the new home demonstration agent, will continue this work throughout the county.

After the talk a social hour was enjoyed. Miss Young and Mrs. Bacon with the assistance of Mrs. Dailey and Miss Helen Ingalls served delicious cookies and hot coffee.

Tryon Boxers In Charlotte

Vernon "Red" Brownlee, Tryon lightweight, boxes tonight in the Charlotte Golden Gloves tournament. N. R. Rector, Jr., Tryon featherweight, drew a bye and will box Tuesday.

During hard times so many weak-kneed ones get scared and drop out that there really isn't much more competition than before for those who keep on plugging. — Robert Quillen's Fountain Inn Tribune.
