In making up this pamphlet a serious error was made in the sequence of the pages. To read the text as it was written it is necessary to observe the following order: Pages 3-36 are correct as they stand; from page 36 go to page 42; read first on this page the section which is upside down; read the rest of the page; read pages 43-45, go back to page 41; read page 41; from page 41 go back to page 37; read from page 37-40, the pamphlet closes with the words on page 40.—Directions that came with a pamphlet from the Communist League of America.

And you people want to run the government!—The New Yorker.

night at Oak Hall.

Senate Committee Kills Polk Bill to Repeal Absentees

The Senate committee on Election Laws has reported unfavorably the House bill to abolish the absentee law in Polk county, according to newspaper reports. The Senate also ruled against several other counties where there was chance of Republicans getting elected.

Introduced by Dr. J. T. Burrus, senator from Guilford, the bills were killed with little discussion as the committee also dealt death to statewide and local legislation intended to repeal the absentee ballot law.

The same day the Senate committee killed the Polk county bill the Tryon Kiwanis club had telegraphed the local senators to use their influence to get the Polk county bill passed. Either the telegrams reached Raleigh too late or the Senate committee disregarded the request of the local club.

Miss Ruth Creasman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Creasman, has been elected to the Sigma Phi Alpha honorary club at Brevard college. Membership in the club requires student to make between 90 and 100 in foreign languages and over 80 in all other subjects. Miss Creasman was one of nine students to make the grade out of 300 students.
