Dr. Taylor to Preach In Spartanburg, S. C.

A sermon by the Rev. George F. Taylor of New York will be given Wednesday at 8 p. m., at the Church of the Advent, Episcopal, in connection with the special series of Lenten services.

The Rev. W. H. K. Pendleton, rector, expressed pleasure and satisfaction in being able to secure Dr. Taylor as one of the Lenten speakers.

Those who heard Dr. Taylor in Tryon declare that he is an unusually eloquent and brilliant speaker, and that he has a most charming personality. His visit is looked forward to, says Dr. Pendleton, with great pleasure and keen anticipation.

During his stay in Spartanburg, Dr. Taylor will be entertained by Dr. E. M. Gwathmey, president of Converse college. — Spartanburg Herald .

Mrs. O. S. Parmer

Mrs. O. S. Parmer of Miami and Asheville, who spent the winter in Tryon was found dead yesterday afternoon at her home near Wilderness Road.

A coroner's jury Monday evening rendered a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to her death by pistol wounds from the hands of an unknown person. The accident occurred about 2:30. The deceased's ten-year-old daughter found her mother on the floor when she returned from school shortly after three o'clock. The chauffeur had gone to the school for the daughter and had carried with him the child's younger brother, age about six. It is thought there was no one in the house with Mrs. Parmer at the time of the accident. Neighbors heard a shot fired but it caused no undue alarm. When the little girl returned from school the front door was locked, and she ran around to the rear entrance where she found her mother. The chauffeur sent her to Miss Heath's cottage nearby to telephone for a doctor. Mr. Parmer is expected in Tryon today from Florida.

Coroner Giles Pearson's jury was composed of Marion Smith, W. D. Edwards, J. M. Early, Fred Wofford, Harrison Bridgeman and H. T. Camp.

Mrs. Parmer was a well-known newspaper woman and had visited Tryon and Saluda a number of times. She was prominently identified with tourist publications. Mr. Parmer is also a newspaper man and has been connected with Miami Beach newspapers..
